Bob - I enjoyed having you come over to Maine on a Saturday to discuss the history of your Alma Mater. Your sincere interest in the subject, along with that of Pete's, was the reason why I was anxious to be of service. Maine could, ^{and should} rely on people like you to reactivate its traditions. You will go far and I hope that you will stay in touch. Have a well summer and your senior year be like Old Maine.

Tradition: Yesterday Today And Tomorrow

may your
the "best ever"
as well as its best.

Regards,
Paul Carlson
Faculty 335 c/5/81. Friday -

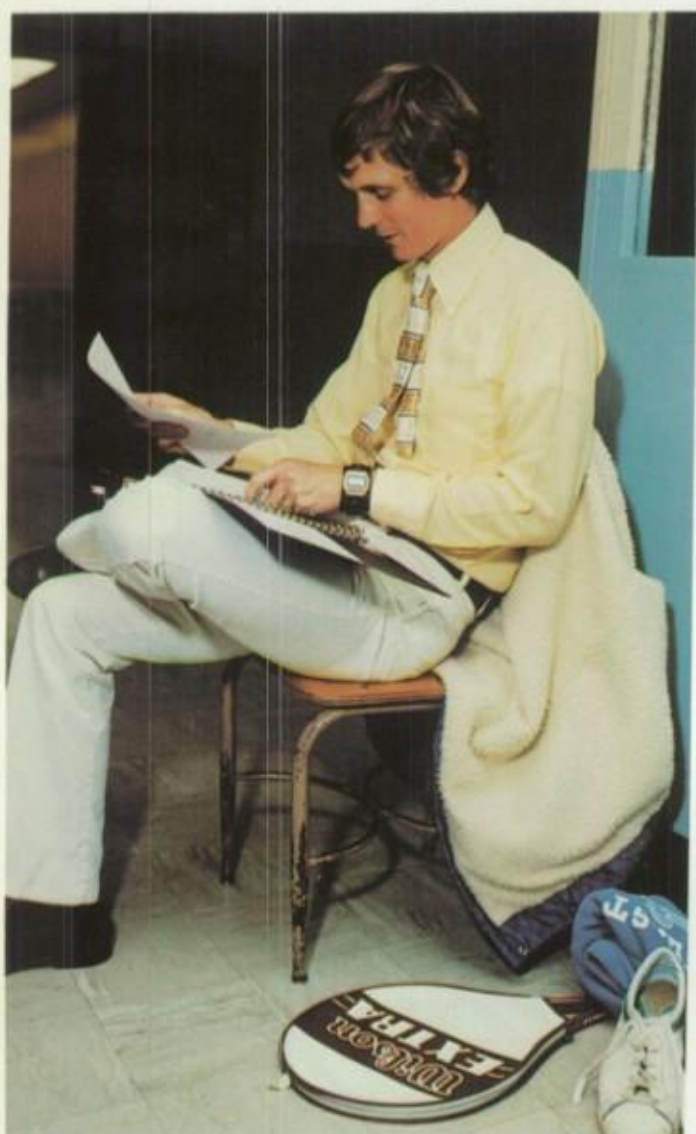

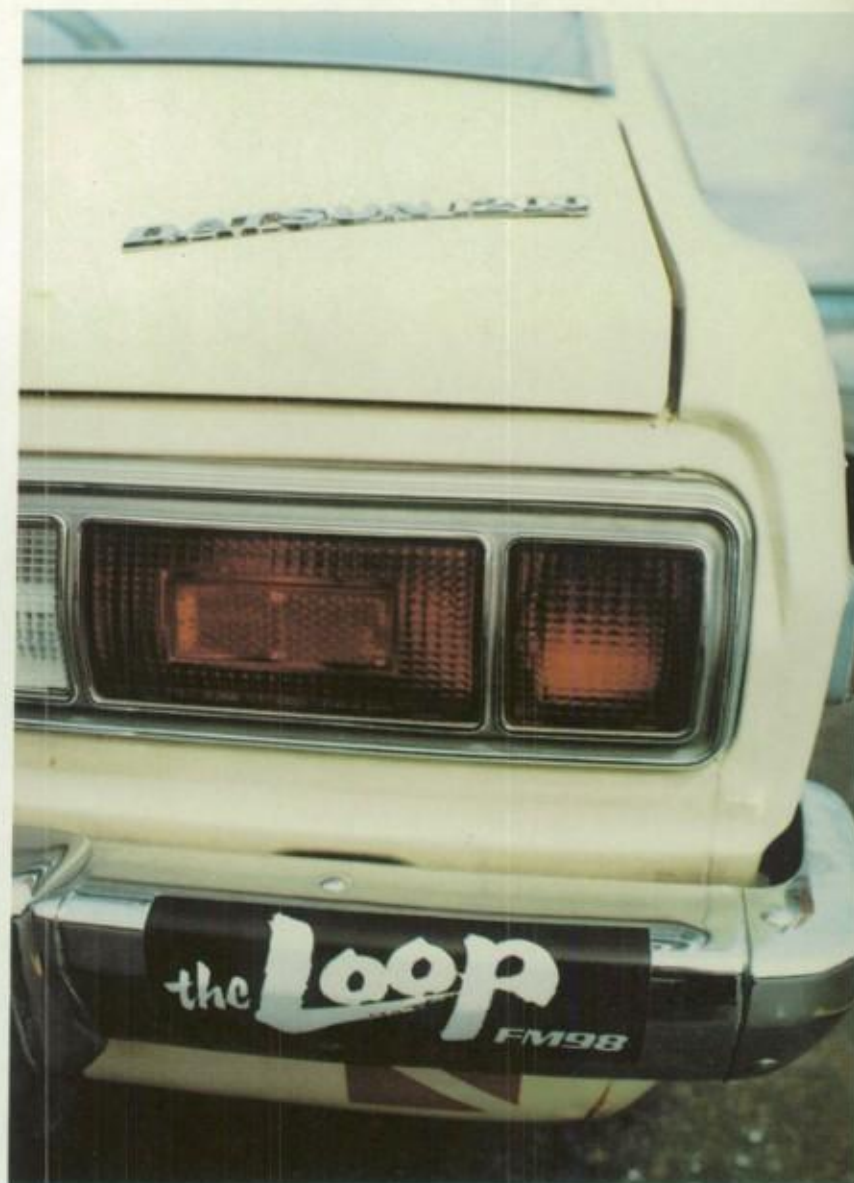

Tradition! Tradition? What is it? Tradition is the link which connects ideas of the past and the present. Tradition insures a school that the fun, memorable, and important events will be carried on and not left to fade away within a yearbook. Traditions to us are the Firelight Rally, rock and roll, Homecoming, Loop tee-shirts, cramming for exams, McDonald's during a free period, the Annual Musical, V-show, and cutting classes.

Tradition is abstract. We can't touch it. It's a feeling passed down from class to class that brings a smile and a sense of pride. Do we have it? Yes, we certainly do. We showed it, and we proved it early in September. The word, "tradition," never meant as much to a Maine East student as it did this year. It was in September when the school board announced that they were being forced to make the decision to keep open either Maine East or Maine North. Declining enrollment and depleting funds were the concerns of the school board. The decision was made . . . the applause, the cheers, and the excitement of East supporters flooded the auditorium as the board announced its four to three vote to keep Maine East open.

It was then that the Maine East student body realized how much we appreciated what we had. We had our heritage, tradition carried on for seventy-nine years, and a guarantee that it would be continued.

But, who cares? To many of us tradition was just a constant, daily routine. To others it made them feel like they "belonged to a big part of something."

Good Friends Good Times

As Disco boogied out this year, the mechanical bull charged in. White three-piece suits were exchanged for cowboy hats and boots. Disco was replaced with Urban Cowboy, Dallas, and country-rock music. The Charlie Daniels' Band, Molly Hatchet, and Kenny Rogers were this year's most successful artists.

New Wave rock was still going strong as the Cars, the Boomtown Rats, and the B-52's hit the top of the charts. New Wave rock had everyone "Turning Japanese."

This year we all got a little more involved in politics. Ronald Reagan stormed around the country asking the American people if they were better off than they were four years ago, while Jimmy Carter vowed that Reagan would get us into a nuclear war. The American people listened to Reagan, though, and he won the 1980 election sweeping forty-four states.

Even though Reagan didn't star in any of this year's movies, films such as the Blues Brothers, Caligula, My Bodyguard, and Ordinary People still caught the students' attention.

The rest of our time was spent working to earn money to buy our school wardrobe. This year the fashion trend was the "preppy look." The hallways were swamped with alligators and swept by top-siders.

But whatever we did to fill our time, be it two-stepping to "Looking for Love" or catching the latest movie, when the weekend came, we "let the good times roll."

Bob-
Good luck finding a job. Hope to see you next year unless you move.
Or have a good summer.
Jim Bob

Looking back over the years, it was the spirit of Maine East students that got things accomplished. We, in 1981, were no exception. Whether it was the school-wide support week that made Homecoming an exciting success or the fighting determination of a handful of Riding Club members that persisted in keeping the club alive, our spirit never failed.

In the 50's and 60's, students were united and reacted to the issues of the times. Pollution was an issue then. The Good Words' Club, established in the 50's, was dedicated to preaching and practicing human kindness and sincerity for others to follow. Unfortunately, hallways this year were flooded with pushing, fighting, and abusive students.

In the 60's, ecology hit like a thunderbolt. People, troubled by environmental pollution, demonstrated in favor of preserving nature and encouraging everyone to "clean up their acts." S.A.V.E., Students Against Violation of the Environment, was a school organization set up in the early 70's determined to eliminate the threat of a polluted campus. In 1972 Maine East devoted an entire school day to a massive clean up which was sponsored by S.A.V.E. Now, ironically, we have a day dedicated to messing up the school-the last day before summer vacation.

Maine East always provided a constant variety of clubs and activities to meet the students' diversified interests and needs. When the students' interests fade and enthusiasm is diverted, it is Maine East's policy to scrap the old clubs and conceive new ones. Common concern clubs such as S.A.V.E. and Good Words have been replaced with other clubs stressing individualism such as Racquetball and Science Fiction.

The "We" generation of the 50's and 60's was concerned with our environment and our society and with what could be done to improve them. The "Me" generation of the 70's and 80's has been primarily concerned with self-satisfaction, causing the development of new types of clubs and uniting them only through their competitive spirit and the desire to achieve their own goals.

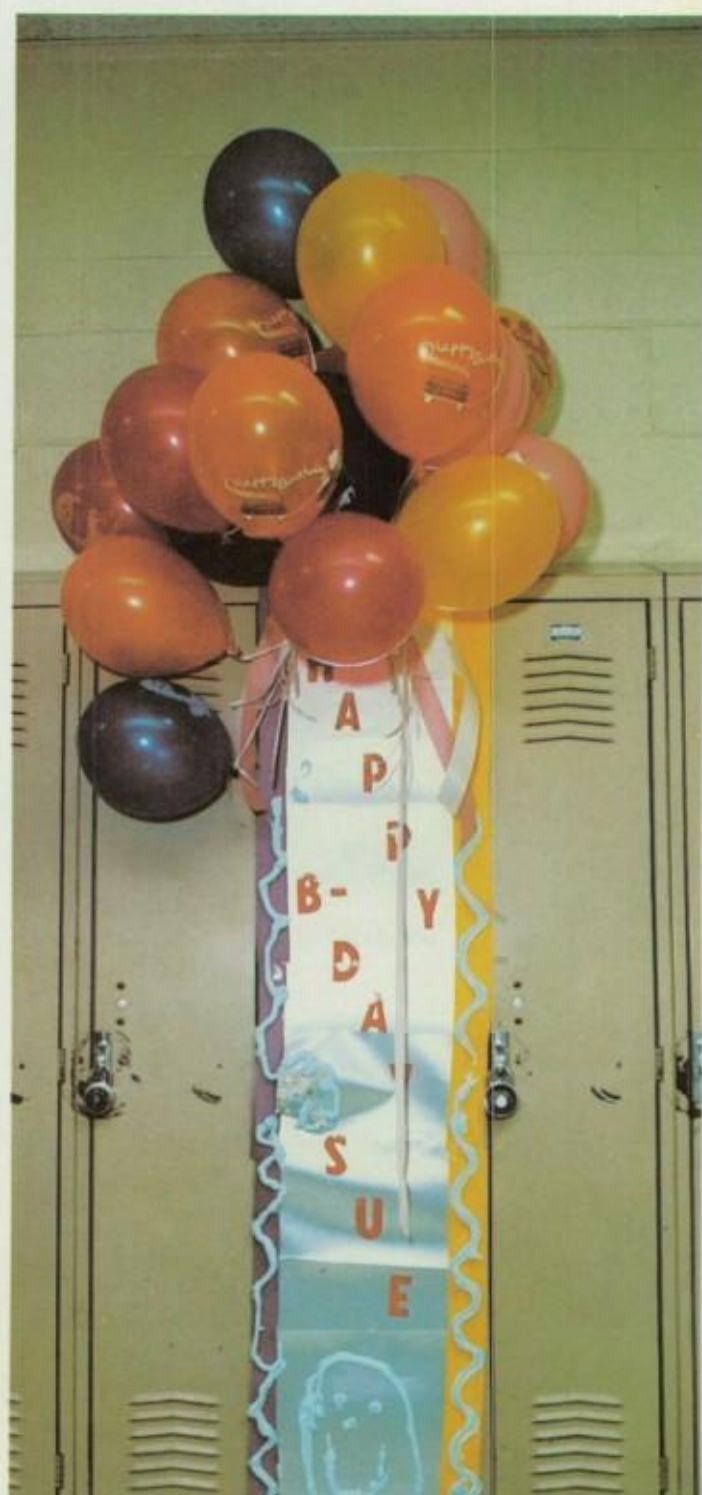

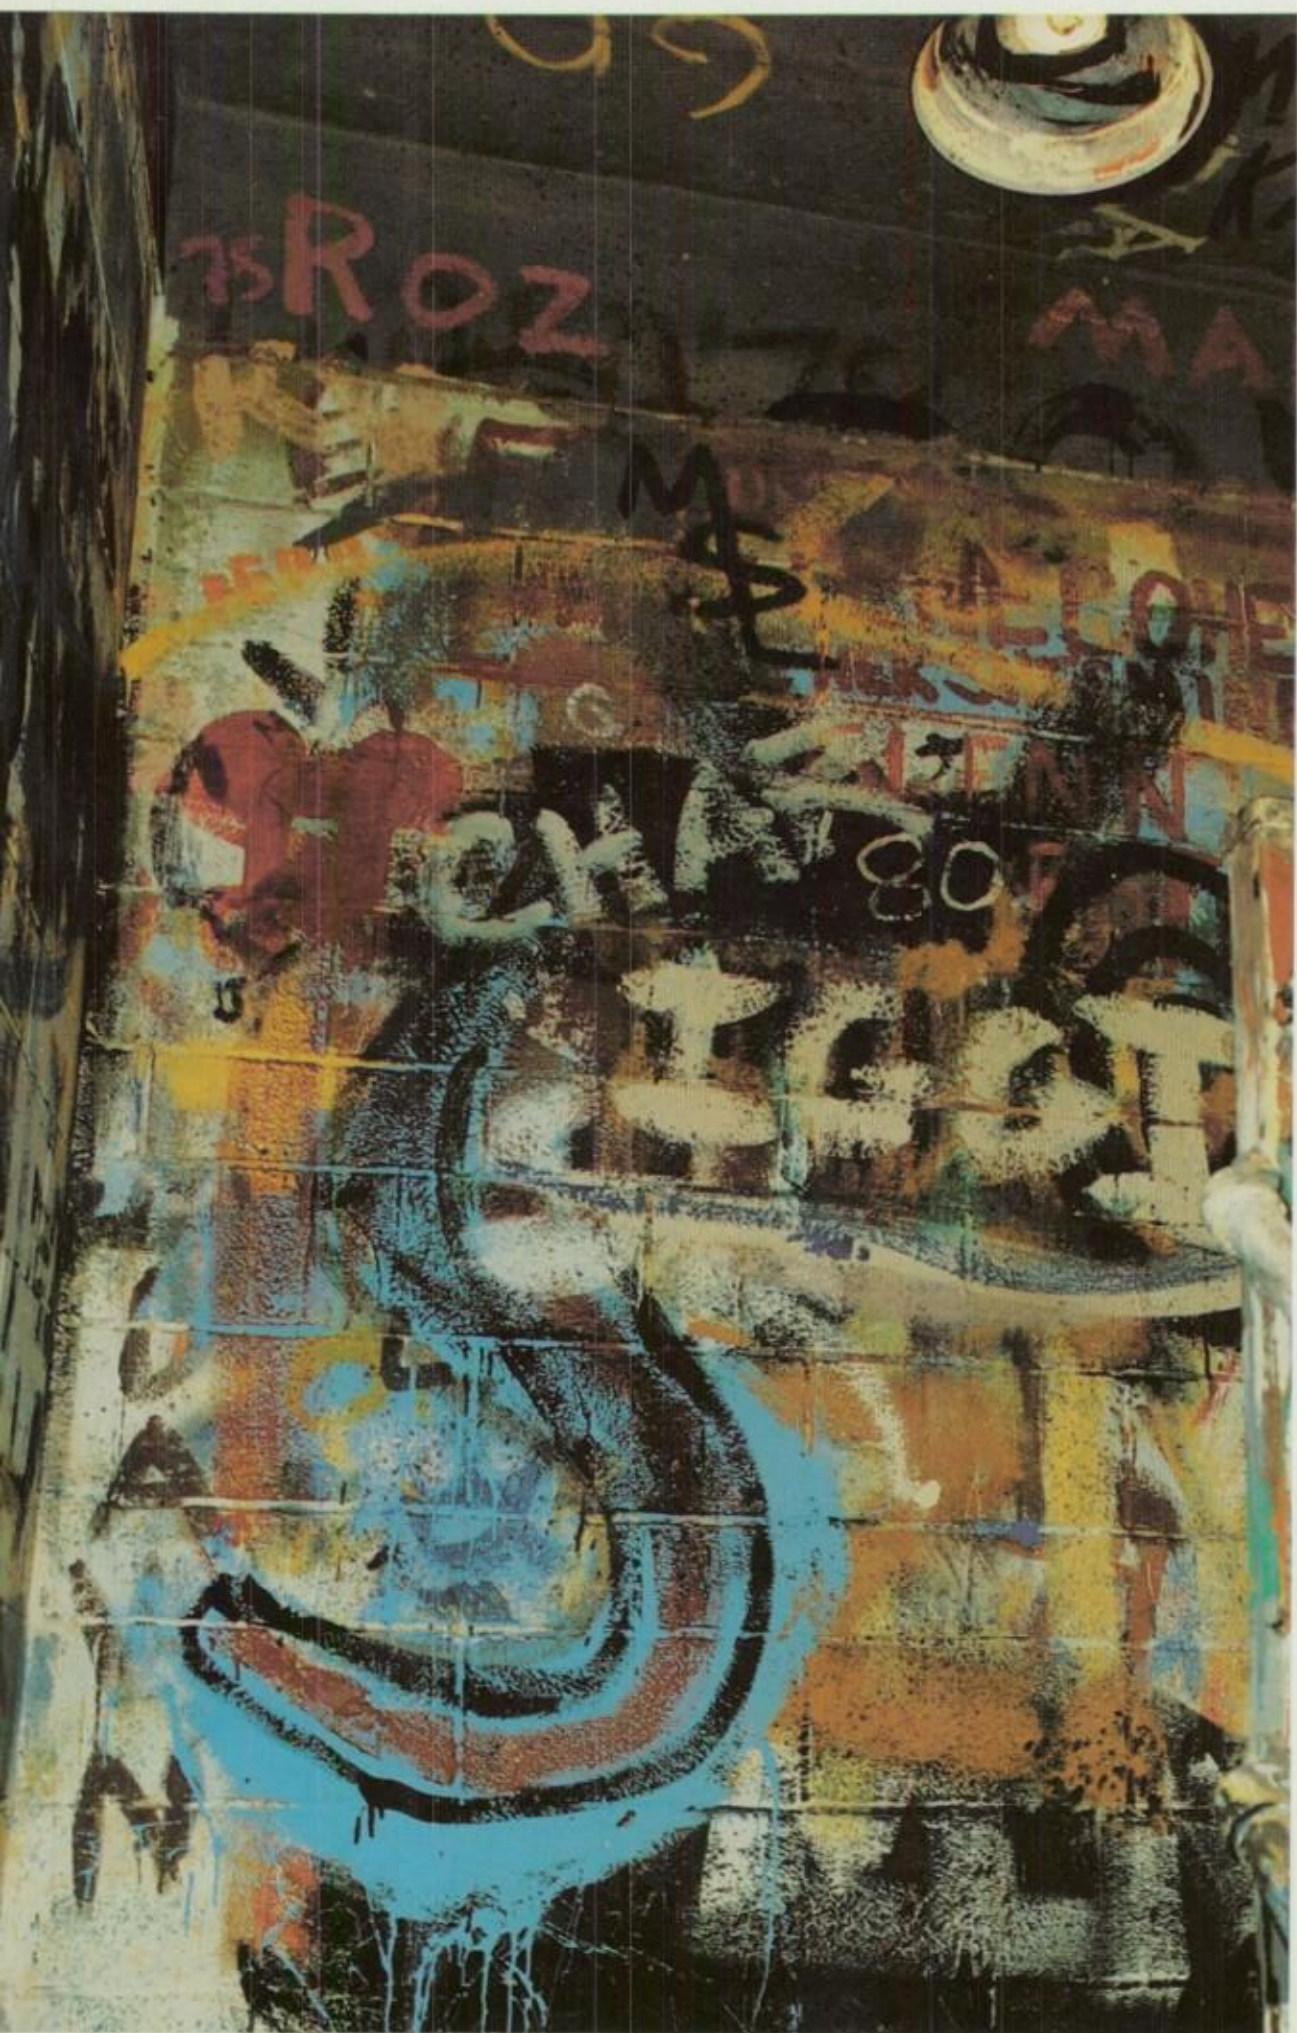

Change may be a part of our extra-curricular activities, but there will always be those traditional events that have become a part of Maine East throughout the years. Many of these activities fostered new ideas, like our 1980 all-school Homecoming assembly, but the ideas were always here as a basis for what we were and what we accomplished.

1980-81 arrived and we did it all: Homecoming, Flea Market, International Dinner, V-Show, Wilmot, and the Prom to name a few. By offering a variety of over eighty extra-curricular activities, everyone had the opportunity to be involved in carrying on into the 80's our strong Maine East student spirit.

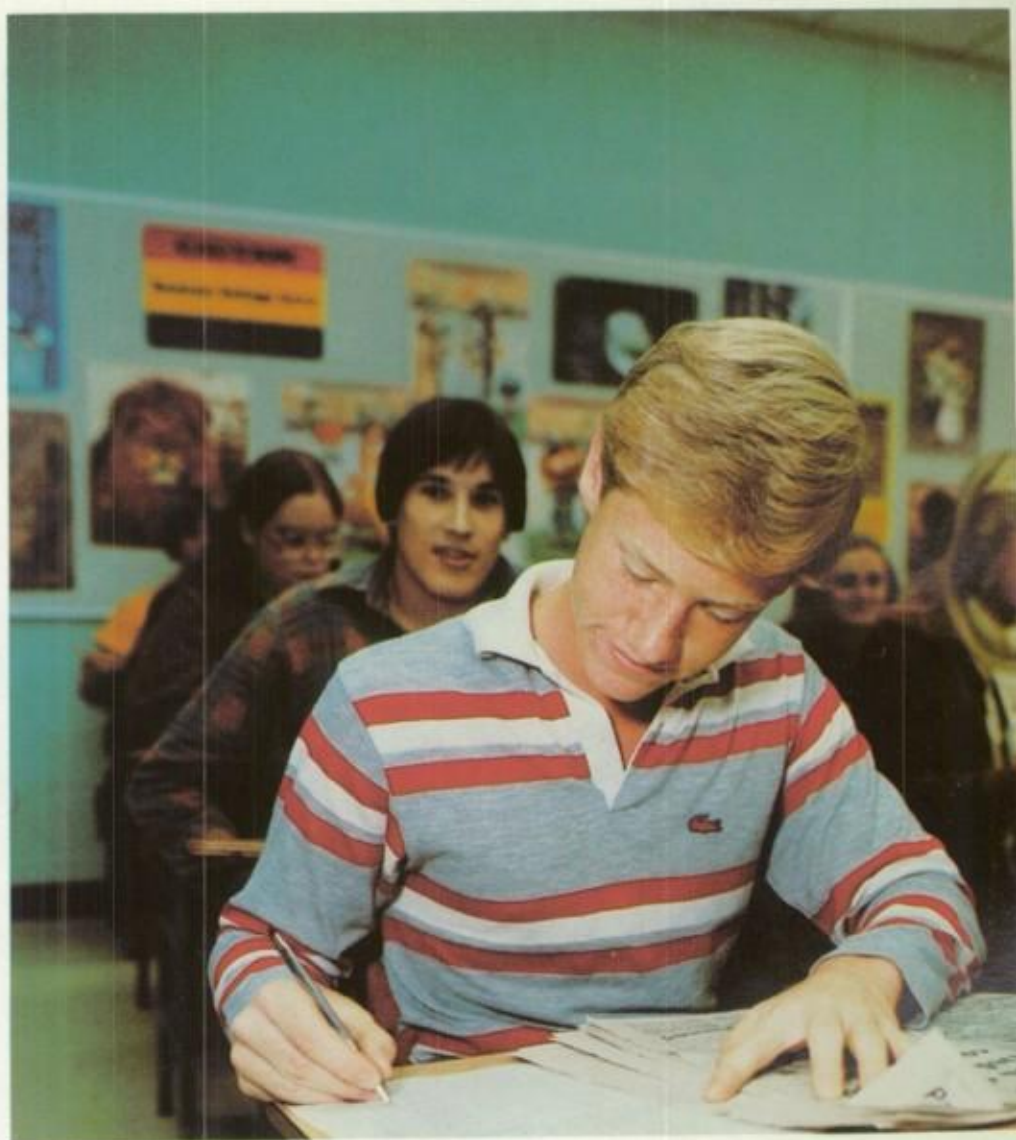

The alarm rings, I roll half-heartedly out of bed and on to the floor. What do I do today? Spanish Club met yesterday, and M-Club is tomorrow. Wait-there's a Class Council meeting before school, pick up candy to sell during the day, Debate competition after school, and a basketball game tonight ...

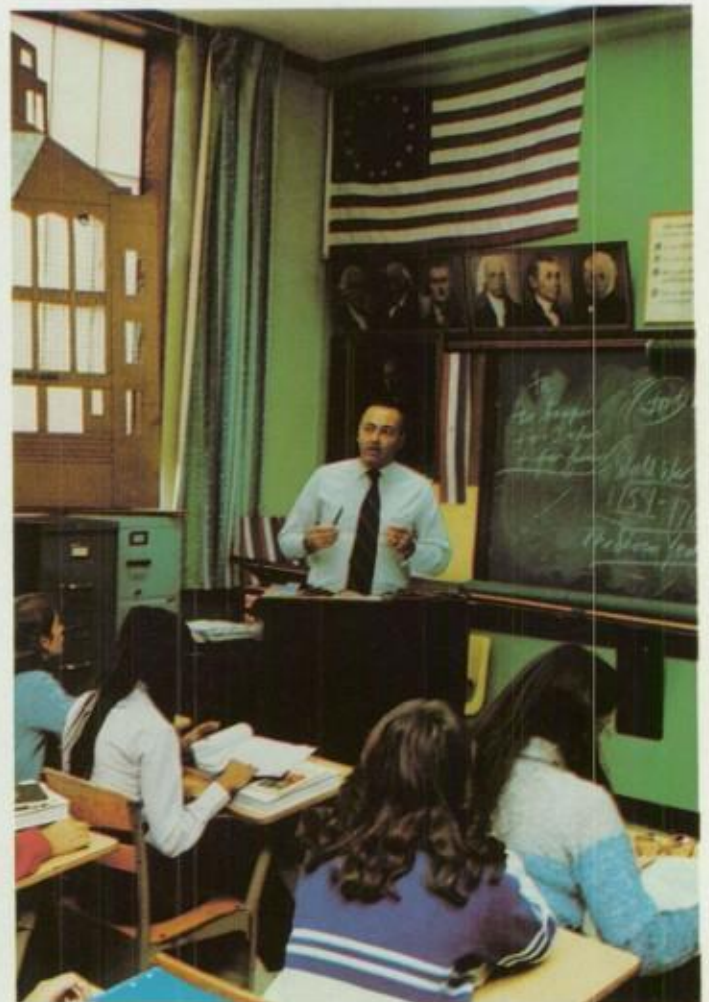

Students have become more involved in activities inside and outside of school, forgetting its basic purpose. School, besides sports, activities, and clubs, is a place for learning. It is an institution created to expand our academic horizons. Maine East has had a long and proud tradition of doing just that. In the early 1960's, East offered three, distinct academic programs to help encourage its students to develop their full potential. The three programs, the remedial program, the regular program, and the accelerated program, have been highly successful in achieving the goals set before them. Maine East also initiated the Advanced Placement program in the 60's to allow academically talented students to take college level courses for credit. Because of these successful programs, Maine East is known nationwide as one of the top academic schools that turns out a number of National Merit Semi-Finalists every year.

Maine East also created a program for the non-college bound student. The work program has been training students for the job market since the late 1960's.

Whatever academic niche we found ourselves in during the past year, the most important idea was to springboard off the program and to dive into the future, landing feet first.

Using Our Heads

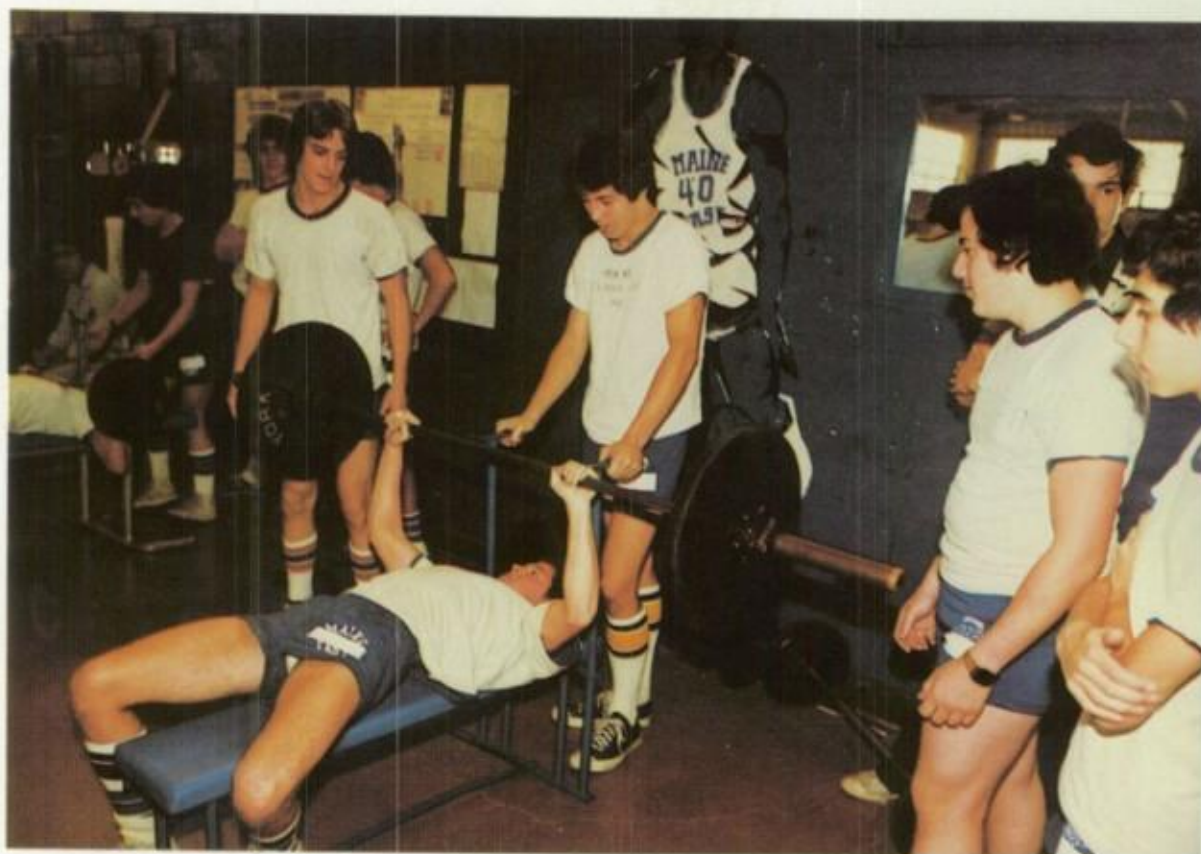

Victory-V-Victory-I-Victory-C-T-O-R-Y!!! Throughout the year we felt the traditional joy of victory and the usual, painful agony of defeat. Heightening our Homecoming spirits, the Demons defeated New Trier West 28-0, but there was always that loss waiting for us around the corner.

Through the years our athletic program has matured students both physically and mentally. Student athletes at Maine East have developed an understanding of patience, sportsmanship, team play, hard training, and sacrifices which an athlete must endure in order to reach his goals. As Ms. Bovenmyer, Girls' Athletic Director, stated, "Through participation, not only does the athlete gain the positive physical and mental aspects, but also, the satisfaction of the joys of sports."

Maine East's sports' programs have always served as a challenging, important part of school; nevertheless, the support of and the participation in various sports reflect the interest and values of the times. Designed to promote physical well being, the Lifters, a sports club, enjoyed a strong revival these past few years, after being non-existent for quite a while. Furthermore, Girls' Athletic Association team competition has expanded and become more important to the athletic program as a whole. On the other hand, some sports traditions disappeared with the times. In the 1930's and 1940's, believe it or not, guys got into the cheerleading act too. The tradition of male cheerleading enjoyed a brief revival in 1977 under Mr. Bolton's supervision; but it again ceased to exist because of the lack of male enthusiasm.

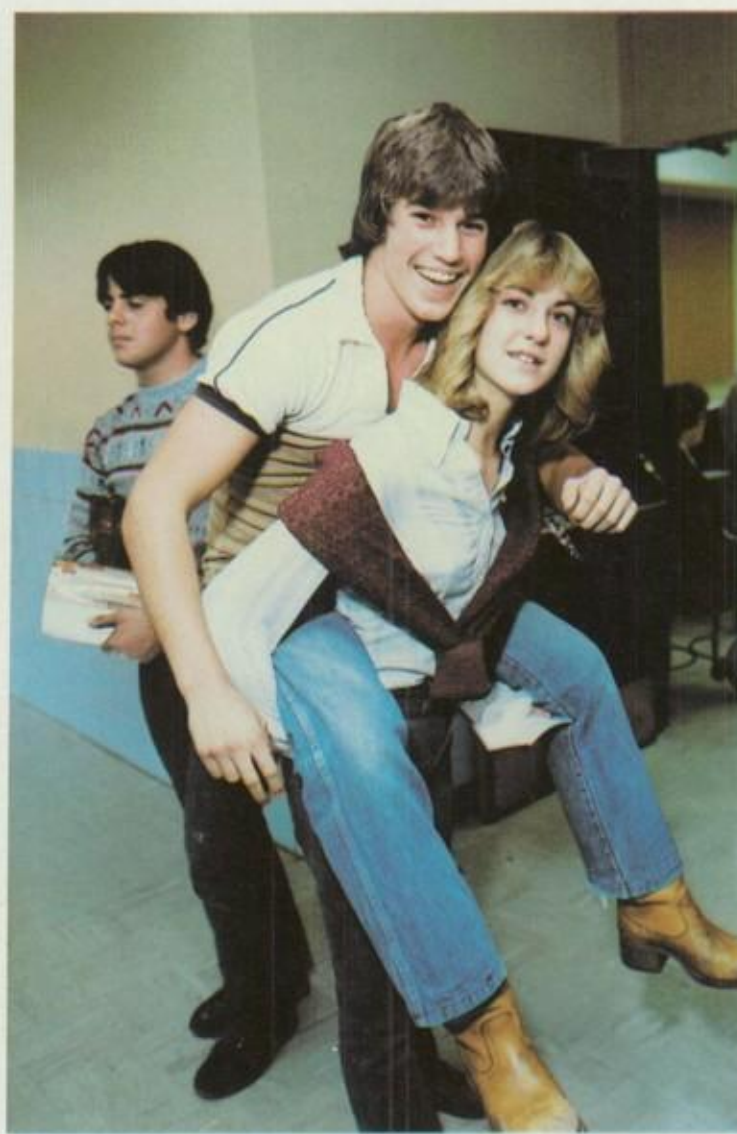

Maine East will always have a diverse and competitive sports' program to challenge and exercise our potential to achieve S-U-C-C-E-S-S, SUCCESS !!!!

Demon Spirit Keeps On Rolling

Let The Good Times Roll

Friendship Is The Vine Of Life

Young

Imagine yourself as a Maine East student around 1908. You go to school at the original Maine East building on Thatcher Street in downtown Des Plaines. At school you find it's Homecoming day. Your classmates and you start off by getting on a horse-drawn carriage and going to the baseball diamond to see the Homecoming baseball game. It's a whole day outing: the game, the picnic, and everything that goes with it.

Now, it is almost seventy-two years later. Homecoming is still with us, but "boy has it changed." "Main Street, U.S.A." was the theme of our week long Homecoming activities. It started off with Tuesday's all-school assembly in which the King and Queen nominees were exhibited, and in which the cheerleaders, the Pom-Pon squad, and the Maine East Band performed. Class games were also held at this time. The participating students competed in front of an enthusiastic crowd of about two thousand.

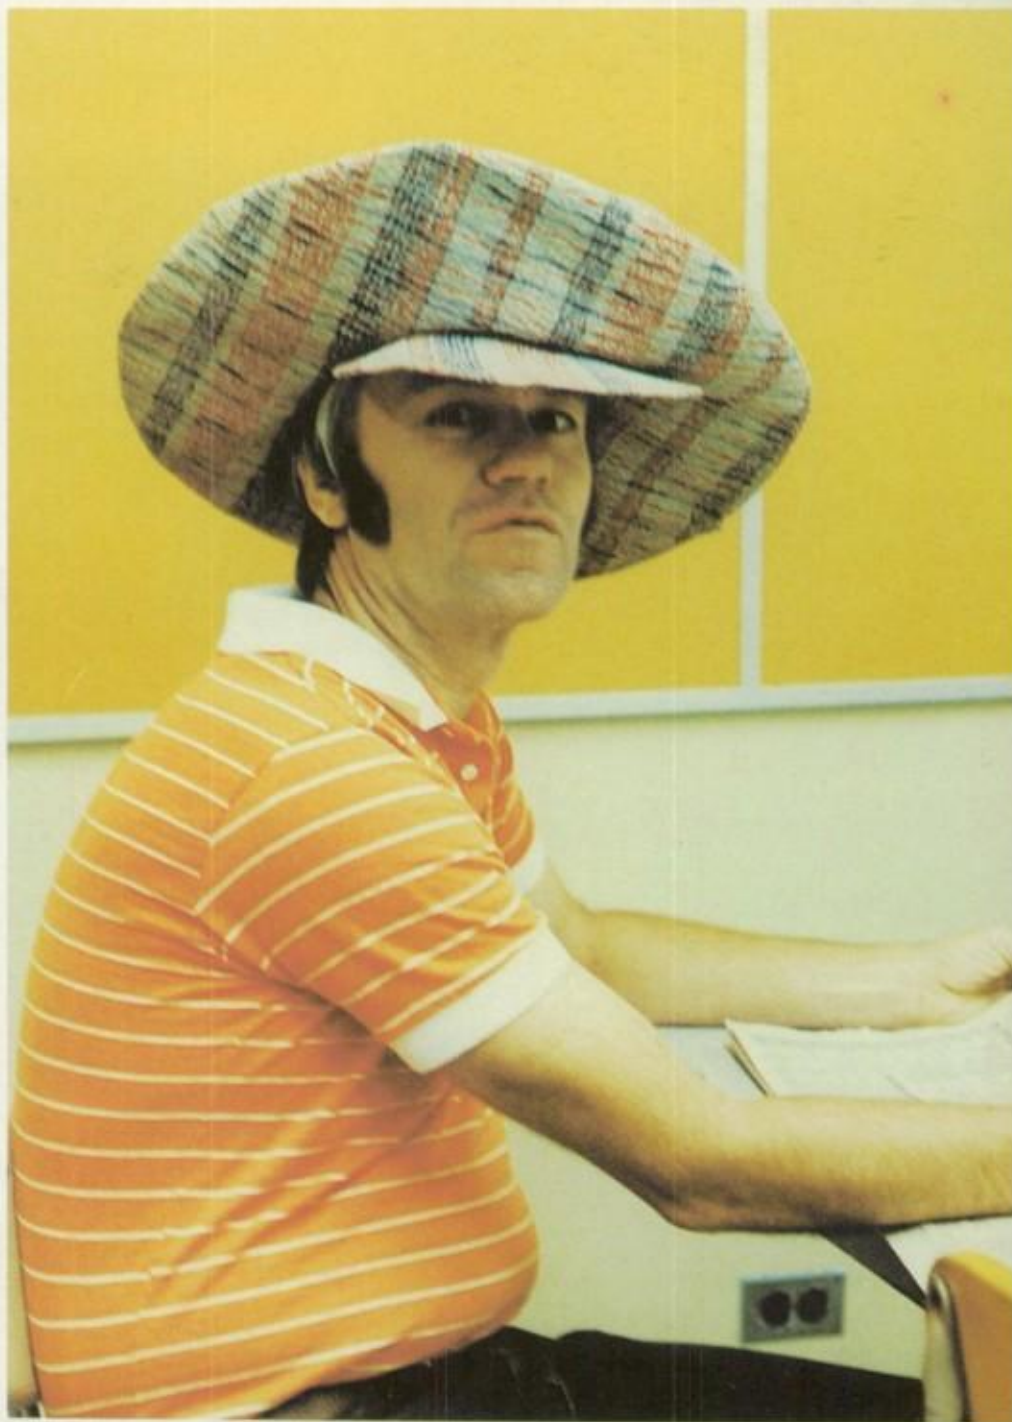

Hat Day came on Wednesday. Many participated by wearing bizarre head ornaments.

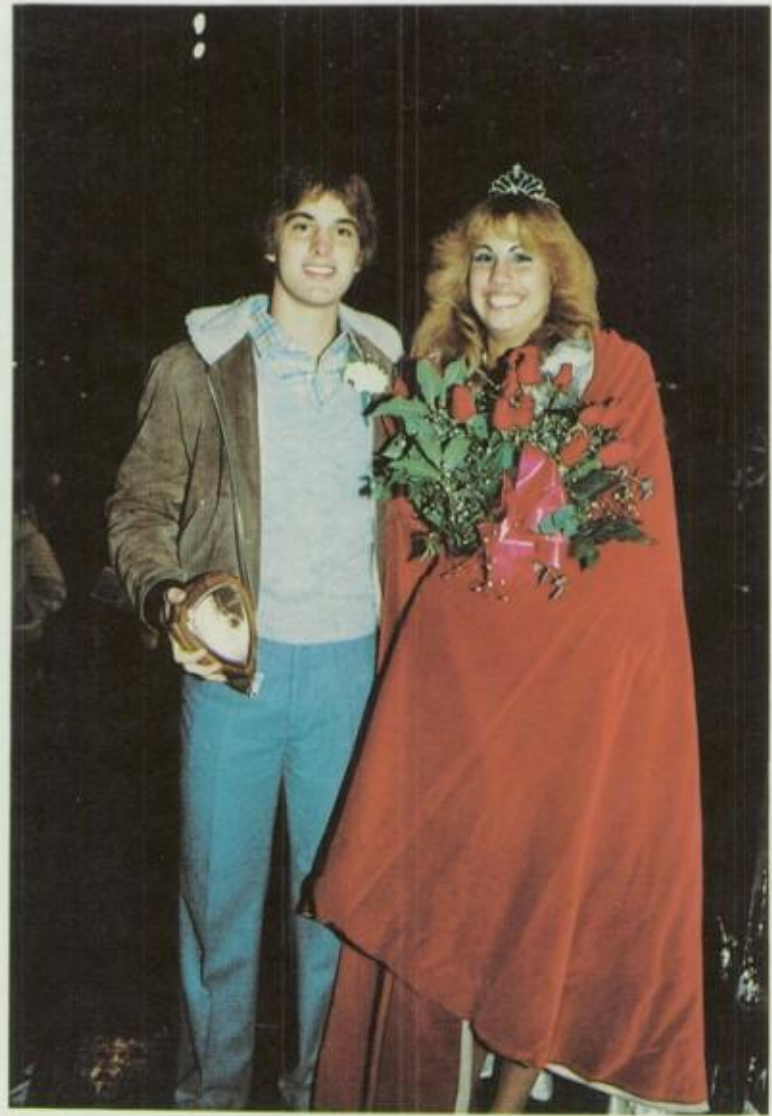

Thursday brought activities such as a cafeteria decorating contest, a soccer game in which we were victorious, a balloon-off, and the traditional torching of the Maine East initials.

Friday began with a rowdy Pep Rally that set the mood for the rest of the day. After a school day trying unsuccessfully to concentrate on our studies, car decorating and the Maine East Gong Show took up our after-school time.

Then came the moment we had been waiting for all week long: the football games against New Trier West. The Varsity Demons slaughtered them 27-0. During halftime, the winners of the car decorating contest were announced as well as 1980's King and Queen: Jack Johnsey and Gina Coglianese.

Friday's excitement was replaced by Saturday's romance in the form of 1980's Homecoming Dance, "Remember When . . ." This dance, sponsored by the Senior Class, proved to be calm, blissful relief for us after one of Maine East's most hectic Homecomings.

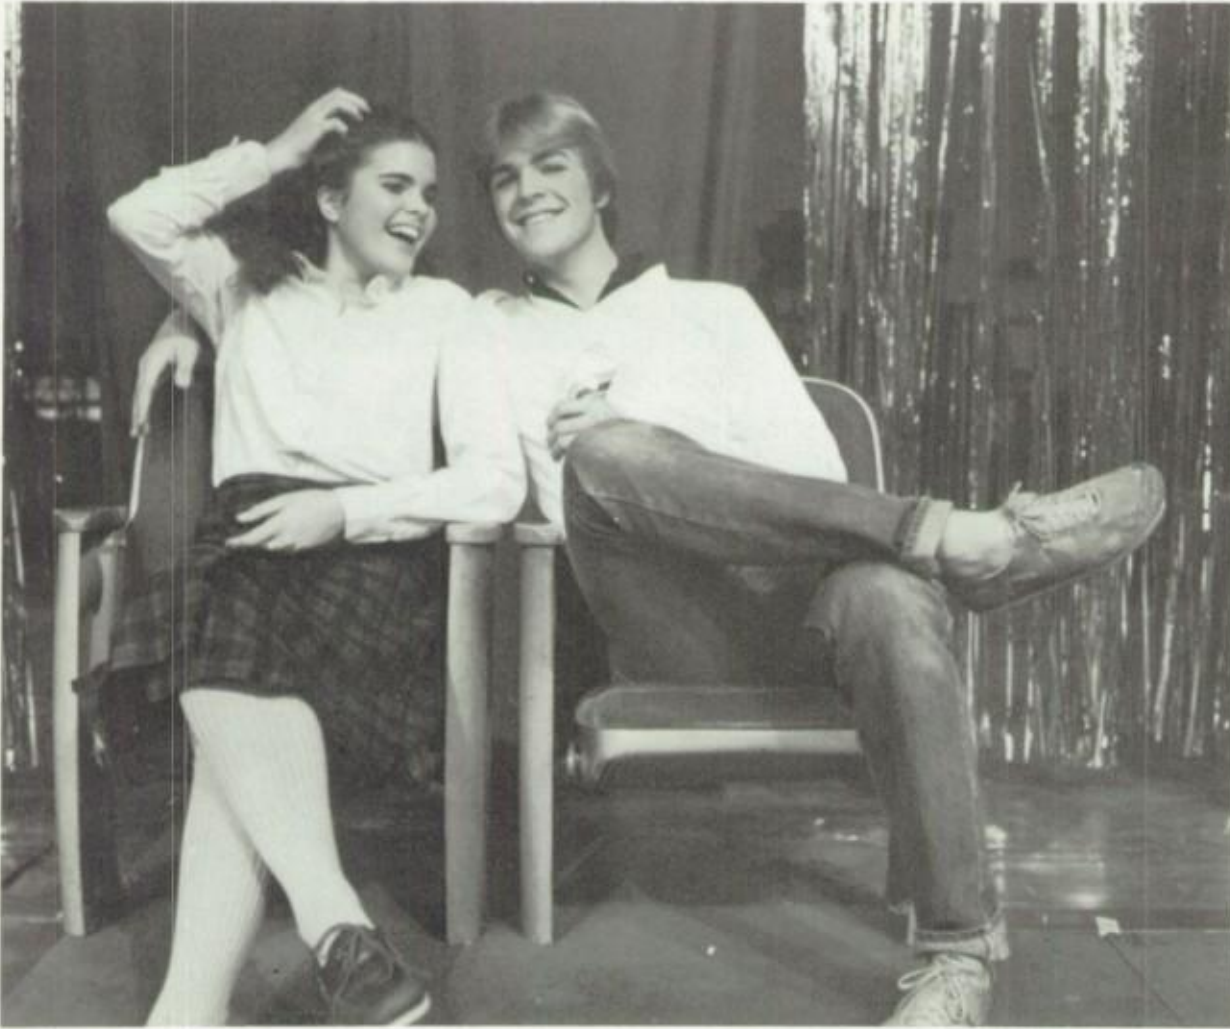

This Page: Top: Everyone got in a rowdie mood at the pep assembly this year. Middle: The band did their part in revving up the school spirit with the Maine Pep Song. Lower: The seniors did their part in the school assembly by capturing First Place in the Class Competition. Opposite Page: Upper Left: The seniors were by far the rowdiest class at homecoming. Upper Right: The traditional first dance was a super highlight of the Homecoming Dance. Middle Left: The traditional burning of the "ME" at Firelight Rally was a spectacle to see. Lower Left: Final Preparation for the car decorating took place before the homecoming game. Far Right: The Class Games had a variety of games including the notorious "Refridgerator Box Relay."

Lisa explains being a clown ain't all that bad.

The newer tradition of having a theme to V-Show was broken this year by the decision to have a no-theme 1980 V-Show. The older tradition of a "no-theme" V-Show was brought back to provide versatility and variety. This idea proved successful in making this year's show one of the biggest and best in years with a cast of over 200 students. Ken Rice and Lisa Patrasso hosted skits by the Maine East Singers, Senior Orchestra, football players and cheerleaders.

Everything was presented from the "Time Warp" to the show's highlight, the Blues Brothers, to solos by Dan Cwik, Barb Boss, Mary Gosy, and the talented Heather Grabelle. All throughout the show, the Maine East Jazz Band claimed total success in their performances. As the show progressed in rehearsals, the cast developed a major "family" feeling. This was put to the test when a local video company filmed V-Show for cable television.

"Lavender And Old Lace" Gets Us Laughing

This year's fall play, "Lavender and Old Lace" mixed suspenseful mystery and romance with a turn of the century comedy. In brief, Miss Ainslie, an elderly lady, maintains a lighted lamp in her attic window and mysteriously conceals her reasons which are eventually revealed. Romance pops up between Joe, a hired hand, and Hepsey, the maid, and enters into the lives of Ruth Thorn and Carl, a newsman, who eventually marry.

The impressive, sophisticated set with its outdoor garden and scenery played an important part in the development of Miss Ainslie's character. The audience was not only receptive to the cast, but enjoyed the lifelike set.

Diane Cotton interferes in the uncertain romance between Joe West and Gail Worthen.

Joe West hands a letter to the partially blind Dan Cwik, who recuperates after his operation that will return his vision.

Nosey Gail Worthen openly peers over Sue McFeggan's shoulder hoping to learn new interesting information. Jill Bellack, surprised by Joe West, throws her packages in the air like confetti.

Joan Becker applies her base make-up for her performance as Alice in, "Flowers For Algernon."

Winter Play Attracts Many; Good Reviews Follow

This year's winter play, "Flowers for Algernon," focused on a retarded man (Charlie), who has an operation that makes him many times smarter than he normally is. A man is made into a genius by surgery. The play focused on the difficulties, emotions, and memories that Charlie faces as he gets smarter. At the height of his intelligence, Charlie, portrayed by Ken Rice, faces the fears of his past childhood, and the bitterness of his unsure future. The cast of over thirty people was strong. The curtains lifted January 16 and 17 to expose one of the best winter plays in years.

United Nations Holds Banquet At East

For the first time since the language clubs have been co-sponsoring the International Dinner the Greek community was represented as students performed a traditional folk dance to "Zorba the Greek" and Kathy Ideno delighted the audience with her performance, "Sakura," a classic Japanese dance. In addition, there were song and dance routines contributed by all the foreign language clubs. The Italian Tartantella, the traditional French Can-Can and a Spanish dance, along with vocal selections by German Club member and a French vocalist, were all part of the festivities.

Mr. David Barker was the master of ceremonies for this year's record breaking audience of 300. The faces in the audience resembled a meeting of the United Nations. Students from the ESL program were invited to participate and did so in a large way for the first time. The wide array of food also symbolized the many nationalities represented at the dinner. All agreed that this year's menu, entertainment and all-around participation was at its best.

Invited guests, Mr. Barker, Dr. Short and Mr. Kalins retired Spanish teacher, sample various ethnic dishes.

Madrigal Proves A Tasty Treat

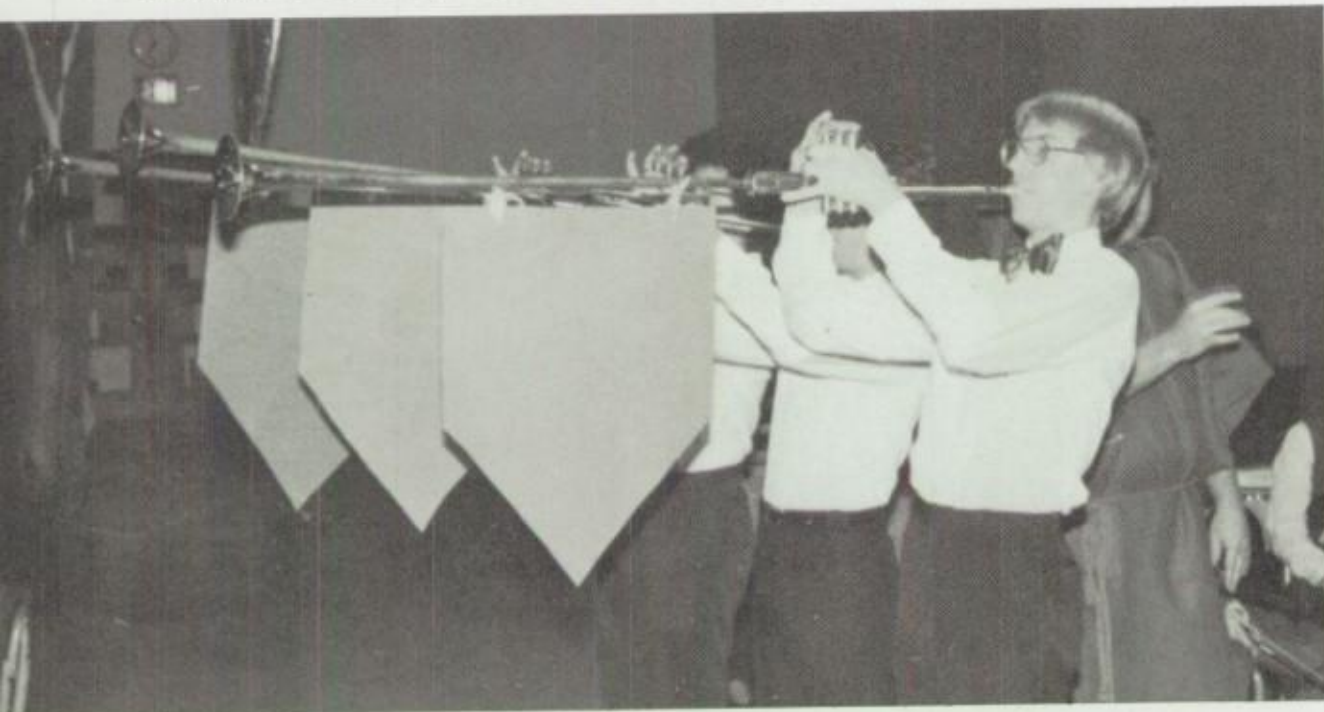

What is a Madrigal Dinner? It's a delightful experience not only of eating but of enjoying dance, music and drama. The madrigal was a short, strict lyrical poem suitable for a musical setting, popular in Italy, France and England during the Renaissance.

The Music Department's 3rd annual Madrigal Dinner opened with a Brass Procession which brought the performers into the hall (cafeteria). "Wassailing Song," the opening drinking carol, began the evening's version of a celebration. Hot Wassail, a hot spiced cider, was the toast which wished good health to an audience of 350. After dinner, the drama students read selections from Shakespeare, including Midsummers Night's Dream and King Lear. Traditional folk songs, a court jester scene and dancers also captured the spirit of the 16th century.

The evening's music was provided by the choir and chorus classes, the Maine East Singers, and the strings of the orchestra. Dinner was served by students from the Mixed Chorus I, II, and III classes.

East Swings To The '50's

Maine East Demon Squad and Cheerleaders presented "Keep On Lovin' You" at the Girls' Choice Dance. It was held in our very own cafeteria decorated especially for Valentine's Day. Everyone was up, dancing and swinging to the music and having a great time. What a fun time to show their Valentine.

Love, Hope and Charity

LIGHTS ! They finally got installed before opening night. CAMERA !! The equipment got slightly singed in the supply area fire, but the show must go on. ACTION !!! Marching bands in the aisle, chorus lines dancing and singing throughout the auditorium, these were the events of the Maine East 1981 Musical, "Sweet Charity."

"Sweet Charity" certainly proved to be a challenge, considering the technical difficulties which occurred and the fact that the musical had never been done by the Maine schools before. "Sweet Charity" was chosen over the numerous other musicals because of its large female cast and its uptempo pace.

Along with the premiere of the musical at the Maine schools something new was also tried in the crew and construction department, a non-traditional set of very few props and simple sets. The reason for this was to center the audience's attention on the music, dancing and acting their musical is well known for.

Because of the harsh language and some of the content in the original musical, the audience viewed a slightly revised version of "Sweet Charity." Considering the excitement and fast pace of the musical the parts which were, indeed, censored went along unnoticed, and by no means took away from the performance.

"Sweet Charity" follows the life of one Miss Charity Hope Valentine, a dance-girl hostess who has received most of her education from "life's experiences." Charity struggles to make a new life for herself, rehabilitate her past and find a husband. Although her immediate plans are ruined by the end of the musical, she truly finds herself, and gives us all hope for the future.

Heather Grabelle, Kristen Pavkovik, Ellen Zager, and Diane Amend had to rehearse in the student lounge because of the lighting board installation being done in the auditorium.

Lens Highlights The Main Events

Even though the Lens focused on the past years at Maine, it also captured the newsworthy events of the present outside of Maine that affect us all.

The 52 American hostages in Iran were a concern for all of us every day. As military leaders in Iran were preoccupied by the war with Iraq, the hostages spent a frustrating 444 days held as prisoners. It was only until former President Carter agreed to release billions of dollars in frozen assets that a settlement could be reached. Reagan took the oath of office just a couple of hours before the hostages left Tehran. As his first major decision the President organized 50 task forces that produced a flood of proposals for his new administration. The spending cuts were made in every department (except for Defense.) He paved the way for a strong, but conservative administration.

The eruption of Mt. St. Helens in the Cascade Range blasted 12 miles of the surrounding area. It blew down 150 square miles of timber worth about 200 million dollars. The blast packing 500 times the punch of the Hiroshima bomb was of the same magnitude as the one that buried Pompeii in A.D. 79, thousands suffered physical damage and irreparable property loss.

But the West Coast did not suffer alone. Tragedy struck on the East Coast that paralyzed the whole nation. An era ended December 8, 1980, at 10:50 p.m. when Marc David Chapman shot and killed John Lennon. A silent vigil took place December 14, 1980 at 2:00 p.m. for ten minutes.

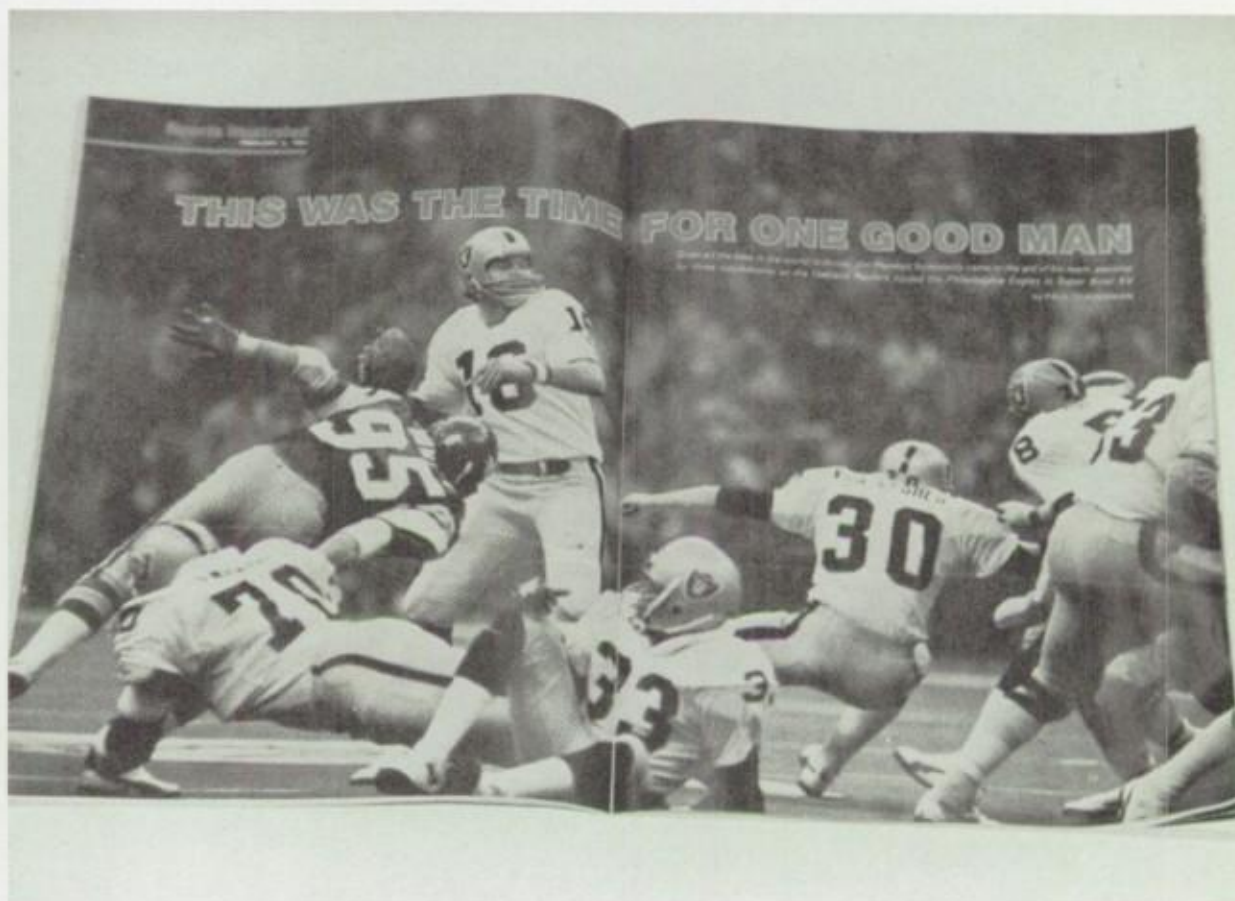

Thousands mournfully sang Lennon's songs as Yoko had asked everyone to pray for John, who loved the human race, had prayed. According to Newsweek, "(Ex) President Carter spoke of the irony that Lennon 'died by violence, though he had long campaigned for peace.'" John and Yoko's five year old son Sean's poignant statement after learning about his father's death was, "Now Daddy is part of God. I guess when you die you become much more bigger because you're part of everything."

John Lennon's death locked the door to the 60's, but Yoko firmly stated, "That doesn't mean the message should be over. The music will live on." And with it, so will the memory of John Lennon.

The killing of John Lennon stunned the nation as magazines covered the story of the admired Beatle.

Maine East Weathers District Storm

Dark storm clouds hovered over Maine South on Monday, September 8, 1980. The weather forecast anticipated heavy showers, thunder, and lightning—a district storm. A bit of unusual weather for September, but the forewarned public expected it.

The storm resulted from the gusting district winds which questioned whether to close Maine North or Maine East. Many people took shelter at the Maine South auditorium to hear the selected showers of reasoning by audience members that would possibly sway the district administrators' decision.

The Board believed that all decision at hand was purely a "financial" dilemma-void of all sentiment. Yet, others felt the decision should be based on tradition. The collegiate-looking seventy-nine year old Maine East building is the origin of Maine Township's heritage. Eliminating Maine East would be effacing our familial roots. History teacher Paul Carlson, who made a valiant effort to SAVE Maine East, reminded people of East's creed and historical significance.

Thunder roared as Mrs. Evan motioned to close Maine North. The roll-call vote was cast. Four members (Anne Evans, Arlynn Warmack, Charlotte Storer, and William Tornrose) favored Mrs. Evan's motion and three were against it (John Flavin, Thomas Rueckert, and William Schaeffle).

Lightning struck as it was announced that Maine East would remain open by a four to three vote. Many stormed out of the room-thunderstruck. Others breathed a sigh of relief. The storm was over.

We survived the turbulent weather. Now our challenge would be to adjust to many awaited future changes. The decision's outcome prompted one regretted major change. Mr. Barker, our present second-year principal, will be transferred back to Maine South and Mr. Cochrane, present Maine North principal, will replace Mr. Barker.

But the changes have only just begun

Business Skills Taught Here

As a result of declining enrollment the Business Department began its year by losing four teachers and gaining three new ones for a net loss of one teacher. The new teachers were Mr. Macchione teaching data processing; Miss Wheeler, business math and typing; and Mrs. Wozniak teaching stenography and office practice. All the new teachers came from within the district.

One of the major issues for the Business Department was the district's recommendation that they eliminate their business law course and develop a one year law course with the Social Studies Department. This plan, however, was shelved when a survey showed that the students taking the Law in American Society course were not the same as those students taking business law.

Maine East has always been proud of its business department and will continue to be so even in the light of declining enrollment. Those students pursuing business in college have said that Maine East's sequential courses have prepared them well for jobs in clerical, data processing, marketing, and accounting businesses. Those taking typing for the purpose of having neat, typed reports have also learned important skills in communication and gained a knowledge of the keyboard for life in today's keyboard society.

Artists Get A Start Here

Declining enrollment is the culprit that can be blamed for this year's loss of one and a half teachers and the cancellation of the sketching class. It will also be the cause for the combining of next year's Art 3 and 4 classes and for the cutting of Art 1 and 2 to one period long. However, with the scheduled closing of Maine North there will be, for at least a short while, an influx of students to Maine East and, hopefully, to the art department. The art department has been one of the departments most severely affected by declining enrollment. Three years ago there were 834 students. Last year there were 560 students. This year there were only 448 students. That is a 46% decrease from three years ago.

However, through all this the art department has maintained its standards of excellence and continues to send out talented young artists into the world. As one art student said, "I've learned so much in art . . . There's more to art than just picking up a pencil and drawing." And about the teachers, "The teachers are very helpful and encouraging, without pressuring us to go beyond what we can do. They've helped me to do things I never thought I'd be able to do."

Driver Training Proves Popular Course

Driver Education, considered by many students as one of their most important courses, taught the "Rules of the Road" to another group of anxious Mainites. Driver training has been offered to Maine students since the late 40's when driving a car was more of a luxury than a necessity. Today most high school students drive or are in the process of learning.

As a state requirement drivers safety is taught to all students, but as many as 80% of those who graduate have also had "behind the wheel" training. According to Mr. Holsen, department chairman, "Not everyone can drive. Students fail if they do not satisfactorily meet the requirement set forth by the state and the school."

To most students the ability to drive provides a certain independence. There were very few attendance problems in this class which just goes to show what most students will do when they value something enough. All the cars used were provided by local dealers, and with gas economy everyone's responsibility, the cars were all the fuel efficient type.

We're Talkin' Improvements!

The 1980-81 school year proved to be an exciting time in the Speech and Drama Department. The new innovations were primarily in equipment and facilities. The television studio obtained a color portable system this year. It was used extensively throughout the department as well as in various departments around the building.

The second major change in the physical part of the department this year was that a new lighting board was purchased for the department. A new lighting system was installed in the winter and was first used on the spring musical.

The debate team in the 1980-81 school year traveled to Harvard University, Georgetown, and to Philadelphia, participating in a number of national tournaments, and placing in the top at each of these.

Students Opt For Semester Electives

Twenty years ago there was English I,II,III, and IV. Everyone took the same thing. Then in the late 1960's we developed an accelerated and remedial program. Seven years ago we went to a semester elective program after the recommendation of the North Central Committee that we make available a more varied selection of courses. Over the past seven years these elective courses have been refined and grouped into four basic categories: Composition, Media, American Literature, and Literary Themes and Genres. Students had to select a course from each category. Teachers this year, however, spent the entire year reworking the elective program. The students could be more selective in choosing what courses to take, and therefore, were able to enjoy the classes more.

Guidance Returns To Original Homeroom Program

Besides the many varied services they provided, Guidance fostered a new, successful homeroom program. Homeroom was extended an extra five minutes: 8:05 to 8:20 and once a month there was a planned classroom activity for thirty minutes between teacher and students. The purpose of this new system was to create a more "homey" atmosphere before school and to offer more information about activities concerning students in that homeroom. Homeroom teachers learned more about other departments, which kept the teachers unified.

Mr. Van Scoyoc, department chairman, was pleased with the new program, but also stated that it really wasn't new. Years ago our homeroom system was similar.

"There was a time, I can remember when students didn't even have to check in at attendance. There wasn't any Attendance Office except to do the paperwork."

At one time, the homeroom teacher did everything: counseled, disciplined, informed, and took attendance. It was successful then, but as times changed we drew away from the homeroom teacher-student rapport. Mr. Van Scoyoc explained that the trend is returning back to that forgotten rapport because "everything works in a cycle—we had a successful system and now we are cycling back to it. To continue with success we must go back to what we used to do."

In addition to organizing the new homeroom system, Mr. Van Scoyoc is preparing for a major transition. After working 33 years in the educational system, 21 of which were spent in Guidance, he will be leaving us in June. He sincerely said, "It's a very hard thing to do." He added, "And with the addition of Maine North students there's a lot to do."

It is believed that we will hopefully receive two counselors from Maine North to help with extra students.

Counselors traditionally continued to provide guidance for college-bound students who needed assistance in their selection, financial aid, and general assistance with applications and recommendations.

A Senior student summed up what she thought Guidance was: A step toward moving on.

Foreign Language Creates Polygots

For some of us, our own native English is difficult enough to speak and write correctly; yet, more than 33% of us chose to learn a foreign language. Whether students undertook another language for their own knowledge or because of the increasing availability of bilingual jobs, students were actively interested and that was what counted.

After chairing the language department for 14 years, Mr. Anderson will be going to Maine South to head the department there.

"There won't be any curriculum changes, although we will have more students (next year) and the number of teachers will be the same," said

Mr. Anderson.

Mr. Anderson expressed his pleasure with foreign language's appeal on students, and was especially happy with seven students, who were not only studying one language, but two: Polygots.

The Polygots were started in 1979 with 5 members. Today, there are seven. Mr. Anderson said that he hoped to see more students undertake another language in the future.

But at Maine, we also try "to integrate students, whos primary language is not English which is essentially the purpose of Teaching English as a Second Language program," said Mr. David Barker, teacher of T.E.S.L.

T.E.S.L. began in 1971 with 8 students; today, there are 84 ambitious learners. It is not a bilingual program; yet, how do students learn English if teachers don't speak their same language?

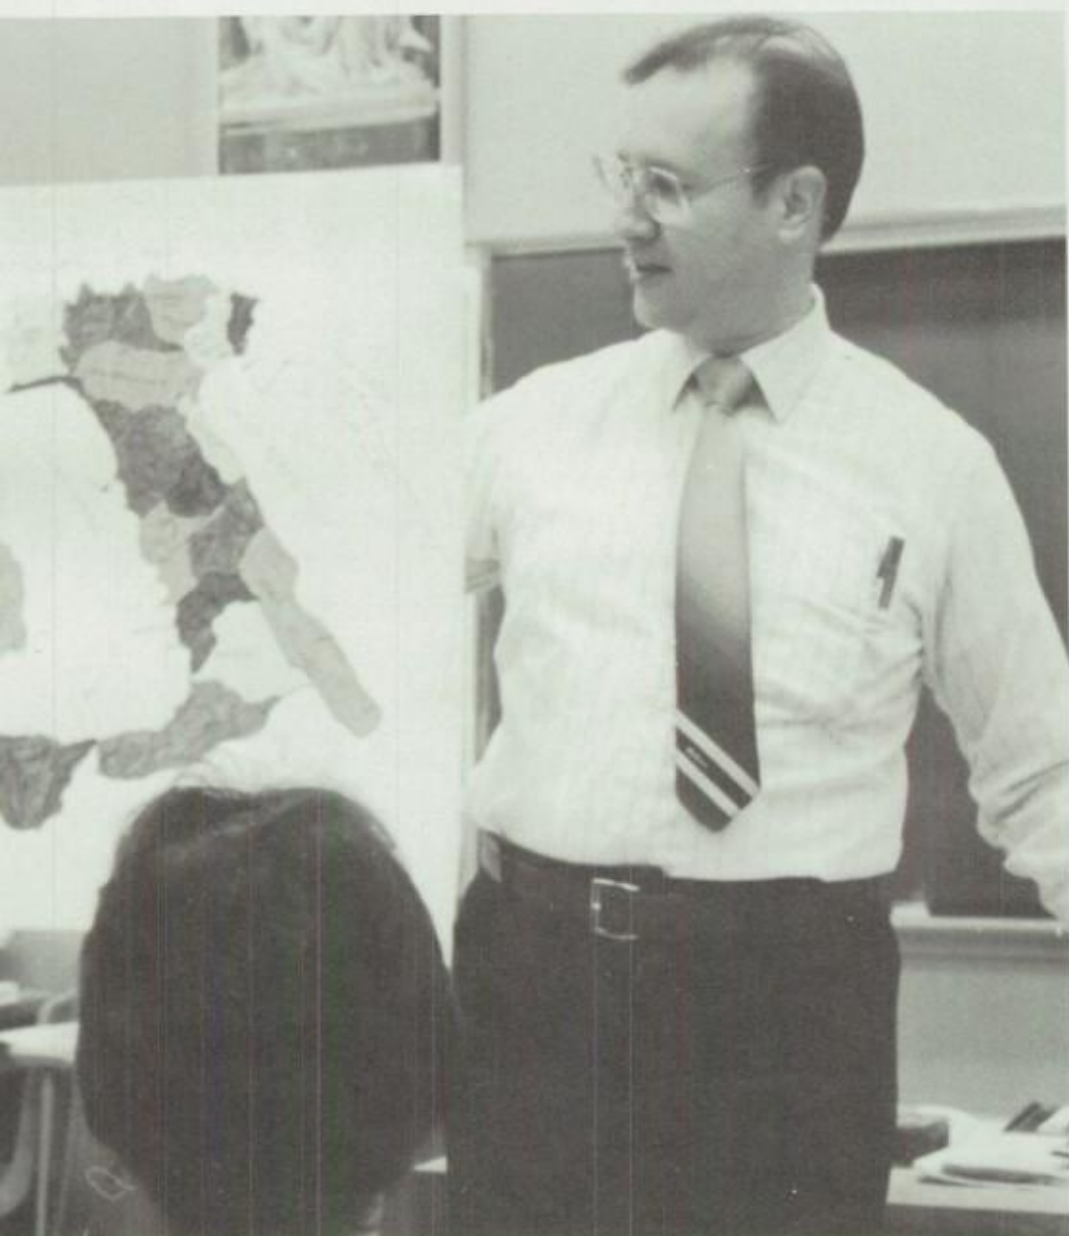

"By using teachers trained in linguistics, which is the science of languages," answered Mr. Barker.

Our T.E.S.L. program has been successful and despite the tremendous adjustments, records show that Maine's T.E.S.L students usually graduate and continue their education, or find jobs in the working world.

"We may have arrived in different ships, but we're all in the same boat now."

Home Economics

Prepares Us For Dual Roles

The role of women since World War II has been that of a homemaker as well as a wage earner. Home Economics has been training students for that dual role particularly through the work program which consisted of Child Care, Foods and Clothing and Interior Design. Students learn skills which prepare them to enter the job market already trained.

The more traditional Home Economics courses in Foods, Clothing and Independent Living showed students how to manage time, money, and energy as it pertained to their homes and lifestyles. In Ms. Simonsen's Home Planning class, some emphasis was placed on "energy conservation" as students worked on a comparative study of energy use over the past three generations. Students became aware of just how much energy was being wasted today as compared to years past.

With inflation depleting everyone's pocketbook, more students became interested in "doing it themselves" in order to save money, particularly in the clothes line.

Home Economics has always tried to help students meet the demands of a rapidly changing society by equipping them with the practical skills necessary for economic survival.

Industrial Arts Keeps Pace

Mechanical skills have increased in value over the years and that is why an Industrial Arts program has been so important. East has offered a program in electrical, mechanical, automotive, graphic, architectural and woodworking skills over the years that is as sophisticated as the society itself. Courses in these areas have kept pace with the technological advances and changes taking place in an age sometimes referred to as "future shock," where we are bombarded with changes faster than we can easily assimilate them. One area that has kept pace with the computer age has been Graphic Arts. Printing classes went to computerized type setting for the first time this year. Compugraphic 7500 has the amazing capability of storing 300,000 characters and can set type in eight different type styles.

It was the second year that Mr. Rathgerber's class printed the PIO-NEER, but it was the first year for printing Maine South's newspaper, SOUTHWORDS. Those students enrolled in automotive classes found that cars have become more complex. Yet many of these students have gone on to technical schools after graduation to become more experienced and skilled in their field. With all the emphasis on energy conservation, the Advanced Architecture class got into designing a solar home. Also with modern housing trends moving in the direction of multi-dwelling construction, the architecture students were involved in designs of condominiums. Commercial construction designs emphasized the use of steel and concrete which was a new experience for these students.

Time For A Change

During the summer of 1980 the LRC underwent renovation. All the books were taken from their shelves, all the shelves were moved, and what was once three floors was transformed into two. The reason for all of this change was that declining enrollment made a three floor LRC troublesome and unnecessary. The two floor LRC was created to facilitate the students with more knowledge in a smaller area, and the library staff with better organization over a compact space.

The head librarian, Mrs. Janet Meyer, did not believe the library would be finished for the 1980-81 term. She said, "All the books had to be taken from their shelves and placed in the carrels on the second floor. Virtually every book was moved from the position it held the previous school year." But despite Mrs. Meyer's thoughts the library reconstruction was finished and ready for the students to invade on August 27th.

Another change the library went through was a change in offices. The library office in the basement was moved to the third floor in the north conference rooms. Taking the place of the former library office was the Technical Processing Center for the entire Maine district. Charlene Orr has been in charge of the Processing Center and moved with it from Maine West where it was situated before. The Center catalogs, repairs, and processes all the library materials for the Maine schools. About the office relocation Mrs. Meyer stated, "We have moved from the top to the bottom in one fell swoop . . . it is much nicer on the third floor, you can see outside, unlike the basement where all you see are dark cement walls."

The students for the most part were displeased with the change. LRC-1 became a freshman study-hall. Because of this the typing room was moved to the second floor deleting a few conference rooms. The library was left with one conference room and one classroom study. With fewer conference rooms and less space, the library was committed to enforcing strict rules concerning noise tolerance and the reasons for students using the conference rooms. But with change there does come some pain and adjustment; this was no exception.

Mathematicians Rate High In Contest

One thing which was not new, but certainly grew this past year was our school's involvement in the Illinois Mathematics League Contest. The contest took place before school and during homeroom. It was held every three to four weeks and was open to everyone. The contest took place in room 230, the old freshman studyhall, and this past year there were not enough seats to accommodate the students.

The contest took the top five scores from each school which took the test and sent a list of the top scoring schools in the state to each school. The test was comprised of six math questions of varying difficulty. At one point Maine East was the number one school in the contest. Mr. Rodger Leys, the sponsor of Math Team and head promoter of the contest, felt that we would at least be able to place in the top five schools taking the test.

Since our world is relying on computers more and more, there is a need for more education in that area. As a result of this need, the state bought new computers and other equipment for the Math Department to use. Courses such as Computer Sciences took advantage of the new equipment. Also a new freshman accelerated program, headed by Mr. Dan Wilson and Mr. John Adams, enabled the students to use the new Apple computer and others in our data processing room.

Next year the Math Department will undergo quite a few changes. Mr. Hubert Dodge will be retiring; leaving Maine East with twenty-two years of faithful service. Mr. Dodge will be working for himself for awhile; restoring his home on about an acre of land in Mount Carol, Illinois. Concerning next year, Mr. David Henry, department chairman, expects to see two to four new math teachers due to Maine North's closing.

In Computer Sciences, students go over flow charts for programming computers with Mr. Wilson.

"All That Jazz"

Jazz seemed to be the predominant sound emanating from the Music Department this past year. Styles such as Bird, bebop, and swing were popularized in the department due to the leadership of seniors Ben Teitelbaum, Alan Goldman, Bill Engerman, and Jeff Kroll.

Jazz was not the only area of concentration, though. The music-packed V-Show and the Spring Musical, "Sweet Charity" owed their success to the hard work of the department's teachers and students. Other activities such as the Madrigal Dinner, the Orchesis Concert, the many music concerts and tours, and, of course, Maine East's home football games showed how devoted and vital the music department was to Maine East this year. The department also dipped its hands into fundraisers in the form of Pasta Night. This fundraiser was successful enough to send many of the department's students on a music tour down to the University of Illinois.

The close of the year ended on a sad note, however, due to the departure of Gerald Hug, department chairman. Due to the closing of Maine North, he was transferred to Maine West after eleven years of devoted service to our school. The music students expressed sorrow at his departure, but there was also anticipation in the air because of the return of O. D. Premo, a former chairman, as the new department chairman.

Students Dig Anthropology

Students could be studying your bones one million years from now.

Barb Teraji casts her ballot in the mock election as Darlene Whitten looks on approvingly.

A new change in the Social Studies Department, ironically, was a look at the old. An anthropology class was offered to seniors and met with a great deal of success. With recent interest in both anthropology and archaeology, students now had the opportunity to elect an alternative to the strictly history-like courses previously offered. According to Ken Reczkiewicz, department chairperson, only six or seven percent of high schools offer such a course. This made Maine East rather unique.

As part of a program to inform students of the many electives in the social studies program, Mr. Reczkiewicz visited all junior history classes prior to registration. A good deal of interest was generated in this way and some students opted to add a course to their schedules for the second semester. One of the changes planned for next year was to offer an advanced placement European History course for seniors.

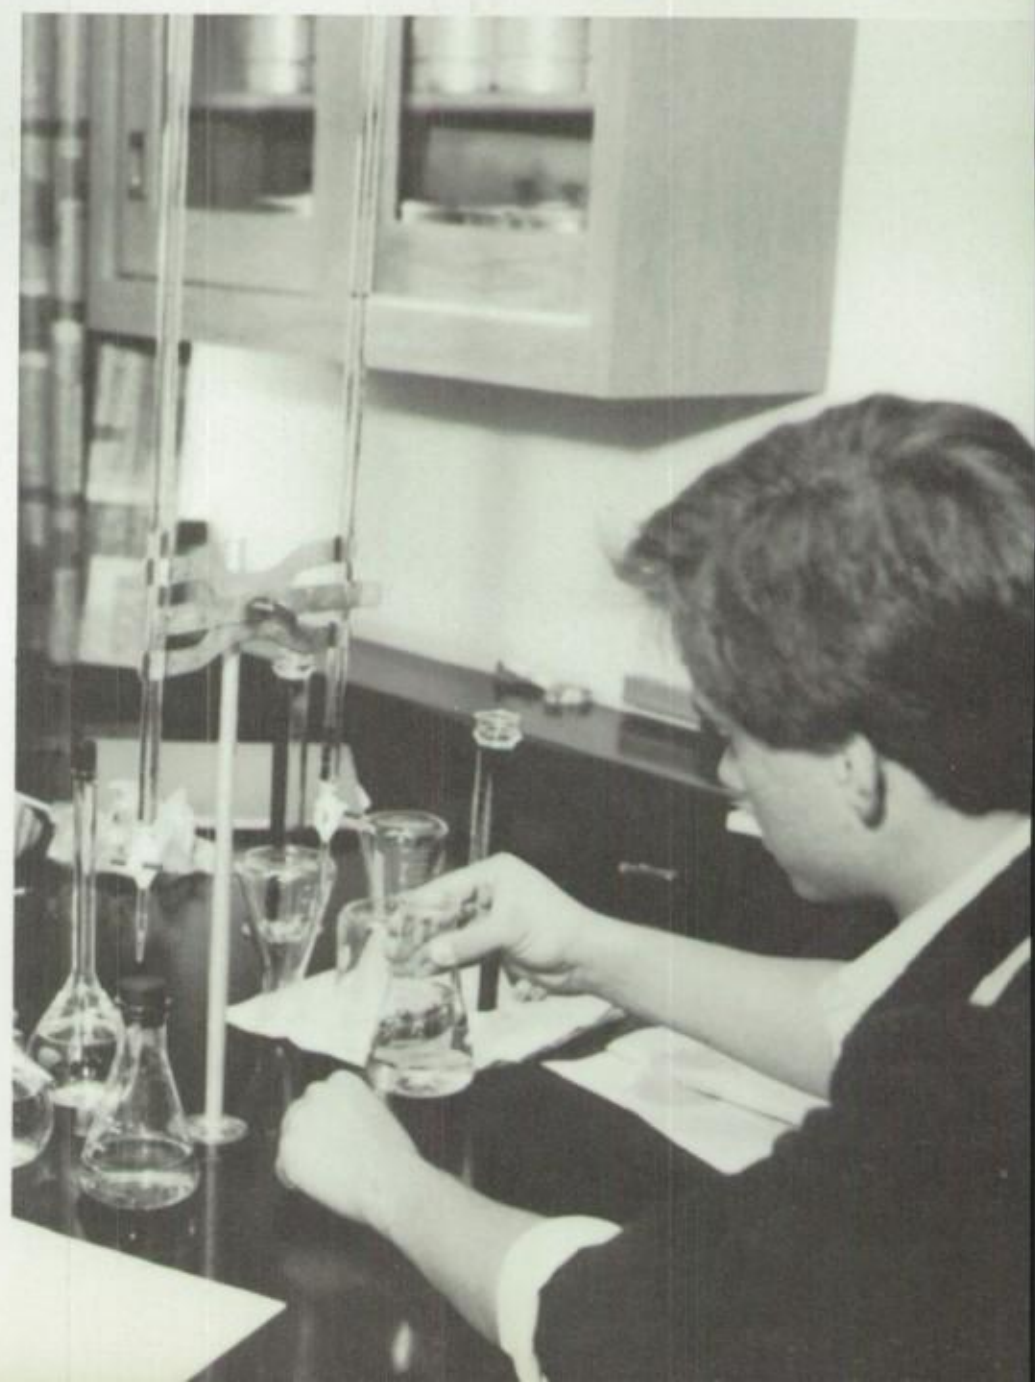

Of course, 1980 would not have been complete without its attention to the political campaigns. Local politicians such as John Porter, Robert Weinberger, and Richie Daley addressed students on fundamental campaign issues. It was an opportunity for many students to see and hear first-hand a political speech.

The Social Studies Department, in conjunction with Student Council, also sponsored a mock election, although a disappointing minority-fewer than ten percent of the student body-voted. The results showed Ronald Reagan as the winner with John Anderson coming in second. Even Maine East students sensed the outcome for Reagan.

Back To Basics

In the beginning there was biology, chemistry, earth science and physics for a student to choose from in the Science Department. Ironically in 1980 that seemed to be the same choice students who took science had. An elective course, geology, was phased out and extinction threatened Science and Society. It was unfortunate that this course might have to be dropped since it was described by the North Central Evaluation Committee last year as one of the most innovative and exciting courses offered. As one senior boy said, "It was one of the best courses I've taken because it was relevant and dealt with issues which were important to everyone like pollution and nuclear power." The problem of cutting down on the courses was not unique to the Science Department.

One quality which has characterized the department is that it was staffed with very experienced teachers, most being in the district for more than ten years.

Electives Make PE More Appealing

There was a time when physical education might have included calisthenics for physical fitness and team sports such as volleyball, track, basketball and softball for developing skills such as coordination, speed and agility. Today we offer so much more. Our physical education department has continued to offer one of the most extensive and varied elective programs in the state. Among these electives are scuba, modern jazz, tennis, golf, self-defense and golf as well as the traditionally popular courses such as badminton, basketball, swimming and volleyball. All freshmen are required to be proficient in swimming and must pass a test; if not, they must enroll in a swimming class until they satisfy this requirement.

According to department chairman, Ms. Bovenmeyer, "Students have the opportunity to make choices and develop their skills in several areas, but unfortunately there are those who take advantage and abuse the program." Now that East has been through the elective program for several years, both students and teachers have adjusted and prefer it. Evaluation of courses is ongoing to meet the needs of a changing student body. Students have recognized the fact that physical fitness and recreation will continue to be a part of their lives for many years after graduation.

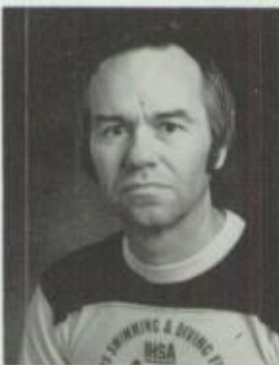

There aren't many schools that offer scuba diving for PE credit.

Leaders In Action

The Leader Program was started about 27 years ago. To participate in the program a student must submit an application which is evaluated by the P.E. staff. Acceptance is based on grades, activities, attitudes, and teacher recommendations, which show the student's potential to be a leader. The Junior Leaders spent the year training to become Senior Leaders. Although the number of leaders decreased due to the decline in enrollment, they were a very promising group. Many showed an interest in working in Center Court next year. The responsible group of Senior Leaders assisted students in the elective program. They aided the teachers to make the class effective so that the students enjoyed physical education. Some seniors chose to become Special Education Leaders. The number of students involved in the Special Education Senior Leader program has increased over the years and 1980 had the largest group in its 10 years. The leaders worked with mentally retarded and physically handicapped students in the Center Court P.E. classes, where emphasis is placed on individual growth and success. The leaders helped with the annual Special Olympics and helped coach the Center Court Basketball Team, the highlight of the program for both the leaders and the students. This year, Maine East hosted the highly successful Illinois Trainable Mentally Retarded Athletic Associations State Basketball Tournament in March.

Special Education classes expanded to include five additional classrooms along the first floor Dempster wing. These rooms were primarily resource rooms for the LD students. Unlike the other departments, Special Education has experienced rapid growth rather than decline. As students' needs are being more carefully identified, staff and facilities must be added. Maine East has been fortunate to have one of the best staffed Special Education departments in the state. Originally federal funds were used to build Center Court. The program has outgrown its facilities and now utilizes various rooms in the building.

An academic innovation for Special Education was a series of computer programs developed for the department by George Morris. With these programs, teachers were able to develop a more effective program of classroom and individual instruction.

If the example of the Center Court Council is shared by the rest of the students in Center Court, then the Maine East spirit is alive and well. The Council is made up of students from all areas of Center Court and meet weekly. In the past they have sponsored dances and parties and are responsible for a Center Court newspaper.

Varsity Grabs Homecoming; Drops Season

Maine East's Varsity football team, again led by coach Al Eck, ended their season with a 1-5 conference and a 1-8 overall record.

"Good coaching was the most positive aspect of this year's team," commented one team member. Despite this, the only game the young team was able to salvage out of the entire season was the homecoming game against Maine West. The last five games of conference competition were each lost by only one touchdown.

All-conference competitors included senior Gary Tomal and MVP Dean Bekas.

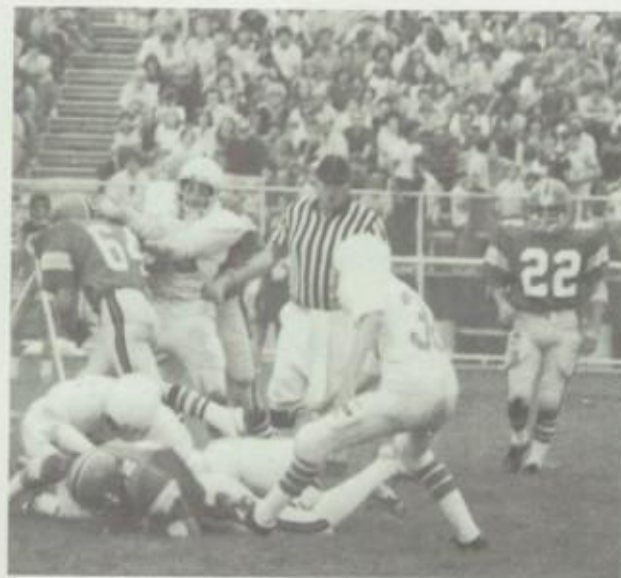

Team spirit by Mike Aaknes, Al Slezak, Mike Sherman, and All-conference competitor Gary Tomal was a positive aspect in this year's homecoming victory.

Sophs Place Second In Conference

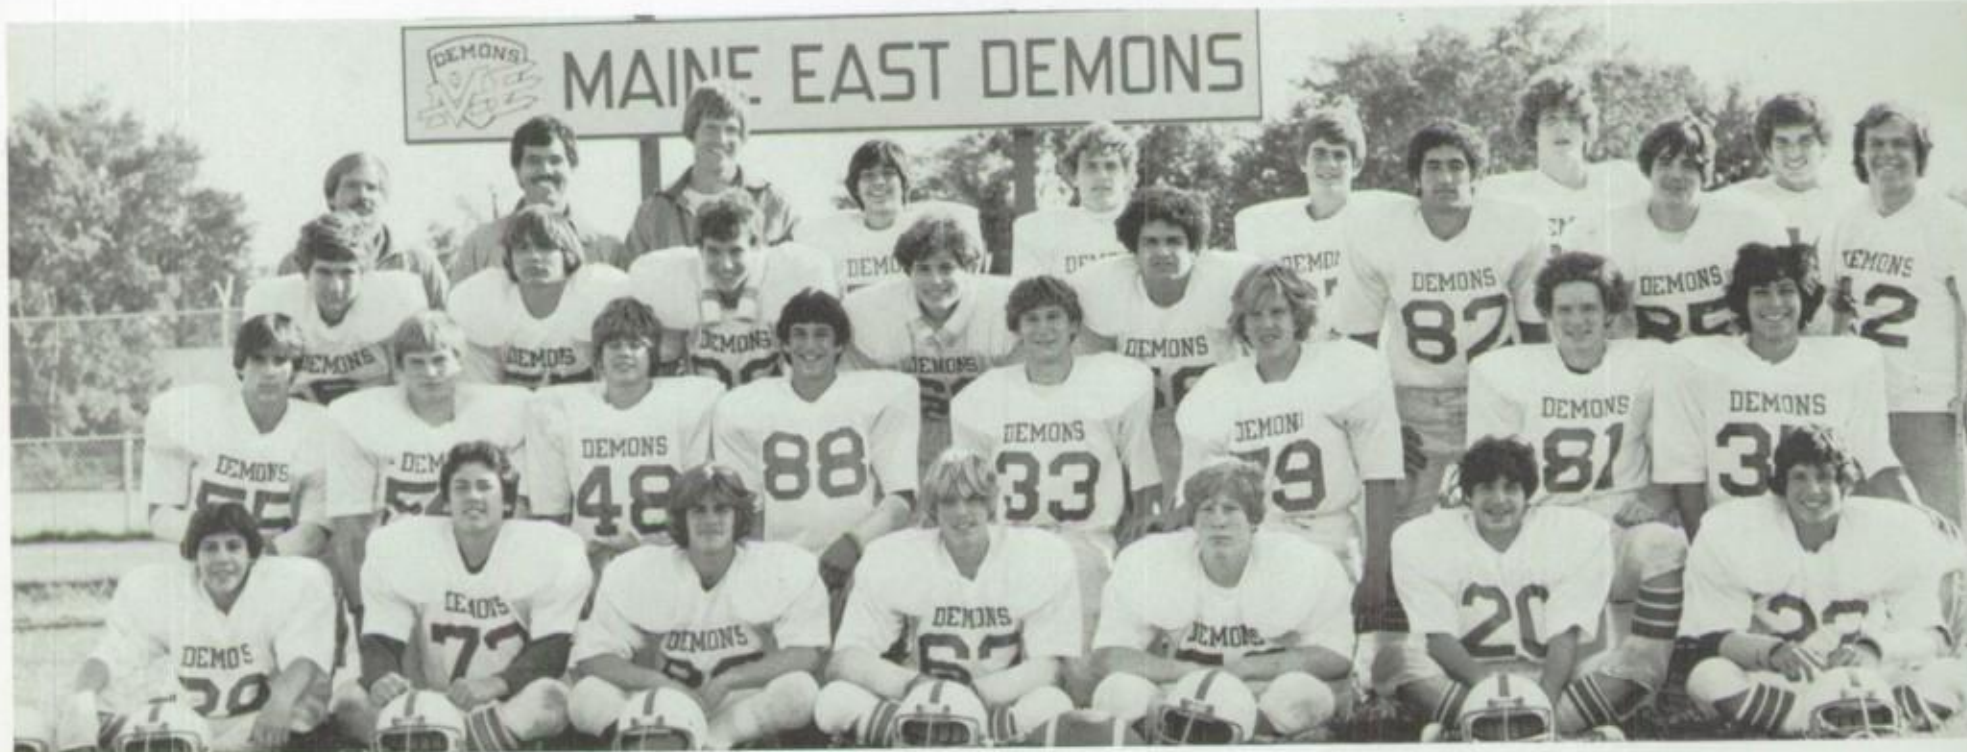

After a slow start, the Maine East Sophomore Football team went on to place second in conference competition. Their conference record was 4-1-1, losing only to first ranked Glenbrook South by a score of 12-6. Their overall record was 4-4-1.

The team drafted a freshman, Dan Koslowski, to the starting quarterback position. After getting over a lagging start, Dan demonstrated "his potential" in the latter half of the season.

"This year's team was not as strong as I wanted," remarked head coach Dan Rotzoll, "but they were able to penetrate the line." The team was most successful in gaining yardage on the ground. The quick hitting offense was led by Dan Schmid, Bob Lausen, and Scott Mareci.

Due to their proneness to injury, the Freshman "A" Football team was unable to pull it all together. The young Demons, coached by Don Presern, had to play most of their games without four of their starters.

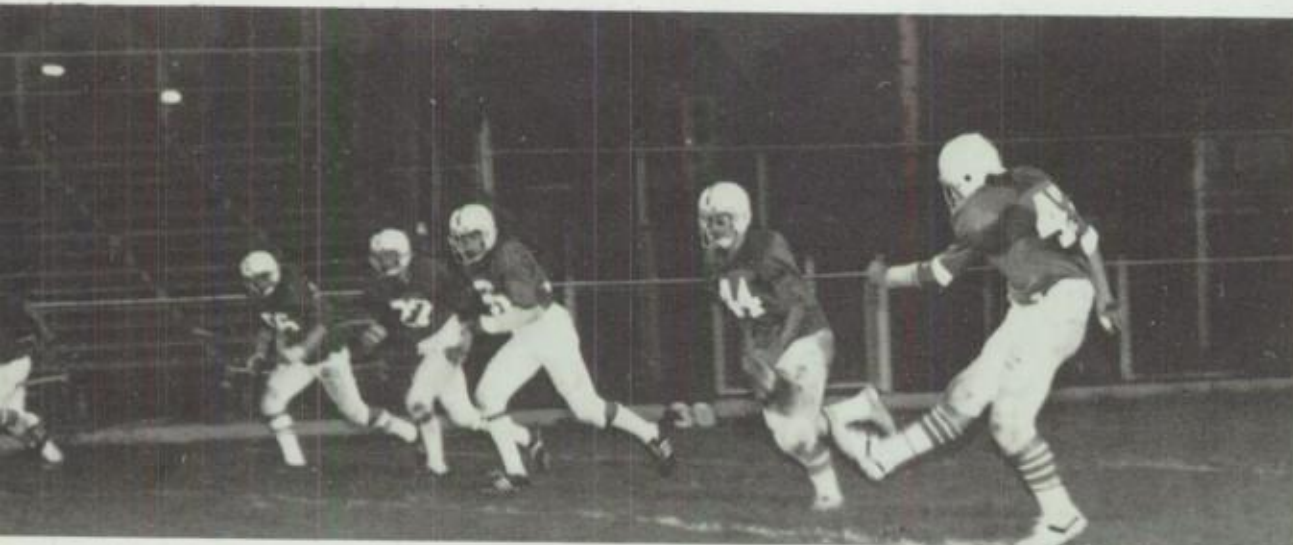

"They lacked speed and strength, but they were hard workers, never quitting, and always gave it their all," stated Coach Sartini. Their season ended with a disappointing 2-5-1 overall record and a 2-3-1 in conference.

"I really learned a lot from the good coaching," said Craig Bernstein. But this year's small and very inexperienced team fell short with an 0-8 overall record.

Cross Country Takes Third

It was another outstanding year for our Cross Country team keeping up a winning tradition. The team not only captured first place in Districts, but also captured first in Conference. Then the team went on to place third in the Sectional Meet with the combined efforts of all the harriers.

There were many outstanding runners this year. Bob Dluzen was this year's Conference Champion. Kurt Rothlisberger was this year's District winner. Six runners were named All-Conference: Bob Dluzen, first; Kurt Rothlisberger, second; Jim Komperda, fourth; Keith Warner, sixth; Dan Didier, and Tom Phalen, tenth.

Record Belies Steady Improvement

"The Freshman team's performance improved steadily throughout the season. This team made the most improvement of any other freshman team I coached," said Coach Kessler. Steady performances were given by John Ruscheinski, Dan Holst, and Bob Heiting. Players showing the greatest improvement were Won Kim, Warren Huey and Andy Baffes. Six Ties Prove Closing Minutes Crucial

"The highlights of the season were the victories over Maine West and Waukegan, which were the better games played all year," said Coach Woerter.

The top players were Luis Carrera, Tim Benka, Steve Gerber, and Ted Rahn. This team holds the school record for ties — six in the overall record of 3-9-6. Three of their games were lost in the last five minutes of the game. Some of these players will be ready for next year's varsity team.

Varsity Raises Expectations!

Mr. Dollaske summed up the 1980 season saying, "It was a great year and I'm proud of all of them; in fact, they did better than I expected." Their final record was 12-2-3, second best in the history of Maine East soccer, which began in 1966.

The Demon defense proved to be strong in the end with a record of eleven shut-outs. The underclassmen on the team put forth great effort. They gave the team a lot of help. Members of the team felt that the halfbacks-Jim Ruscheinski, Dave Goodman, Steve and Jim McMahon, set up the strong side of the team leading to victories.

All-conference honors were earned by Steve McMahon and Russell Rosenberg. Jim McMahon and Dave Goodman earned all-conference and all-regional honors. Jim Ruscheinski earned all-conference, all-regional along with all-state as a sophomore.

We Are Family

"We are family," the words to the once popular song by Sister Sledge, actually describes the 1980-81 volleyball team. Everyone knew the true meaning of the word "team." Working together diligently, coping with sprained ankles and fingers, they struggled to do their best.

Although doing their best did not result in a successful record, Mrs. A. Davitt, Varsity coach, commented, "Our record did not show all that the girls got out of the season." Mrs. Davitt was extremely pleased with the girls this season, even though only three starting players returned from last year. Her only regret was that maybe the girls could have received a little more material satisfaction to justify all of their hard work.

Andi Mazor, Varsity captain, believed, "Although our record wasn't that good, we were a real close family" which helped to soothe the disappointments. Andi felt that Pam McGuigan, Vicki Oster, and Kris Weinberg deserved recognition for their individual performances.

When asked to look ahead to future seasons, Andi stated that the Freshman team was fantastic in their effort and enthusiasm. Their future looks promising.

The interest in volleyball, the sport itself, has greatly increased. Only fourteen girls tried out four years ago and 1980-81 say fifty girls at try-outs.

The Girls' Volleyball team truly had what it took to be united as a team Stuck together as one and always were there to share a smile or a tear. They were a family.

Though it did not receive as much attention as our football and soccer teams, Maine East's Varsity tennis team still pushed ahead and ended the season with a respectable record: 4 and 2 in conference and 4 and 9 overall. Because of the girls' fine performance, the team finished first in their district and thirteenth in the state. This was an important goal which Coach Dan Wilson had hoped to achieve. He was pleased with the team's success despite the difficult conference the team had to compete in and the absence of a summer tennis program this past year. Coach Wilson particularly praised the talents of Freshman Shelly Weiner, Sophmores Dee Dee Lucas and Liz Balter, and Junior Beth Lavin. He also expressed gratitude for the hard work graduating seniors Carol Hoosline, Jody Sos-trin, Laurie Clement, Carolyn Sitkiewicz, and Dena Applebaum contributed to the team. Coach Wilson looked with optimism to next year because of the return of his "stars" and the added Maine North players who will give the team greater depth.

Though the Junior Varsity tennis team did not fare as well, 2 and 4 in conference and 2 and 11 overall, Coach Lou Petrizzi was pleased by the number of new tennis players and the fine team spirit that was evident throughout the season. Up and coming talent such as Freshman Sheryl Lucas and Sophmores Bobbi Dacks, Sue Tomsic, Kara Legenza, and Gina Blakeslee will add their skills to the Varsity team in the years ahead. Coach Petrizzi also expressed hope that the new Maine North players will add depth and leadership, qualities not as evident this year, to next year's team.

Driving For Districts

MVP, George Unger, blasts out of his season's best lie.

Frosh-Soph Golf Team: Carl Moellenkamp, Wayne Bielgard, Eric Nelson, Mike DeVivo, Elliot Whitefield, Joe Piento, Coach Max Liggett.

The season started early for the Demon Golfers. Varsity and Frosh-Soph teams were chosen and already practicing a week before school began. Coach Don Keane mentioned that he would like to have seen more golfers try-out, and hopes there might be more interest next season.

The Varsity team finished with a dual meet record of five to seven, and their season included two wins over rival Maine South. The team was led by their only seniors, lettermen George Unger and Bob Aley. The highlight of the season was the team's fourth rank out of ten in the toughest district in the state, and Gary Gustafson's round of 83 in conference which qualified him for sectionals.

Though not an excuse, the Maine East Golf Team had a distinct disadvantage in that it was the only township which did not have a Park District Golf Course to practice at. The team had to practice at the Rob Roy or the Park Ridge private golf courses. Unfortunately, next season may turn up a new inconvenience with the closing of the Rob Roy course for the construction of condominiums.

The Frosh-Soph team putted along this year gaining experience. Individuals will be very promising next season if they can combine their practice with the experience derived from their mistakes. The team's Most Valuable Player was Mike DeVivo.

Coach Keane explained that inconsistency was the reason the Varsity team did not do better as a whole, although their record was respectable. The most consistent player on the team was George Unger, who, with an average of 42 for nine holes was voted Most Valuable Player. Coach Keane also commented that all the players have improved individually and while sending off two graduating lettermen with four years of service, he looks forward to next season and five returning lettermen.

Varsity Golf Team: Rich Castles, Ira Fishman, Mike Bastian, Gary Gustafson, Bob Aley, Jim Tait, Bryan Peterson, George Unger, and Coach Don Keane.

Bob Aley putted in the two lowest scores for nine holes, 38 and 39.

Gary Gustafson, with one year to go, swung an 83 at the district meet to qualify him as an individual for sectionals.

Junior, Jim Tait, had the third lowest average on the team.

Sticks Echo Efforts

As the Field Hockey Team maneuvered and outmaneuvered their way up and down the playing field, all that could be heard was the clacking of hockey sticks, the encouraging shouts of other team members and the screams and sighs of winners and losers. The Varsity Team once again finished with a record of 4-7. Most of the games were very close - one, an exciting double overtime against Oak Park- lost by one point.

Even though they were short one player most of the season, the Junior Varsity Team finished with an improved record of 5-4. According to Coach Bovenmyer, all of the girls worked very hard throughout the entire season and played some excellent hockey. The team had a strong defense and improved their technique greatly by concentrating on passing skills.

Over the past few years, the team's skill level has been steadily improving. The enthusiastic girls practiced two and a half hours every day for two months. According to the girls, even though the vigorous practices were tiring, they were a lot of fun.

Outstanding players included Alana Kline, Barb Stelk, and Val Wageman.

Spirits Keep Swimmers Afloat

A tie with Maine West was the best the varsity could muster this season. According to Mrs. Geselter, "It's a young team and we swim against the top teams in the state.

Senior diver, Lori Schulstad, was off to a good start until she had an accident midway into the season. Two sophomore hopefuls, both free stylers, were Kathy O'Brien and Kathy Nankervis.

With the closing of Maine North, Mrs. Geselter expressed confidence in bolstering next year's team with swimmers from North. Team members agreed that the spirit was much improved as well as the individual performances.

Likewise, the JV team managed a tie against Waukegan West in their season's opener. Mrs. Kuceyeski credited Carla Dobson and Stacey Rice as the most improved swimmers and Cathy Gryboski as the most valuable. Prospects for the future are brighter as the team gains depth and experience.

Mindy Anderson concentrates on her starting position which requires a great deal of practice. As a free styler, Kathy Nankervis needs to keep working on those techniques which will help her improve her speed.

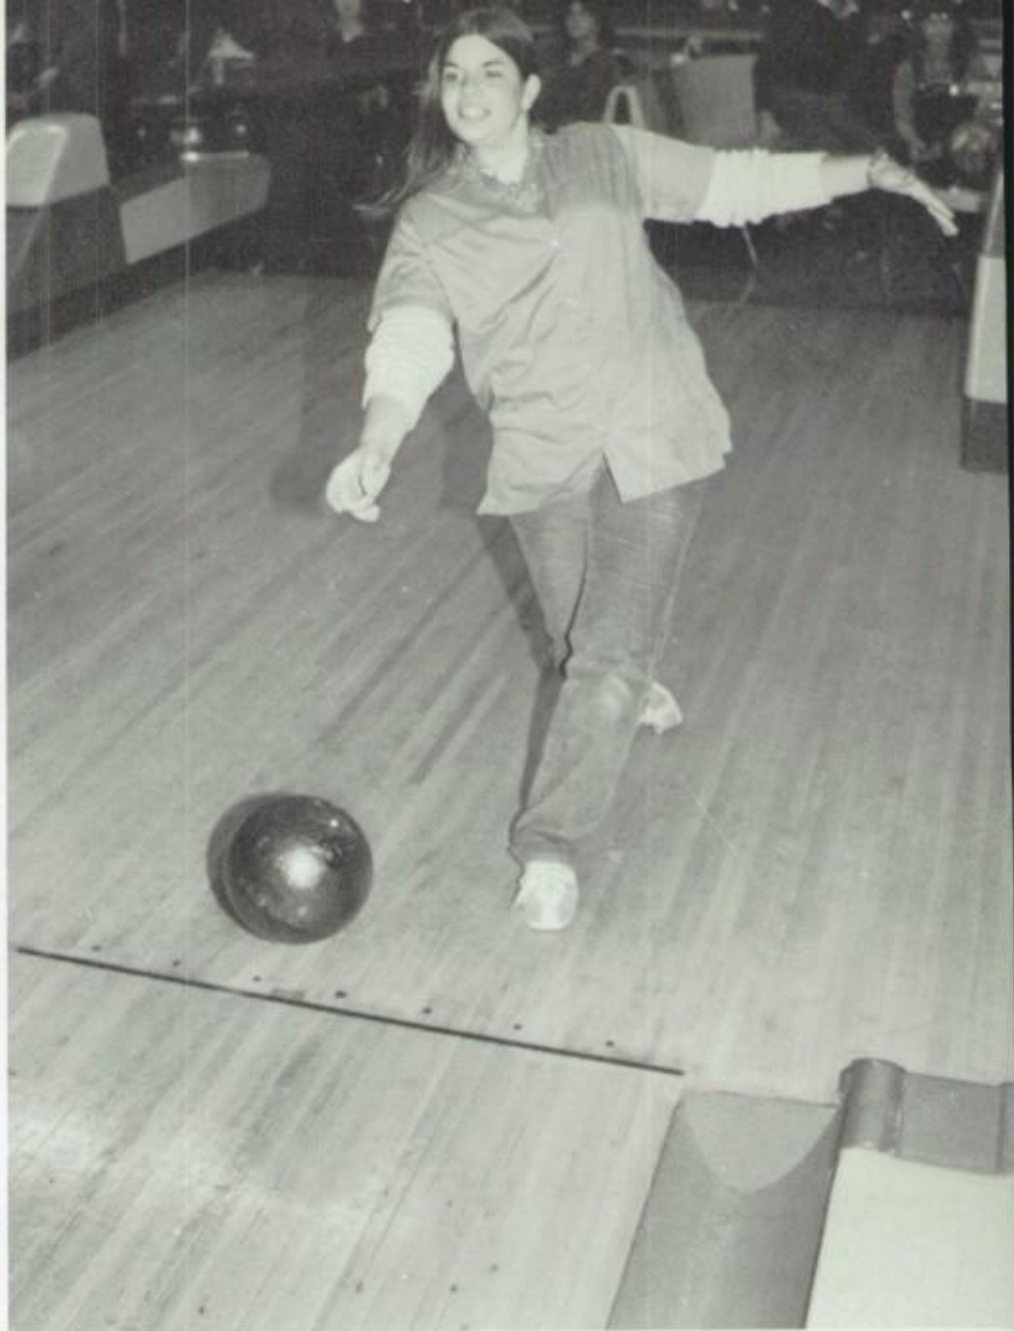

Varsity and JV Girls' Swimming: First Row: T. Koch, C. Bogacki, P. Tazalla, D. Ilenfeld, N. Dunn, K. Nankervis, L. Schulstad, A. Samaras, S. Rice, C. Dobson, E. LaChance, T. Though the Girls' Bowling Team might not have gotten much recognition this past year, the varsity team was striking away its opponents all season. Led by seniors Pam Hundrieser and Robin Selzer and juniors Debbie Comita and Eileen Lai, the team finished second in the district.

Coach Carole Jaacks expressed pleasure at the girls' performance and the number of new girls who joined the team. She said that the girls really got a workout because of the number of invitationals the team participated in this year. Individual honors went to Pam Hundrieser for having the highest average in the meets and to Robin Selzer for having the highest game and series in the meets. With the return of Eileen Lai, Debbie Comita, and other superior bowlers, and the addition of Maine North's bowlers, the prospects for next year seemed high.

The Junior Varsity Girls' Bowling Team finished the season with an equally good record. They finished third in the district and their prospects for next year looked even better.

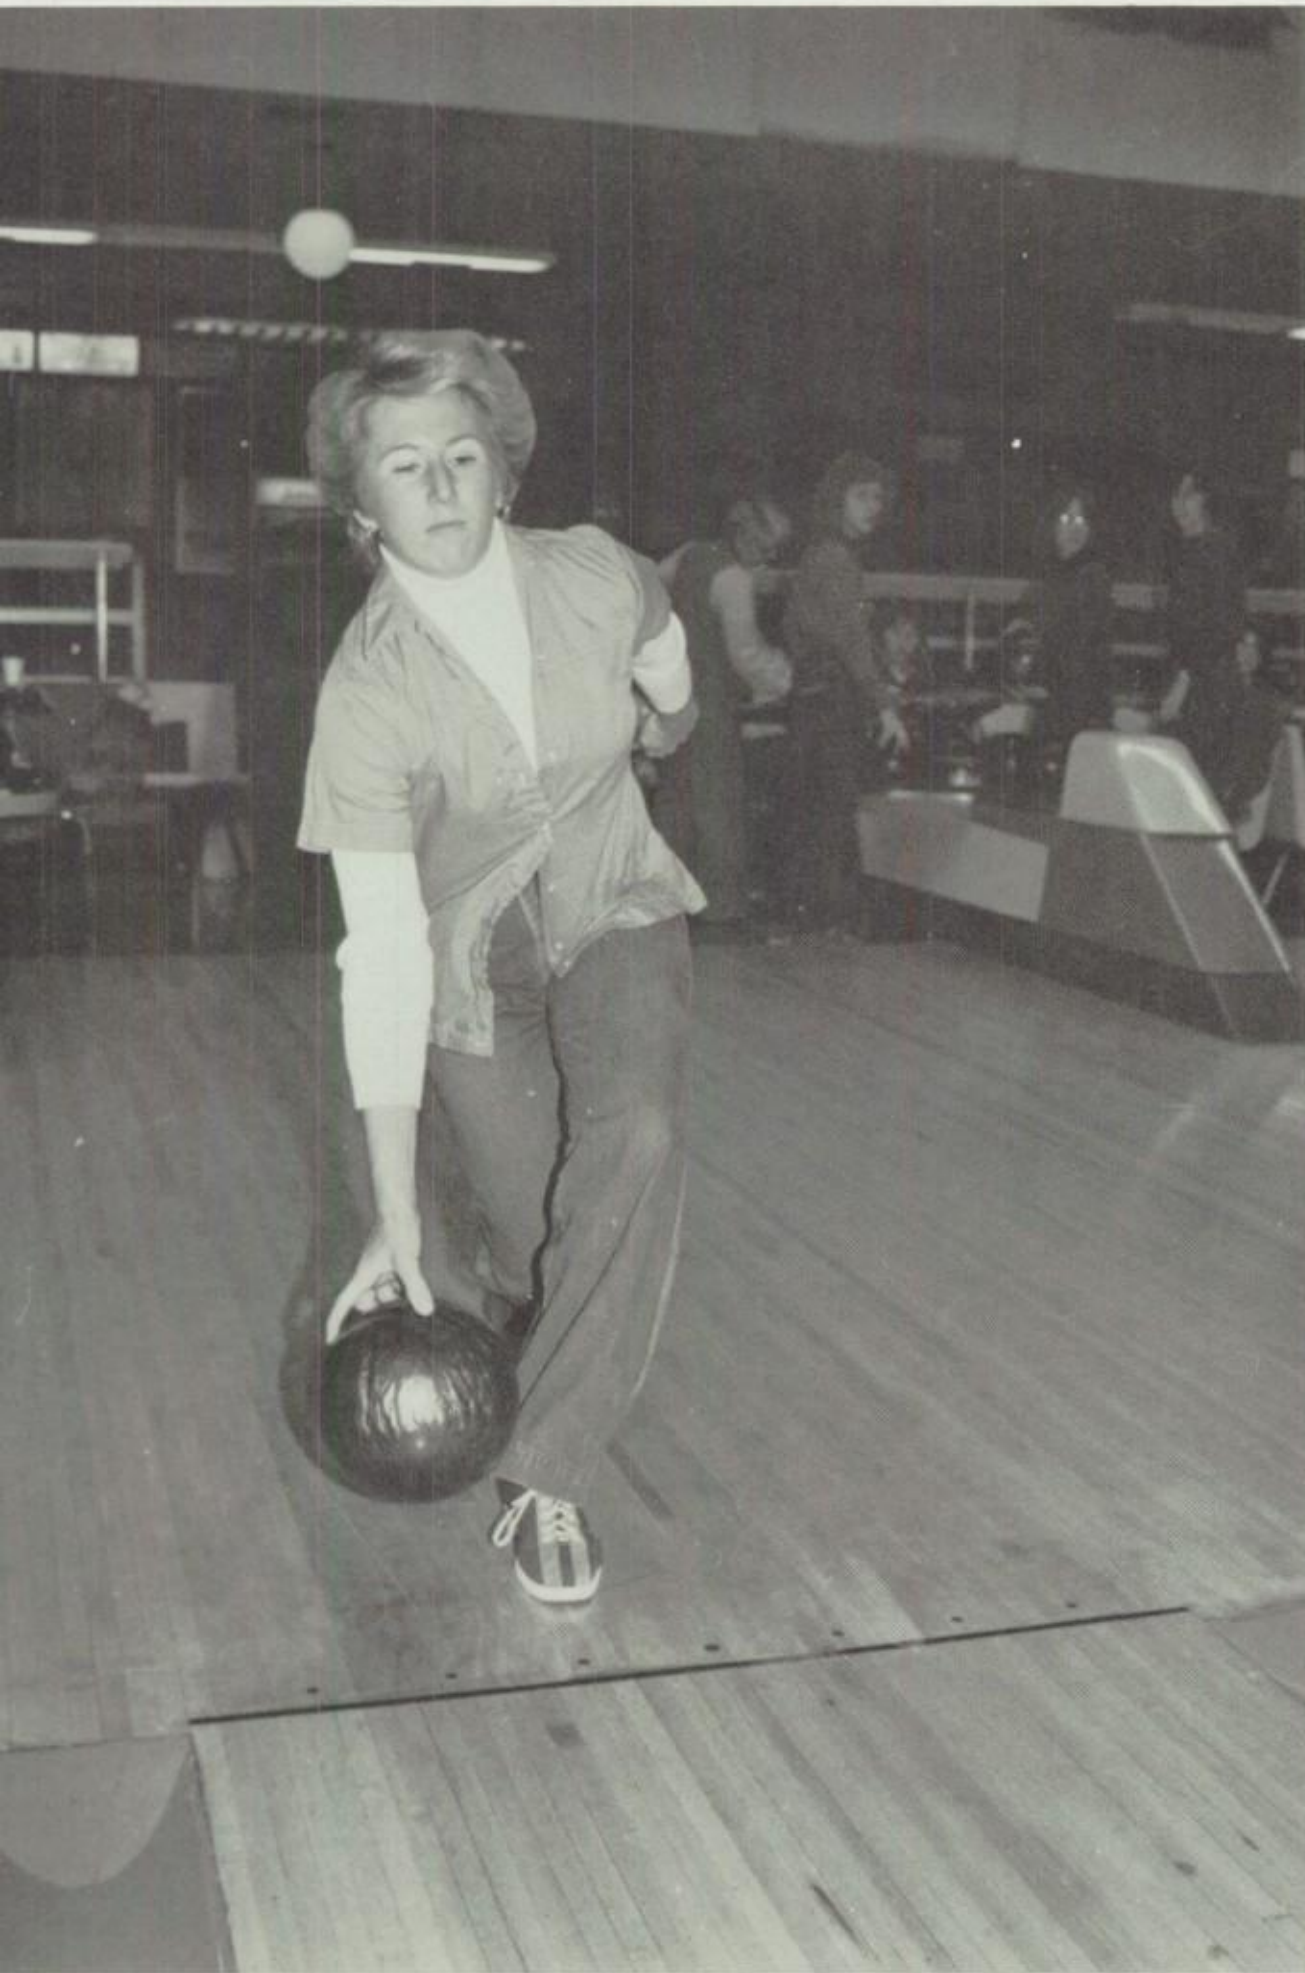

Kari Schiffman knows she's thrown a strike by the expression on her face.

Team Lacks "Killer Instinct"

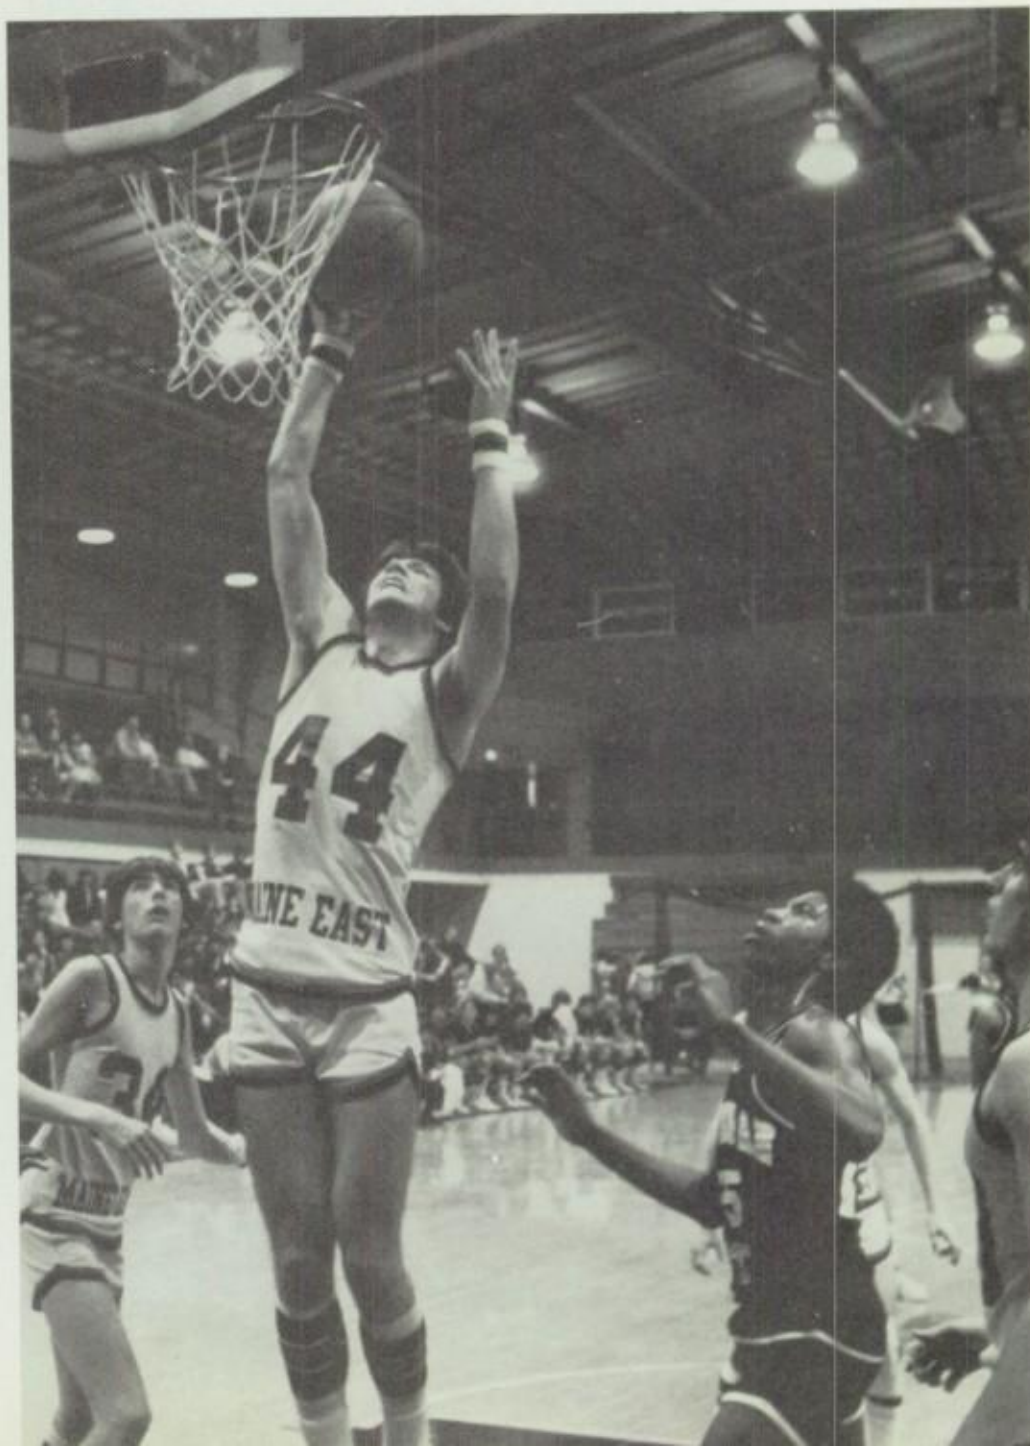

The varsity basketball team ended their season with a record of 6-6 in conference and 13-10 overall. Jeff Groscop, voted the team's MVP, was the leading rebounder. All five starters for the Demons, Jeff Majewski, Daron Romanek, Bruce Gold, Jeff Groscop, and Jeff Klein made our team a remembering one. Each of them has their own style of playing, yet each worked hard to play together as a team. Jeff Majewski was captain of the Demons and Jeff Klein was voted most improved. Jeff Groscop and Jeff Majewski made all-conference and plan on continuing their basketball careers in college. The Demons averaged 62.1 points a game in comparison to 57.1 scored by the opponents. Daron Romanek lead the team with the most points. "This season was a disappointing one because we lacked the killer instinct. Our team had the talent, but we failed to put the opponents away like we should have," said Coach Paul McClelland. The highlights of our 1980-1981 season were the victories over Main South and New Trier East. The JV team had a record of 9-3, which is the best record it has ever had. Juniors Pete Szoke, Mike Aaknes, Mike Overbeck, and Dan Redig will make up a strong nucleus for next year.

Defense Grabs Second Place

Headed by Coach Ken Sartini, the Demons took second in conference. Bob Lausen, voted MVP, led the Demons to victory. The Demons gained the experience they did not have the year before. Leading scorer and rebounder was Bob Lausen. John Teichmann and Jeff Wittmus were voted most improved while Garry Redig was voted captain. Coach Sartini said that this year's team was "the hardest working team he ever had." This team had the least amount of offensive potential, but had a very strong defense which won their games. At the Christmas Tournament at Maine East, the Demons won all three games to take the tournament away from the opponents. The conference record for the sophomores was 9-3 and the overall record was 13-8. The Demons were not very quick but defense held them together to take second place.

Frosh Prove Tough To Beat

The Freshman A team, coached by Mr. Jack Adams, placed second in conference. Chris Varco, voted MVP, had the highest scoring point average of the team. Paul McMahon was voted most improved. Our Demons allowed only an average of 37 points per game while the young Demons averaged 45 points a game. Helping the Demons was their quickness and most of all defense.

Eliot Whitefield shot 70% at the free throw line leading the Demons. The conference record was 9-3 and overall record was 13-4.

The Freshman B team, coached by Mr. Dave Scott, was the conference champs. This was Coach Scott's first year coaching at Maine East. Their conference record was 11-1 and 14-3 overall. The Demons outscored their opponents 66-38. Mark Darrow was voted MVP, John Sun was voted most improved, and Dan Raker was voted captain. The Freshman B team had the best record in the last ten years. With the combined group of boys from both the A and B team, the outlook for next year is a good one.

Frosh Team Loses To Narrow Victories

The frosh girls' basketball team illustrated great potential at the beginning of the year. But the unexpected tough competition and the restricted full court practice time handicapped the team later in the year. Karen Ideno, honorary captain, scored 115 points to her name. Margaret Hesse, voted most valuable player by her teammates, followed closely — scoring 93 points for the team this past year. Coach Bontsema commented, "We were always the bride's maid — losing by only a few points in many of the games."

Varsity Battles Tough Competition

Competition for the girl's varsity basketball team proved to be the greatest challenge this year. Over half of the games that were played this season were against teams that were ranked in the top six. The team began the season working hard and continued to improve. Two games in particular, one against Buffalo Grove and the other against Maine South, illustrated the team's talent. As coach Fischer commented, these were the two victories when the team, "really put it together."

Andi Mazor and Barb Stelk provided the team's strong defense. Meanwhile, Linda Wilson averaged 9 points a game, as Sue Busiel averaged 17½ points a game. Sue later went on to qualify for the A.A.U. all star game in China. Although they made it to the regionals they were defeated by Niles West.

Coach Fischer summed up the young team's season saying, "Our team did better than our record showed."

The junior varsity team did just as well this year placing fourth in districts. Rosemary DiMaggio scored many of the points for the team as Jamie Bender showed her strength as a rebounder. Coached by Jim Tortorelli, the team lost to Arlington, but made a strong comeback defeating New Trier West and Waukegan East.

Girls Take Fourth In State

The Girl's Gymnastic team's record speaks for itself; however, besides a winning team there was a winning attitude from all the girls. They were extremely dedicated and gave the team 100% in hard work and desire for perfection.

Through the efforts of Captain Lisa Wax and Co-Captain Amy Katz, the team led to District and Sectional Meet Championships. The team won both championships and were undefeated in CSL division.

Backing up these two seniors were Lori Greenberg, Patti Lehman, Kris Panke, and Christy Schachte—all part of the team's success in getting to the State Meet.

Only .012 points away from third place, the Girls ended the season with 111.925 points for a fourth place finish in the Girls' State Gymnastics Meet with Lisa tying for fourth in the All-Around competition. In Finals, she became the 1981 IHSA Vaulting Champion with a score of 9.4 and placed in the top 10 in Floor Ex.

"It was a beautiful way for Lisa to finish her high school career - first placing in the All-Around and next, winning the Vaulting Championship.

No one deserves it more than her. And Co-Captain Amy Katz did a super job too, placing twelfth in the All-Around, with an average of 8.5 which is quite an accomplishment for a gymnast starting from basics four years ago," commented Coach Betty Axelson.

Coach Axelson summed up the season, "If anyone saw the team compete in their first meet, you wouldn't believe it possible that they got all the way to the State Meet and took fourth. The girls have given their maximum, and what more than 100% can you give?"

Senior Amy Katz, whose strongest event is the balance beam, demonstrates grace.

Only a freshman, Christy Schachte, a future hopeful, finishes her beam routine with confidence.

Junior Lori Greenberg easily keeps her balance as she reaches for her toes.

Senior Lisa Wax, season's top gymnast, concentrates on technique in her balance beam routine.

Frosh Incur A Tough Season

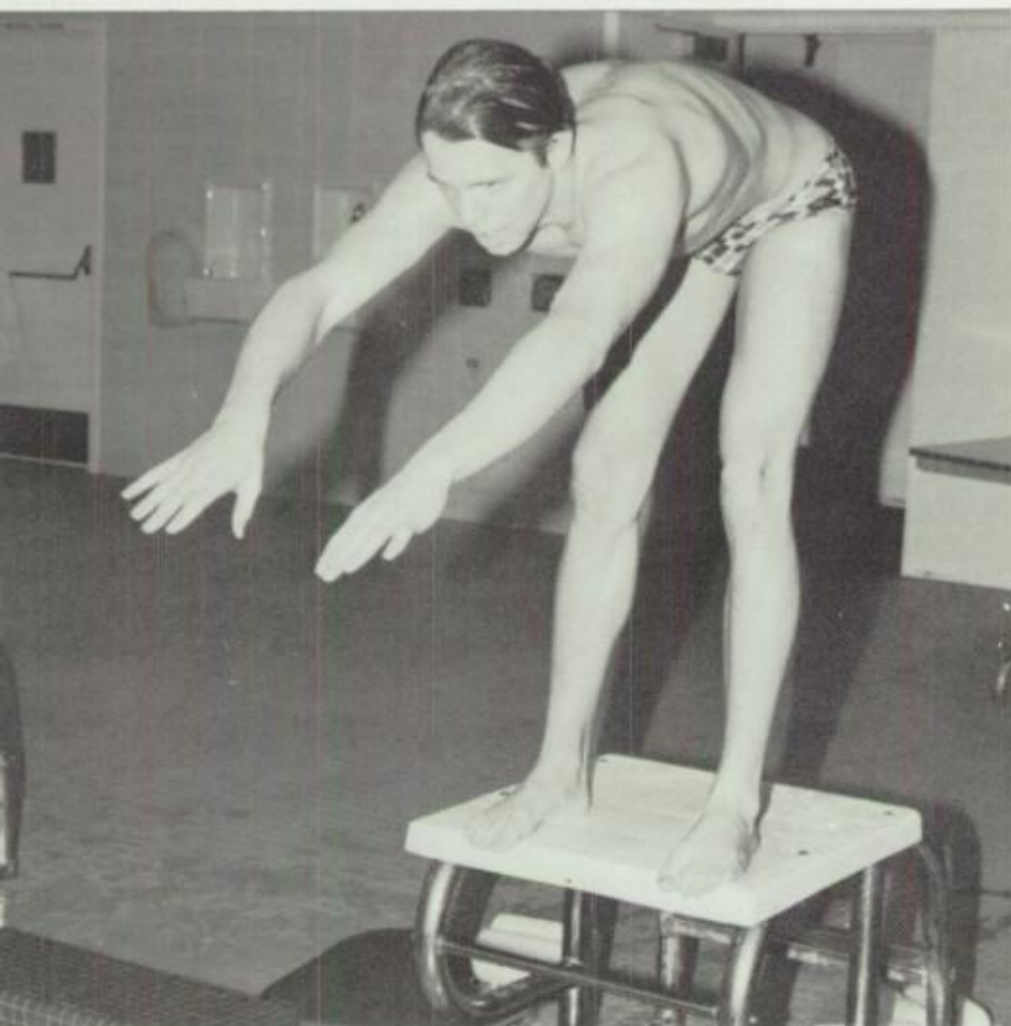

The Freshman Swimming season got off to a great start. After the first few weeks of practice, the team's timing vastly improved. But, because of members' absences and a number of disqualifications, the team had little success. The freshman team did not win any of their eight games. Coach Nelson seemed to get more and more discouraged. However, the Demon winners helped to keep team spirit up through individual efforts.

Spentzos And Jensen Go To State

Dan Jensen concentrates on form during practice.

The junior varsity swim team beat their sophomore competition to maintain a victorious 4-0 level. With little to start with, the junior varsity team improved weekly on skill and timings. The outstanding victories against Maine South and Waukegan East helped maintain a "high" in team spirit.

The more experienced, although young, varsity team was third in district. This lead them on to take third in conference. The team qualified two members for state, George Spentzos and Dan Jensen. Breaking the 200 and 500 yard freestyle school record were Chris Child and Dan Jensen. The team ended the season with a close victory over Waukegan East; the final score being 87-85.

Veteran Divers Show Strength

The prospects for the diving team looked good at the beginning of the year. The two veteran divers, Kevin Piasecki and George Spentzos, proved to be the team's most successful divers.

Kevin won the meet against Maine South early in the season. George, defending champion of the previous year, dislocated his shoulder at the Glenbrook North meet in the middle of the season. However, this did not affect his performance until the week of conference. Unable to dive in conference, George later competed in districts, taking first place.

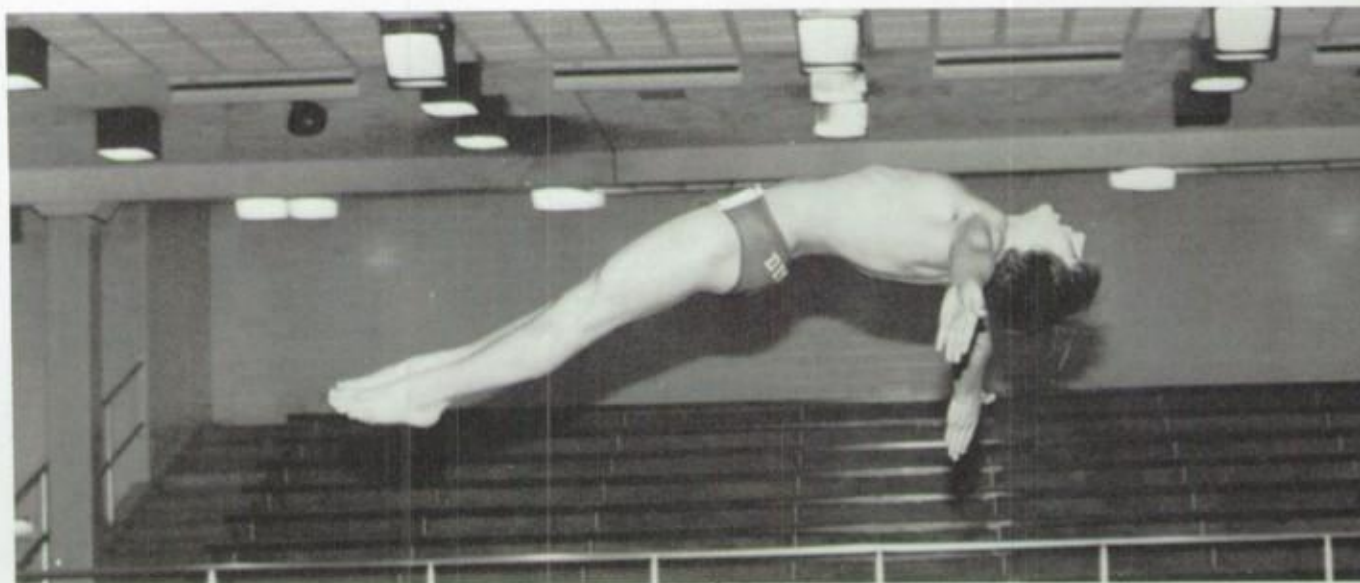

Coach Belmonte, reflecting on the past year, stated how pleased he was with the season.

George Spentzos works out after school, getting in shape for state competition.

Future Bright For Frosh

Our freshmen wrestlers took second place in conference with a record of 5-2. They were led by Won Kim (19-2), Jeff Uslander (21-2), Dan O'Connor (20-2), and Jim Katris (16-2). At the end of the season, the freshmen were successful at the Central Suburban League Tournament. At the tournament, Won Kim, Jim Katris, Dan O'Connor, and Scott Lapping took first place in conference while Brad Gotlieb, Ralph Milito, and Robert Melton took a strong second. This team will be one to be watched in the future for state qualifiers.

Captain Takes Wrestlers To State

Led by Captain Glenn Olson, the Demos took 15th in the State Wrestling Tournament scoring 28 points. Glenn Olson became the 1980-1981 State Champion, at 138 pounds. Glenn defeated four opponents in the tournament and finished the season with a record of 40-2. He was nominated to the Scholastic Wrestling News All America Team. Glenn held a career record of 91-25.

Senior Gary Tomal and sophomore David Sherman placed in sectionals, Tomal taking third and Sherman taking second. As a sophomore David went to state, which bodes well for him in the next two years. He broke two records, the quickest pin at 105 pounds in 25 seconds and the most wins on varsity as a sophomore. David obtained 33 wins in order to beat Dan Corona's record of 29 wins.

Teams Start Rebuilding Again

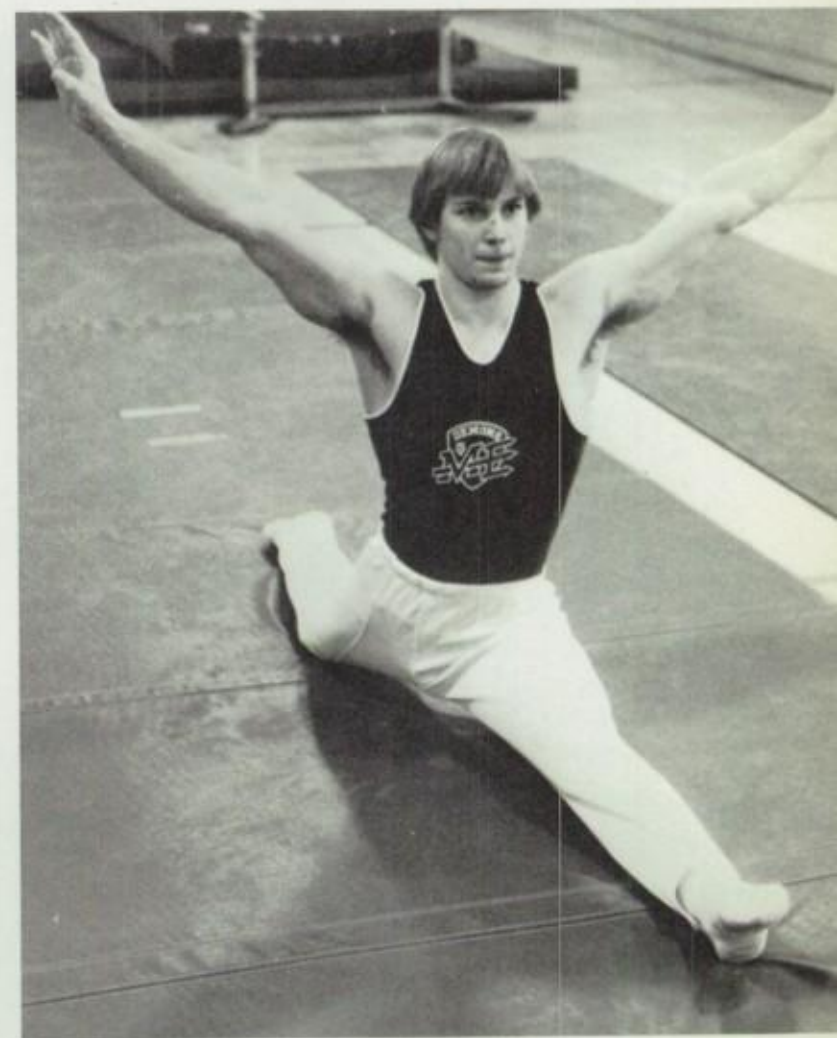

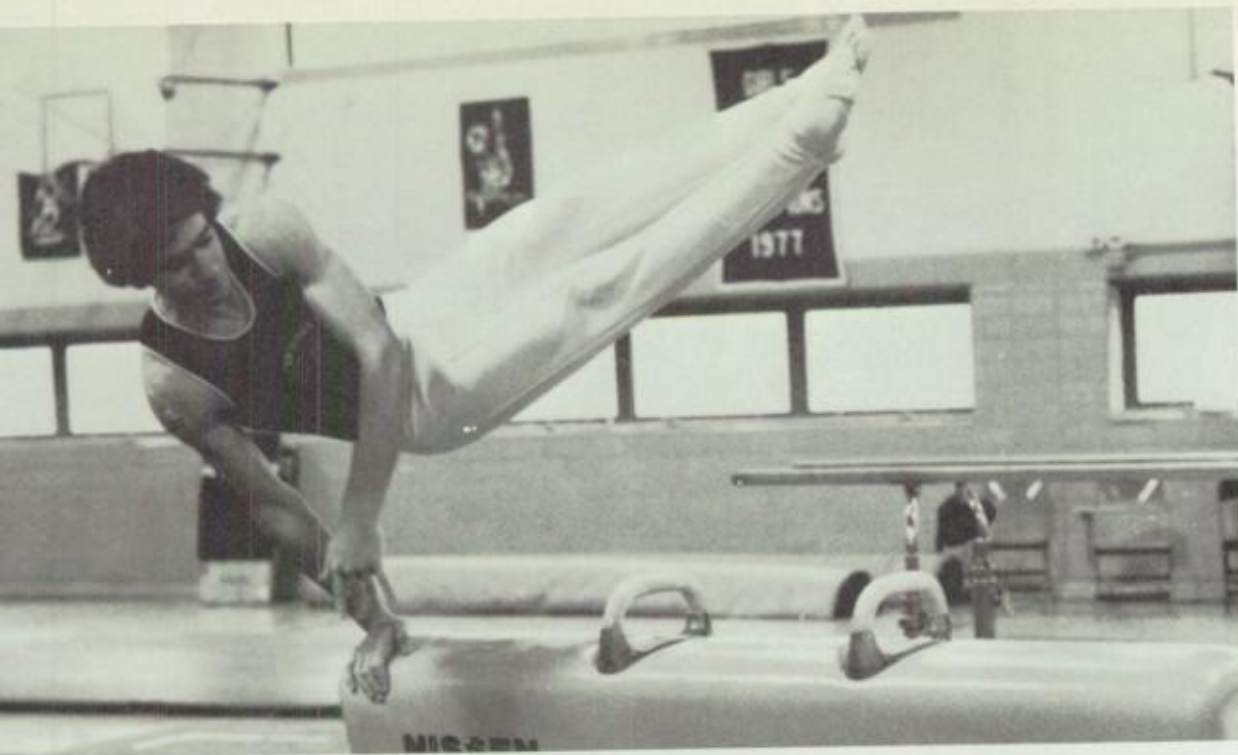

It was a year of starting over and rebuilding for the gymnastics teams. Many changes occurred due to the fact that they lost their state champions last year.

The season got off to a slow beginning having their first two meets cancelled at the last minute. But that didn't stop them or dampen their spirits. They went on to have one of their most satisfying seasons yet. Coach Gardner commented, "I really like to watch the Freshmen grow and learn throughout the season. It really makes me believe I've accomplished something."

Jeff Solomon, an expert on the pommel horse, has a chance to qualify for state, as well as Eric Christensen, who's proficient on the Parallel Bars. The team, this year, decided on a different approach to "team captain." The team decided to have a "Captain of the Week." The team would decide who exhibited the most enthusiasm and devotion, and he in turn became "Captain of the Week."

Although the Boys' Track Team lagged behind near the starting line of the season, it began to pull ahead as the season raced by. The boys did not let their first three losses discourage them, and proceeded to take first at the Hersey Meet and the CSL Candy Bar Invitational. Coach Dan Rotzoll expressed extreme pleasure with the team's performance in this invitational. He made it clear that the boys gave one hundred and one percent effort-wise and deserved their victory over the other eight teams. Coach Rotzoll felt that if the team could continue giving this much effort, the future would look bright. Although the team did not contain any Jesse Owens' this year, Coach Rotzoll believed that the teamwork that was evident would more than make up for this. Some of the one hundred and one percent effort-givers included Curt Rothlisberger, Tom Phalen, Bob Dluzen, Pat Berrigan, Ardis Rhines, Pete Szoke, Alex Bakaturski, Tim Benka, and Tim Vaporis.

Versatility Strengthens Team Play

After a week of clinics and tryouts, the Girls' Softball team began their seasonal play March 9th, and ended it May 8th with tournament play to follow.

The varsity squad had only two returning seniors, Andi Mazar as shortstop, second, and the outfield, and Denise Rahn as catcher, third, and outfield. The rest of the 13 member team featured 9 juniors who were varsity junior move ups, and two sophomores. Out of 13 players, 8 were experienced varsity members.

The squad "showed a lot of versatility, and all the girls worked several positions which gave good depth at each position," commented Coach Betsy Bricker.

CSL-All Conference pitcher, junior Sue Busiel returned to the mound to lead the hurlers; sophomore Pam McGuigan, junior Beth Bialko, and junior Linda Wilson.

Demon junior varsity squad, composed of 16 juniors, sophomores, and freshmen, were led by Coach Debbie Horan. According to Coach Horan, "Although the team only had 4 returning players, the natural talent and enthusiasm cloaked their lack of experience."

At the junior varsity level the most important objective was to develop skill in all areas, and learn the basic fundamentals of softball.

Besides versatility, aggressive base running was featured by the varsity team. But the strong enthusiasm and versatility accounted for both teams' natural hustle throughout the 1980-81 Softball season.

Girls Have Best Season

Forty girls made up of an experienced nucleus of sprinters, long-distance runners, jumpers from last year and an enthusiastic group of freshmen described the Girls' Track Team. The team was off to a successful start with four wins in indoor competition. At the Evanston Invitational, one of the toughest in the state where more than sixteen teams compete, East came in fourth, the best in our school's history. Sophomore Rosie Wadman broke the school's record with a 5'4" high jump and Denise Lores took first place in the 880.

State hopefuls were Denise Lores, Pam Matthes, Rosie Wadman and Gail Heiteen. Coach Scott seemed optimistic that the mile relay of Judy Tarlos, Michele Lores, Denise Lores and Rosie Wadman would qualify for state.

The team was coached by three new coaches. They were Dave Scott, Carol Benz and Chris Bush.

A Time For Learning

It is common knowledge that success comes from experience and experience comes from practice, but it does not come after a few weeks of game play. The whole process takes time.

Last year, the Girls' Badminton team had a successful season because most of the players had two and three years of previous experience. This year after losing many seniors, the girls had to work extremely hard because they only had 7 returning, experienced players. But their lack of experience was overcome by their strong enthusiasm.

The season began March 2nd with young potential and ended May 16th with a definite improvement in individual development. According to Ms. Neiweem, "The freshmen and sophomores got a taste of what a team is all about. They all worked as a cohesive unit."

Putting more emphasis on conditioning, Coach Neiweem, assisted by Mr. Muccianti, changed this year's practice sessions and made the girls work harder than previous years.

The 1980-81 Badminton season saw many new changes, but more importantly for old and new players, it was a time for learning.

Borg, McEnroe, Connors, Ashe, Richards ... well, not quite, but Maine East's Boys' Varsity Tennis Team had its own stars this year. With the presence of junior Monty Oppenheim who finished third in state last year, and sophomore Steve Rosen on the courts, the prospects of the team looked fairly well considering such tough competition as New Trier East, Deerfield, and Glenbrook North, the defending state champion. With its new uniforms and sweats, the team looked ready to smash its opponents. Coach Arthur Belmonte lamented the fact that there were only two seniors on the team. He felt, though, that by preparing the sophomores and juniors for next year, and by adding Maine North's tennis players, next year would be better than ever.

The Sophomore Boys' Tennis team, made up entirely of freshmen and sophomores, looked forward to a very difficult season this year. Though it contained no superstars, the team was chock full of enthusiastic boys who couldn't wait to try their hand at such difficult meets as the Homewood Flossmoor Invitational, the Maine South Invitational, and the Mount Prospect Invitational. Coach Dan Wilson expressed pleasure at being able to prepare these underclassmen for the Varsity team in the years ahead.

Ward Coaches Final Season

The 1981 baseball season ended a 22 year coaching career for Mr. Herb Ward who resigned in January effective at the end of the season. In a statement to the press he said that he enjoyed the years working with individual boys but the time had come to retire. The Coach looked at his last year as a hopeful year. In the beginning of the season he stated, "The team has potential to do better this year and be a conference contender." Assistant Coach Fischer, who also decided that this would be his last year coaching baseball, commented, "A good attitude coupled with hard work will help the team to a successful season."

Pitching depth described the team best. Returning pitchers Lee Newlan and Joe Calderone, with juniors, Ken Reeve, Mike Overbeck and Dave Jelke accounted for a strong pitching staff. A successful season would, however, depend on a strong defense.

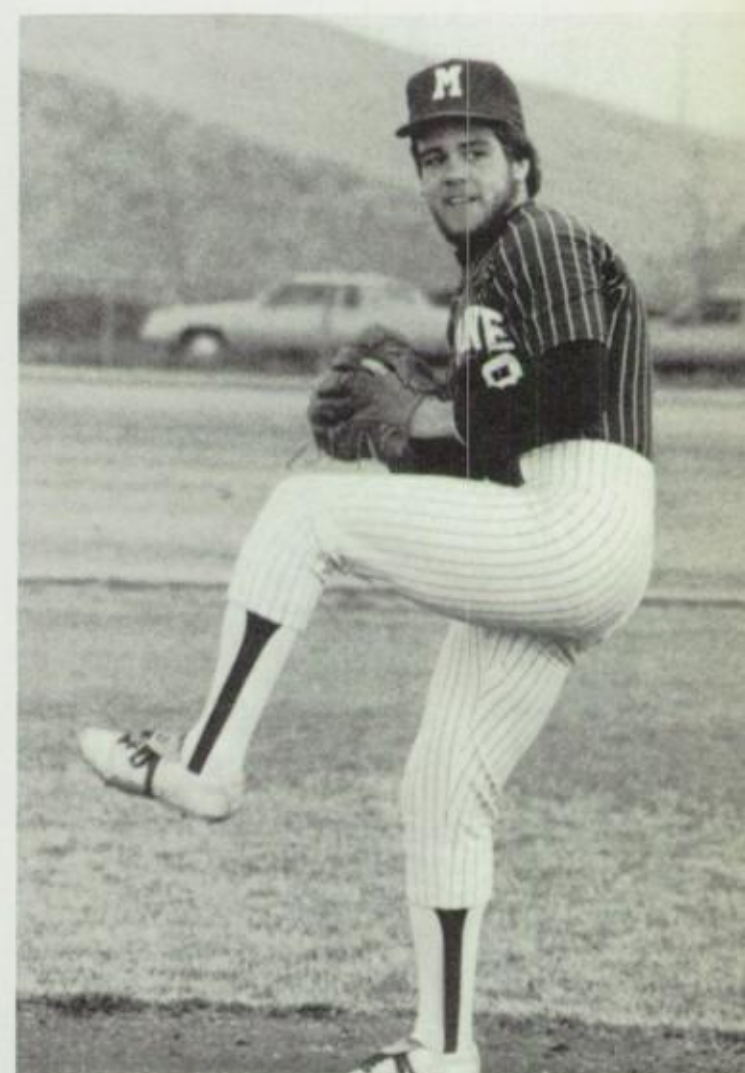

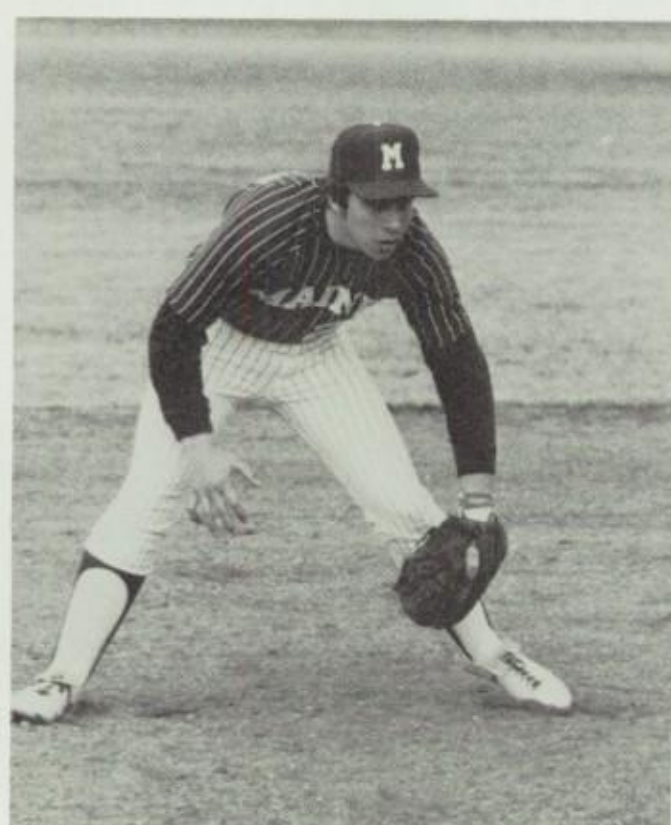

As many as 66 freshmen boys tried out for the team and 32 were selected to fill spots in both the A and B squads. In addition to the enthusiasm of these new members, they proved to be a fairly good group of athletes, according to Coach Rolla.

Jim Newlan's stance suggests the concentration and grip necessary to "connect."

Our Gang

"Tradition is a way of hanging onto the past while looking towards the future. It is a part of life that carries memories and experiences with it. Tradition affects a group of persons by bringing them closer and helps them understand each other better."

Lens Focuses On Past To Appreciate Present

Ms. Witkiewicz proofreads as Judy selects a photograph to complete her page.

"What did I spend eight dollars for?" The 1980-81 Lens took on a new dimension as changes were made in copy style, content, and layout form. The most important change was a more journalistic approach in the copy. Although a more informative and detailed style was chosen, the yearbook tried to maintain a casual tone in the copy. The pages were adapted to a three column layout form setting the pace for a more uniform and creative yearbook.

Earlier this summer the possibility existed that Maine East could be closed; many students reassessed the value of their school and realized the importance of East's heritage. Aware of this, the staff decided to use "tradition" as the theme which added an extra challenge for everyone. Hours were spent researching through older yearbooks finding pictures and information. The past traditions of Maine East paralleled current events and newer traditions. The yearbook staff conducted surveys and interviews to develop the theme completely. The coverage of the past determined how we covered the present.

As the Lens focused on the 1980-81 school year, it also took a look at the big events of the year outside of school to see how they affected us.

The efforts of the staff and advisor made this year's yearbook the best ever.

Pioneer Spirit Plows Onward

The true pioneers of long ago paved the way for tomorrow with successful ideas of the past and present. Some made it-some didn't; yet, everyone tried and took his chances.

Our own newspaper staff carried on the pioneering spirit each month as the Pioneer publication date arrived. They worked diligently trying to find interesting stories to inform their readers with, and at the same time remain within the guidelines of what was newsworthy and printable.

It wasn't easy. Each time the paper came out, it was questionable whether it would be a success. Would students really read the copy or just glance at the pictures, and then would they take it home or would it become a flying 747, black and white airplane that would glide through their next period class?

Letters to the editor were always encouraged, but the staff rarely knew if the regular features such as Demon of the month, the Punkies, alternating movie/record reviews, and the photo/quote were appreciated or even simply liked. Reader feedback mattered, but it never halted the staff from taking their chances.

In January, Michelle Coleite, editor-in-chief, took a chance and compiled Ouroborus II, a literary supplement, composed of students' poetry and essays. The tremendous student/teacher response broke ground for another supplement in April.

The staff closed the year with the traditional senior issue, which included senior wills and college choices, but this year tradition changed its color as it included a color picture on the front page.

The staff gave thanks to Mr. Rathberger and his print shop staff who worked endless hours setting and printing the Pioneer and appreciated their extra help that made the senior issue's cover a little unique and more special.

Most of the 1980-81 staff said goodbye to the Pioneer and Maine this June, and moved onward in another direction. The rest of the staff got ready to plow ahead and adapt to next year's changes.

Speech And Debate Talk Their Way To The Top

Speech team had another successful season. Two of the teams best were Ken Rice, who placed fourth in original oration, and Ellyn Zager, who placed twelfth in dramatic interpretation at the State Speech Finals in Bloomington. Throughout the year Maine East Speakers placed better than the top five schools in one category or another.

First the speakers must choose a category to present. For instance; Ken Rice chose original oration and radio speaking, and Ellyn Zager chose dramatic interpretation. There are categories for individual and duo competition. The script is then written and practiced until it is known forward and back. If students need help on their presentation, the experienced staff of Mr.

Jeffers, Mr. Kleinfeld, and Mr. Rinzel are always there to answer questions.

Thespians is an honorary drama society who sponsor the school plays and promote the theatre in general. To become a member, the student must work in theatre related activities for a required number of hours.

National Forensic League is another honor society. The purpose of NFL is to promote speech and debate. Membership in the club is obtained by gaining points through competing in debate or speech tournaments.

The Debate Team did it again; it had another year of excellence. The Debate Team as a whole proved to be in top form, and the team of Lenny Gail and Jeff Galkin were practically unbeatable. Lenny Gail proved his supremacy as an individual speaker in tournament after tournament, more than complementing his last year's record Lenny and Jeff placed first at the Oak Park Debate Tournament, Lenny also placed first as an individual speaker in this tournament. They won the 1980 Superbowl of Debate at Marquette High School in Milwaukee, and came in first out of the top eleven teams in the country at the Glenbrook Round Robin.

The national debating topic for the season was formally stated as, "It is resolved that the Federal Government should initiate and enforce safety guarantees on consumer goods."

WMTH Continues A Tradition Of Great

When WMTH first went "on the air" in 1959, it was one of the biggest and strongest clubs. As the Baton Club, Model Railroad Club, Future Homemakers of America, and Aviation Club all faded away throughout the years, WMTH remained popular and got stronger. In 1960, WMTH was "fast becoming a tradition at Maine." This year our radio station entered its twenty-second year of broadcasting, definitely becoming a great tradition here. Even though in the early 60's you couldn't turn on 88.5 and hear AC/DC being featured, the radio station still kept a programming schedule adapted for all kinds of tastes. This year's programming was changed to add two new shows. One new show, "No Rock, No POP" features "light" music. The station has changed over the years, only to make improvements, still trying to maintain a traditionally enjoyable eight hours of broadcasting. The addition of new operating equipment, albums, UPI teletype, fund-raising events, and the use of computers all add to a professionally-operated radio station right here at Maine.

The club that holds the distinction of being one of the oldest in Maine East is National Honor Society. Since the late 1920's, the Society whose membership consists of students who excell academically and socially has had an honorable record of service to our school and community.

Community services this past year consisted of charity work for organizations. Though not as successful as the year before, this year's canned food drive, headed by Lenny Gail and Dave Bernstein, netted approximately 1200 cans for the Little Brothers of the Poor. The Shamrocks for Dystrophy fund raiser under the leadership of Jennie Clarke and Merle Weiner also proved to be fruitful.

School services consisted of handing out yearbooks at the end of the year, participating in the graduation ceremony as honor guards, and acting as hosts and hostesses for Open House. The Society's members also continued the tradition of donating their services as tutors for Maine East's students. The program headed by Dave Schmid and Neal W. Aizenstein proved to be so successful that the demand for tutors exceeded the supply.

The year ended busily for the Society due to the special arrangements that President Mike Greenbaum helped formulate to accommodate Maine North's scholars in the Society's elections for next year's officers.

When one thinks of tradition in Maine East, one thinks of the Maine Historical Society. Maine Historical Society has been the caretaker of Maine East's history and traditions since the early 1930's.

This year, though, the Society got off on a slow and disorganized start. The first meeting wasn't held until early February and the officers were not elected until mid-February. After this slow start, however, President Neal W. Aizenstein finally got the gears grinding. Although the Society missed the traditional date of its annual Cherry Pie Festival, Washington's birthday, the Society rescheduled it for early April and donated much of its energy to getting Mike Royko as guest speaker.

Dreams Do Come True

Most of us vaguely remembered our first period class; afterall, we weren't conscious until at least third period. But while we day-dreamed during first period, Student Council worked diligently making their dreams come true.

September came; Student Council continued with tradition and delivered juicy, red apples to faculty members on Teacher Appreciation day, Wednesday, September 3rd. Members hoped to start the year off with an offering of students' gratitude before the challenging new year began.

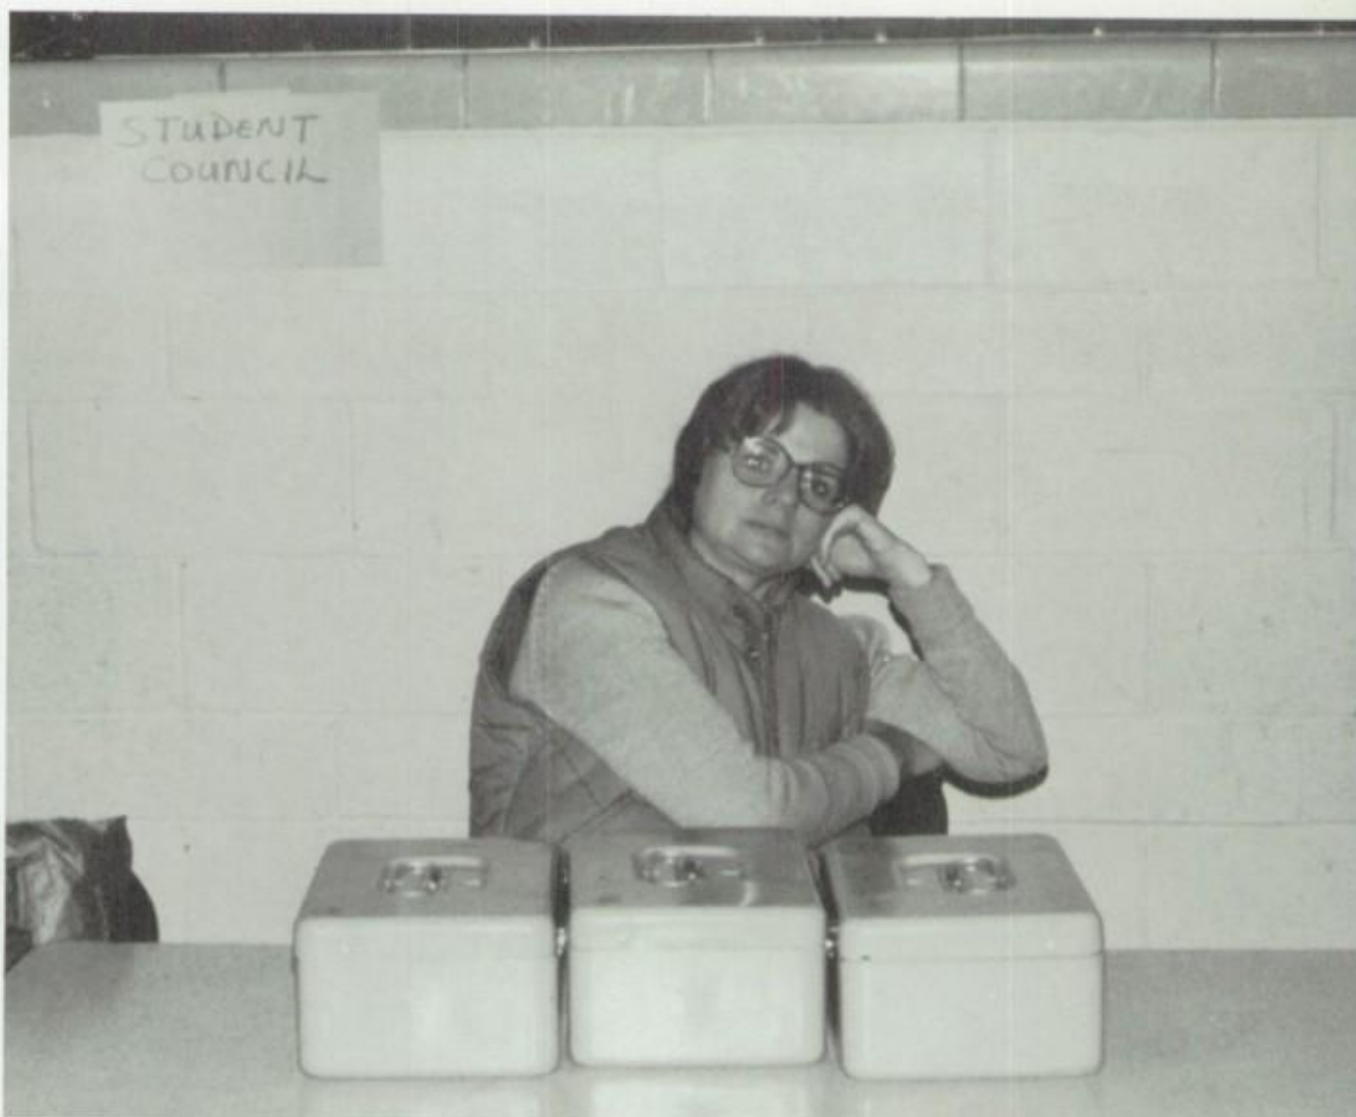

Council, who had worked diligently since April on this year's homecoming events, enthusiastically prepared for the "Maine Street, U.S.A." festivities which began on Monday, September 22. The week-long festivities included a pie-eating contest; an all-school assembly that included class games and cheers, which was won by the Senior class; a blue and white day; a hat day; the traditional firelight rally; pep assembly; soccer game; and the week concluded with the Senior sponsored homecoming dance, "Do You Remember When . . ."

For the first time, Council sponsored a Leadership Conference which proved successful. The all-day activity was offered to all leaders from various clubs to go to the Park Ridge Inn to learn what it took to be a successful leader. The day included two group lectures and two small group sessions. The Conference proved that a leader was not just an overseer. A leader must organize, plan, and give: give more than 100%.

Another dream that proved successful was Council's indoor Flea Market, held in the Field House October 25. The Flea Market included 70 sellers and the participation of clubs such as WMTH, Junior class, and Child Care Occupations, who all worked hard to earn money.

One crystal antique dealer had her entire booth sold out by 10:30 a.m. It drew over 800 potential buyers.

On November 4th, Council collaborated with the Social Science department and ran an all-school mock election to vote for Democratic Jimmy Carter, Independent

The importance of communication is realized when building a structure in silence at the Student Leadership conference

John Anderson, or Republican Ronald Reagan. The students' predicted vote turned out to be true — the U.S. citizens and Maine East students chose Ronald Reagan.

Besides planning events, Council got involved in re-opening a room for group study which was abolished this past year. Letters were also sent to the administration building concerning the validity of an eight period day versus a nine period day. Council worked with administration to solve the problem with the computer that printed our class ranks. Senior class ranks had to be redone manually. Council also worked on getting the Student Lounge back, and reducing the overcrowding in the libraries. Council felt that their biggest project was to assimilate Maine North with Maine East.

In the opening week of school, student council greets teachers like Mr. Lefort with an apple in honor of Teacher Appreciation Day.

The flea market was such a success that no buyer went home empty-handed. Prizes were awarded throughout the day for buyers who were delighted. Mrs. Robbins homemade fudge was one of the more popular items at the market.

Councils Work Toward Prom

All four Class Councils worked hard this year to support their class and raise money to improve it. The main goal of all of them was to raise money to cut down the steadily increasing costs of prom.

This year's Freshman Class held several fund raisers, including some candy sales, to start saving money for the future. Officers were elected second semester in February, after the freshman got to know one another. The Sophomore Class started the year off right by taking 1st place in the cafeteria decorating contest during Homecoming. The rest of the year was spent diligently working to raise money through flower and candy sales, bake sales, and a car wash. Class officers were Donna Jordan, President; Diane Cotton, Vice-President; Amy Jo Ptaszek, Secretary; and Dave Schmidt, Treasurer.

The Junior Class held the usual number of fund raisers this year in preparation for their prom. Besides the traditional candy sales, members participated in Student Council's flea market and sold donuts and cocoa in the cafeteria during finals. The juniors showed their spirit particularly with the active involvement of more boys from the class. Officers were Robin Distenfield, President; Eric Shmidt, Vice-President; Caroline Lee, Secretary; and Doreen Whittum, Treasurer. The Senior Class worked especially hard this year for they had many things to accomplish such as candy and flower sales, and the selling of Class T-Shirts. The year started out with planning the Homecoming dance. The rest of the year was spent getting ready for the main events, Senior Prom and Breakfast, which were again held at the Marriott Lincolnshire and the traditional Itasca Country Club. Officers were Lenny Gail, President; Dave Bernstein, Vice-President; Rick Torson, Secretary; and Dave Schmid, Treasurer.

Demon Squad Becomes National Champions

This past year for the Demon Squad was a very successful one. Not only did the squad purchase new uniforms, they became National Champions. In the summer of 1980, 13 members travelled to Wisconsin to participate in camp competition. The Demon Squad won national championship status at the USCA Cheerleading Pom-pom camp in Lake Geneva. The 13 girls won in every possible competition against the 18 schools participating in the competition. The members won first place for "Best Routine" Choreographic "Originality" and numerous other awards. Laurie and Gina Capiello were also awarded "Outstanding Individuals" awards. The squad bought new uniforms this year. The squad held a clinic for girls interested in trying out for the squad. The squad held it on a Saturday morning. For a fee, girls were able to come and learn prepared routines, technique, kickline technique, and showmanship. The squad also sponsored the Girls Choice Dance entitled "Keep on Loving You" along with the cheerleaders. The dance was held on February 14, 1981, Valentines Day. This year's captains were Gina and Laurie Capiello. Joanne Johnson was the sponsor for the second year in a row. The squad felt that she was not only a super organizer, and spirit rouser, she was one the squad couldn't do without. The Demon Squad carried on its tradition by performing at all the home Football and Basketball games. The squad started off the year by performing at the Blue and White Soccer game, as well as the freshman orientation party.

Team Spirit Shines Through

The Cheerleading Department was going strong again this year. All three levels continued to rouse the crowds and revve up everyone's school spirit at all the football and basketball games. The Varsity squad attended a cheerleading camp over the summer in Whitewater, Wisconsin. There they learned new cheers, mounts, and sideline cheers. The squads' highlight of the year was sponsoring the Girls' Choice Dance along with the Demon Squad. The Demonettes had a successful year. The squad got together this year and purchased new skirts. The members cheered the Wrestlers on to victory and also took care of the Concession Stand during the meets.

Orchesis Performs At Maine North

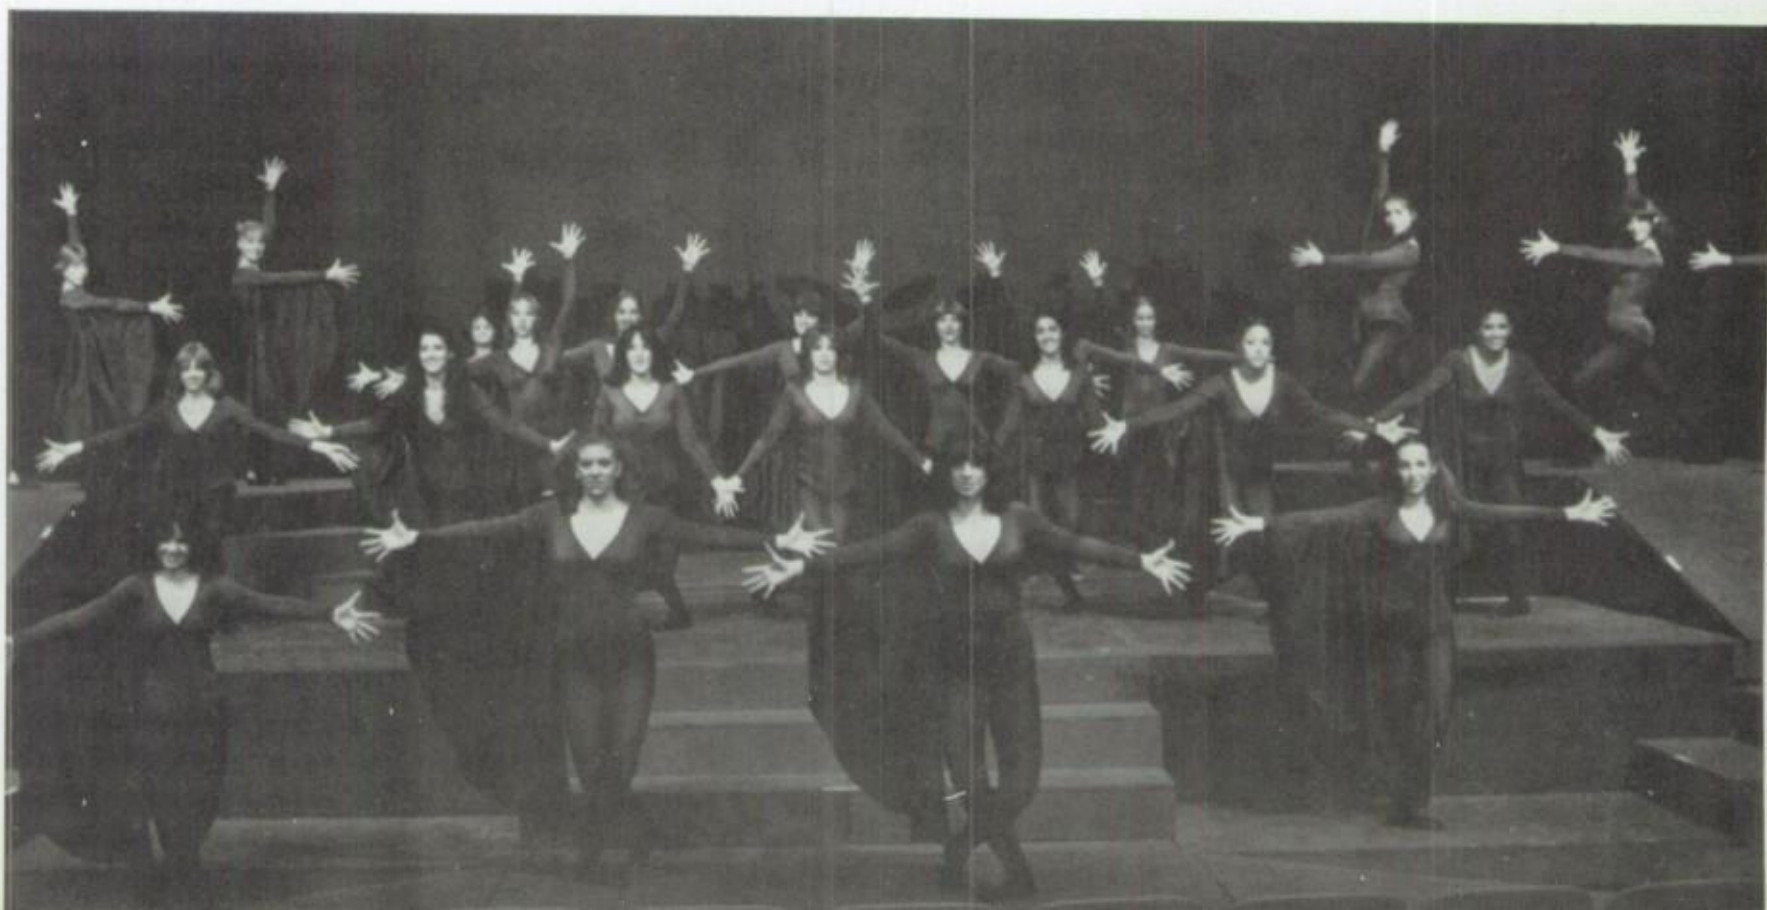

Orchesis, a popular dance club, has flourished in the past sixteen years. When the present sponsor, Mrs. Fisher, came to this school, there were eight members. This year, there were sixty members with thirty girls in senior and thirty girls in junior orchesis. Mrs. Fisher anticipates the club expanding with the newcomers from Maine North, possibly challenging the record set in past years of over one hundred girls and boys. Orchesis performed in V-Show, "Sweet Charity", and various outside shows with their biggest event being Dance Concert. This year, Dance Concert entitled "Orchesis on Tour" included jazz, modern, tap, show dance, ballet, and ethnic dances, and was held in the Maine North auditorium on March 20 and 21. The change in location was because of the installation of a new lighting board in the Maine East auditorium during that time. The girls practiced tirelessly for this event which has proved successful year after year. According to Mrs. Fisher, "Maine East Orchesis was one of the ten High Schools in the State to be chosen to perform at the Illinois High School Dance Festival at Barat College last Spring. Out of all the High Schools who auditioned for this event Maine East received the highest number of points." The numbers are choreographed by the girls themselves, some of whom have gone on to be accepted into dance schools throughout the country. Lori Durston, last year's president, returned to her alma mater to aid Mrs. Fisher with the club.

Terrapin Teaches, Competes And Entertains

The members of the fifty-three year old Terrapin had a very busy schedule this year. Terrapin once again held its Synchro School on Saturday morning during the fall. Only one year old, the school is run by the Terrapin members themselves who teach girls eight to twelve years old the basic skills of water ballet. Terrapin members enjoyed teaching the young girls and the Synchro School was a major fund raiser for the club. Members were also involved in competitive swimming with the AAU during the summer. The girls competed in water ballet against other townships. The highlight of the year was the annual Terrapin Show held April 23, 24, and 25. This year the show, entitled "Extra! Extra!", was based on the theme of newspapers. Acts ranged from subjects such as Travel and Fashions to Dear Abby and Horoscopes. The show, which is always very entertaining, brought back its traditional boys' number. Terrapin officers were Cynthia Bair, President; Carolyn Sitkiewicz, Vice-President; Nancy Peterson, Secretary; and Jean Chrystal, Show Chairman.

Language Clubs: People Meeting People

Did you know that in 1942, our language clubs had pre-requisites to join? French, German, Latin, and Spanish required that students must already be in their second or third year of study, and Latin members must also be in the upper-half of their second year class.

In 1981, 190 students were members of the four language clubs, but the clubs were open to all students.

As the popularity of languages grew and changed, so did Maine's curriculum because enrollment was not sufficient enough to keep these classes.

Foreign Language Clubs began and have maintained their purpose to extend each country's culture and allow students to use the language socially.

The clubs united as a multinational group at their annual International Dinner, but usually they were busy with individual fund raisers such as: bake sales, candy sales, jewelry sales, and pretzel sales to raise money for special outings.

As the desire to study Foreign languages increased, so did the Clubs' popularity. Besides using the language socially, Foreign Language clubs provided the opportunity for people to meet other people.

Boys Bowl For Pizza

Boys' Bowling Club sponsors Mr. Rodger Leys and Mr. Keith Leedy's main pre-season objective was to recruit new bowlers to join the club. In the past few years the club has declined in enrollment from around 80 boys to 64 this season.

The club consisted of two divisions of eight teams; they played a total of twenty-five weeks. Each Tuesday after school the bowlers paid $2.50 which included shoe rental, lane fee, and dues. At the end of each day the highest scoring teams and individual bowlers were rewarded with free pizza.

At the end of the season the club held a pizza banquet. The first, second, and third highest scoring teams in each division were announced, along with the top players. A total of about thirty-five trophies were awarded. The money for all of the trophies and the pizza was obtained from the weekly dues since no money is given to the club from the school.

The officers of Boys' Bowling Club were President Rusty Silber, Secretary Joe Stempinski, and Treasurer Carl Moellencamp.

Girls Strike With Gusto

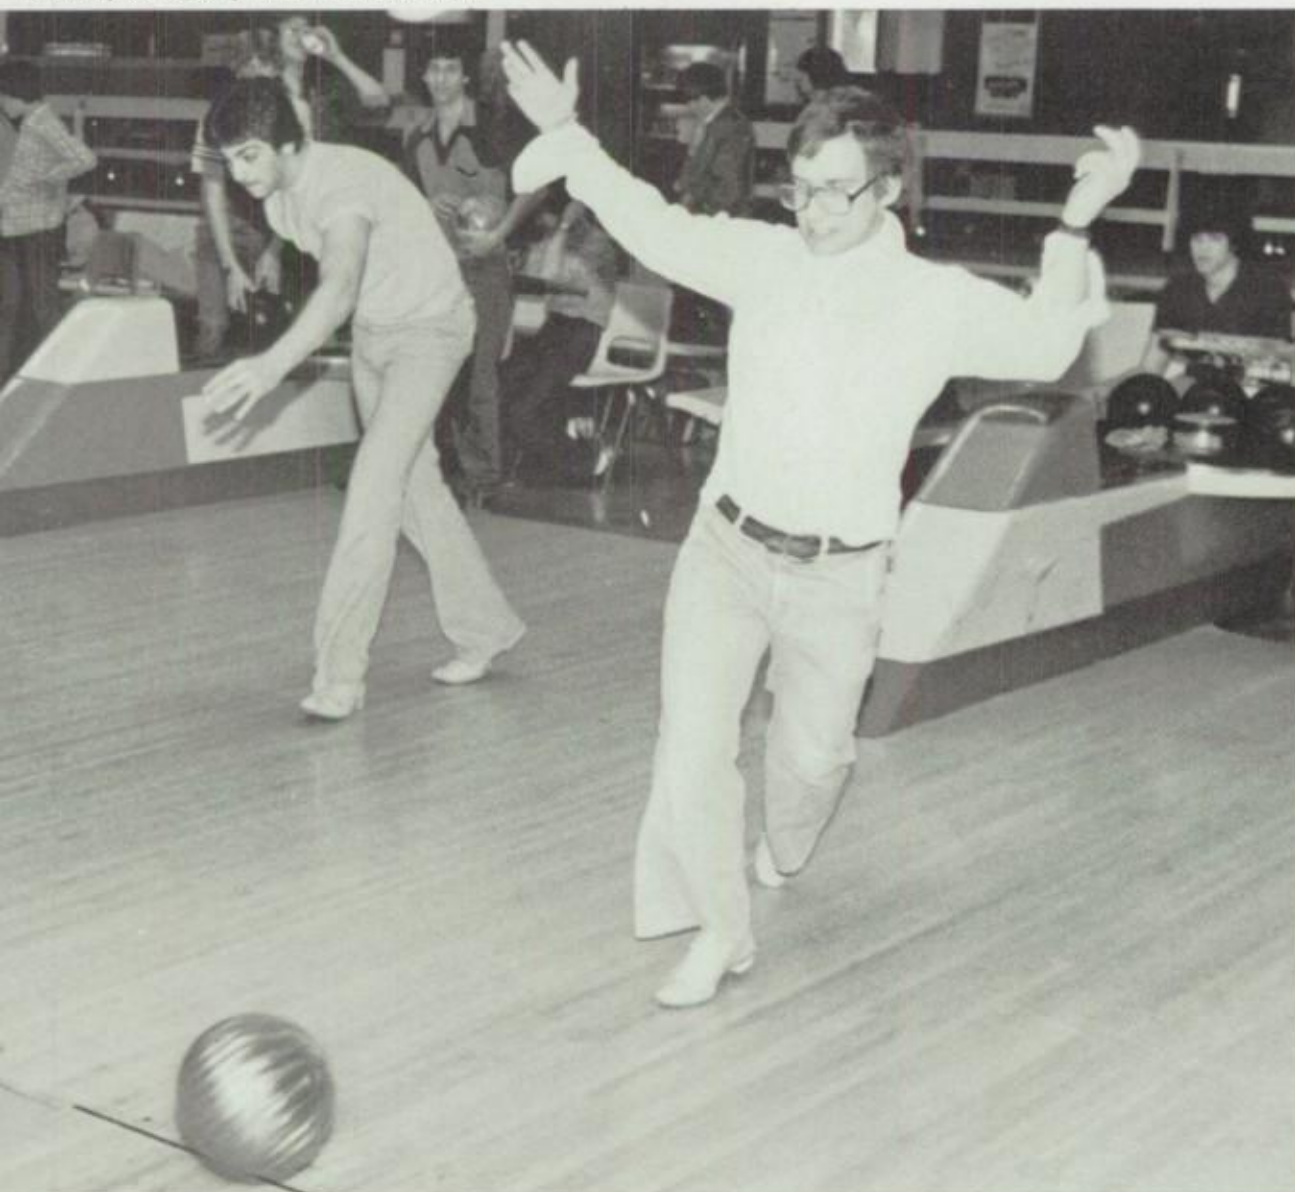

There are many ways in which to vent your frustrations. By the size of the Girl's Bowling Club, it seems that wiping out ten innocent pins with a heavy ball is a popular method here at Maine East. Every Monday for most of the year, forty to fifty girls gathered together, and for two games, wiped out those pins. Club sponsor, Miss Carole Jaacks, remarked that enthusiasm was high until the Spring session. To regain this enthusiasm, the club had special bowling afternoons such as "A Candy Bar for Strikes Day," "A St. Patrick's Strike the Green Pin Day," "An Interscholastic Day," and "A Doubles Invitational Day."

Besides bowling, the club was busy with other activities. The club's two fundraisers, selling taffy apples and selling tee shirts, proved successful and its banquet in April at The Studio was enjoyed by all.

Miss Jaacks looked forward to next year's prospects of a larger club due to Maine North's closing, but lamented the fact that inflation even hits the bowling club hard. As she said, "Bowling is not very cheap anymore."

Circus Club Clowns Around

You don't have to be gymnastically oriented to be in Circus Club. Everyone is welcome, whether your specialty is the Trapeze act, unicycles or just plain clowning around. Members had a very eventful year which included performances at Apolla Jr. High and at the opening game of the Horizon Indoor Soccer team.

Candy sales were held throughout the year to help finance costumes and equipment for various acts. Spanish Web, Swinging Ladders, Adagio and Acromaniacs were among the most popular events. In March the group made their annual appearance on Bozo Circus and on April 24 and 25 they performed their Annual Gymnastics Circus Review. This has become a more spectacular program over the past eleven years because of the improved talent and skill of the performances. The success of the group was largely due to the coaching effort of Ms. Betty Axelson who has been sponsor for the past eleven years.

Riders Gain Experience

The Riding Club at Maine East had a new sponsor this year. The club was headed by Miss Gentile.

The main idea of the Riding Club is to participate in horsebackriding; and that's just what the members did. The members rode at the Northwestern Stables each Tuesday for an hour. The group was divided into two groups according to their experience in riding. The club elected not to have officers for the year and planned to resume their activities when the weather improved.

Skiers Take To The Slopes

Ski Club is one of the most popular clubs at Maine East. It has a membership of 300 people who travel to the slopes every Friday night.

This year's officers were Mitch Brick, President; Joe Dyja, Vice-President; John Gibbons, Treasurer; and Linda Neville, Secretary.

The Ski Club isn't only reserved for the students, there are teachers who also venture to the slopes. One is the sponsor, Mr. Farrell. Others include: Mr. Duncan, Mr. Gill, Mrs. McCabe and Mr. Brower.

The Ski Club traveled to such places as Wilmot, Indianhead, and two 3-day trips to the upper Peninsula of Michigan.

The club has been in existence for fifteen years and this is the first year the club actively engaged in downhill slalom racing in competition with other high schools. The members accumulated one gold, 25 silver, and five bronze medals.

This year 50 members who were beginning skiers received lessons from club instructors.

Ski Club members make up the largest club at East. It is also one of the most active.

Spirit Unites Athletes, Fans

Tradition and spirit is what the Athletic M-Club has been a part of since the turn of the century when Maine was established. During the past eighty years M-Club has been through many changes.

Prior to the 1960's the Athletic M-Club was known as M-Club, a fellowship whose members were exclusively lettermen. Today athletes of all years, girls as well as boys, are welcome regardless of their status on the team. Membership has soared from a mere 50 to nearly 150 students. Athletic M-Club was organized says sponsor George Terzian, "in order to give a sense of unity and family to all athletes. The athletes are spirited and show interest in each other's sport. Football players go to soccer games and vice-versa."

"I like M-Club because it gives a chance for kids to get together and discuss their sports and competitions," says Tennis team member, Denise Cerny. This year's fund raisers were highlighted by a beef and chicken dinner and a Chicago Bears versus faculty and M-Club members Basketball game on April 10. The basketball game was co-sponsored by Pep Club.

The money raised by these events helped pay for donuts and coffee at the meetings, a summer picnic, a trip to Comisky Park for a baseball game, and the Maine East Wall of Fame.

Spirit was the primary function of the Pep Club. With its membership open to any Maine East student, the club stressed unity and involvement in school and community activities.

The Pep Club whose purpose is to instill sportsmanship, togetherness, and support of athletes, began a new tradition - that of awarding patches to members - a tradition that will continue.

In the past there have been other pep clubs, but during the year sponsors Coach Terzian and Coach Giusti worked with the group to make it a viable and enthusiastic organization.

Club activities included early morning breakfast meetings, fun nights with open facilities, boosting morale and spirit at games, a picnic and the co-sponsored Chicago Bears versus Maine East faculty basketball game held April 10.

Orchestra Rates First

The Music Department was very busy during the year.

The Maine East Orchestra traveled to Champaign-Urbana in February to participate in an Orchestra Consortium. The group did so well that they were rated first out of all the high school orchestras participating. It was an Honor to be proud of.

It wasn't too hard to find someone in the music department interested in jazz this year. The band was involved in everything from the V-show in November, to the Orchestis Dance Concert in March.

Marching Band performed at all the home football and basketball games. In February they performed at the Chicago Sting halftime at the Horizon Stadium.

On January 30, the Orchestra presented their first "Play-a-thon." The orchestra performed for five consecutive hours. Members accepted pledges for the amount of time they played. All of the proceeds went to funds for the trip to Champaign in February. The audience not only listened but for a small fee participated as directors or musicians. The group raised about $1200.00.

The Flag Corp was formed five years ago by Mr. Kenneth Gelz. The sixteen members were part of the marching band and they worked routines to the music and movements on the field to accent the rest of the band. There were tryouts every year so every member must continuously try out.

Tri-M began twenty years ago. Alexander Harley was the originator. It originated here at Maine East, so this is the first chapter, but many other schools also have this now. Tri-M was a club to promote musical excellence. Presently, it is mainly an honorary club.

To be a member, a student must be a member of concert band, orchestra, or choir with a B or above average in school. Once in the club it is a lifetime membership.

Choir Gets New Director

A new face in the Maine East Choral Department was Miss Tana Larson, the new choir director. Despite being new at the school, the students really enjoyed her as a teacher and learned a great deal. Heather Grabelle stated, "Miss Larson gave the students many opportunities to grow; she made a real effort to get to know her students." Heather said another reason she enjoyed Miss Larson's teaching was that along with her vocal instruction, she taught the students the background of the music they were singing.

During the school year the Concert Choir sang at the annual Madrigal Dinner, Pasta Night and did various business luncheons. Also, Swing Choir, an extra-curricular choir, attended a weekend retreat and workshop at White Pines Ranch in Oregon, Illinois during mid-February.

Clubs Provide Chance To Share Fun And Work

In 1960, before state funding of vocational programs, East offered a "work experience program," and for seven years after that there was in place a supervised job training program. In 1967 the title Cooperative Work Training was given to that program. What evolved after that was a number of programs such as Foods Occupations, Office Occupations and Diversified Occupations. Students could now get credit for working as well as taking courses. Over the past twenty-one years the program has mushroomed.

Then students in these programs formed clubs for the purpose of providing themselves with an opportunity for socializing which they would not otherwise have because of their early dismissal schedules. These clubs united students with common goals and interests into groups that worked to raise funds for their annual Employer Appreciation Banquet. One year long fund raiser, selling the Sun-Times everyday before school outside the cafeteria, was sponsored by CWT. Mr. Kaluzna, club sponsor, stated that this project did more than raise money. "It gave students a chance to be responsible and gave them the opportunity to develop the habit of reading the newspaper on a daily basis."

In addition to raising funds, clubs like FO took field trips to get a first-hand look at the practical working world. Also, clubs like OO participated in some of the other school activities like Homecoming. For most students these clubs provided them with an opportunity to be active and involved.

Creativity Keeps Clubs Busy Working

Graphic Arts Club was Organized in 1967 and since that time has provided students an opportunity to use the skills learned in graphic arts to do printing for clubs, faculty, and friends. Often they printed programs and posters for school functions. Occasionally they helped with printing the school newspaper. Staying after school everyday, the club worked on a number of projects and gained experience at the same time.

Taking pictures, developing film and printing photos using school equipment and facilities were what Camera Club provided for interested students. Rather than taking on a group project, Camera Club members preferred to work on their own with the help of their sponsor, Mr. Draho.

Students Excel In Math And Reading

This year's Maine East Math Team finished strongly in overall competition between 25 participating schools and, for the first time in Maine East history, obtained a first place finish at the Cronin Invitational Math meet. Outstanding competitors at this meet were Ju Lee, Neal Aizenstein, Lenny Gail, and Jeff Kroll. In addition to successfully competing against other schools, this year's math team showed outstanding motivation and spirit. In fact, many of the members of the math team even dressed up in Roman togas at a home meet in hope that their attire would bring them the knowledge of such famous mathematicians as Descartes and Euclide.

Mu Alpha Theta, the honorary math organization at Maine East, consisted of fifty-nine members this year. This organization was designed to promote scholarship in and understanding of mathematics. In order to qualify for this organization, this year's members had to have an over-all B average for their first two and a half semesters, have completed two years of college prep mathematics with no grade lower than a B, and be registered in a third year college prep math course. The officers were Ju Lee, president; Neal Aizenstein, vice-president; Carol Hoosline, secretary; and Dave Schmid, treasurer.

This year's Sigma Chi Sigma, Maine East's honorary reading society, consisted of 30 members who had all scored above the 90th percentile on the Nelson-Denny Reading Test. This group of superior students, who like to read and share ideas, selected and discussed such readings as the Chocolate War by Robert Lipsyte, A Separate Piece by John Knowles, and One Fat Summer by Robert Cormier. This year's president was Alan Reback; serving with Alan were Barbara Teraji, vice-president; and Marc Cooperman, secretary. These officers scheduled the meetings and planned such activities as an initiation party, holiday parties, and a year-end picnic.

Tenth Year And Still Going Strong

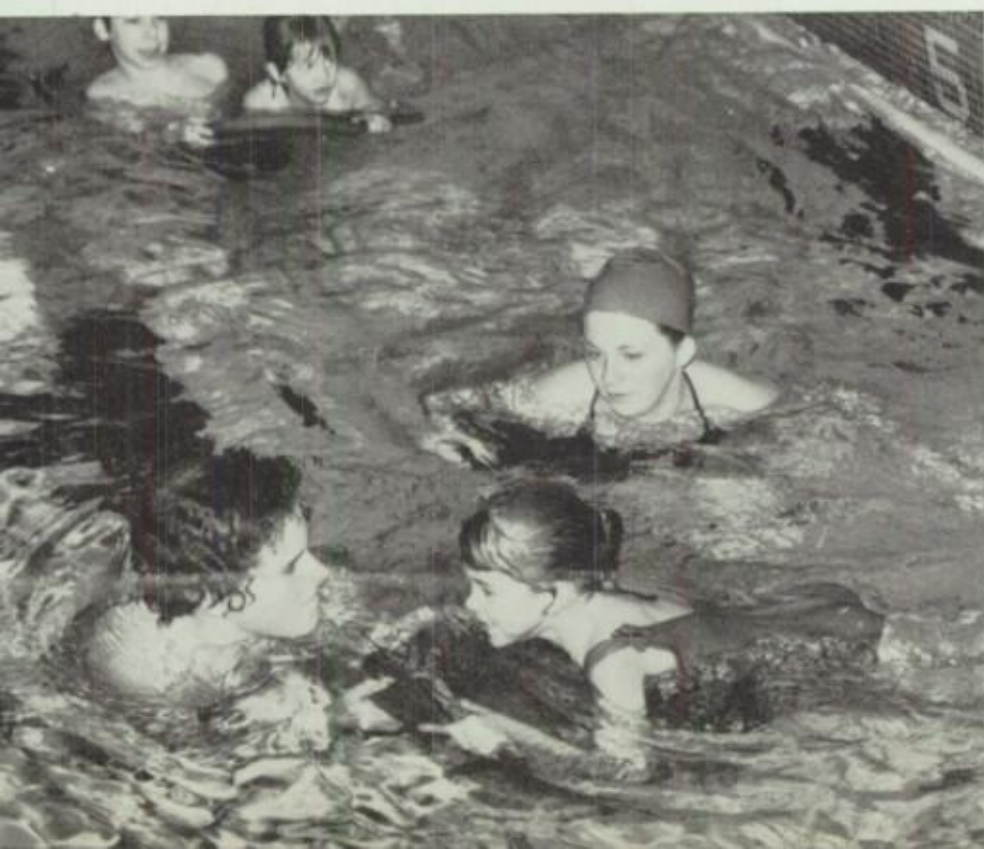

Since 1971, 5,000 pupils have enrolled in the Demon Guard program. These pupils were taught by Maine East student instructors who had volunteered their Saturday mornings to teach these children how to swim properly.

Thirty-seven students participated this past year in Demon Guard, a community service organization. This service, which ran during the school year, provided neighborhood children age six and older the basic techniques in swimming. The students were guided by sponsors, Ms. Fullerton and Mr. Belmonte.

Record Club Fights Inflation

Fed up with consumer rip-off? Well Record Club, the brainchild of Miles Taub and Joel Liberson, was formed to help students and teachers fight the high cost of the music industry by reducing the cost of albums and tapes.

The club, sponsored by Mr. Al Rolla, adopted a charter and met Thursday mornings at 7:45 a.m. Membership was free and attendance was not mandatory!

Dempster's High Living provided Record Club with a 21% discount to encourage buying in volume which enabled albums to be purchased at a lower cost.

While Miles and Joel hoped to see Record Club become a viable tool in controlling area record prices, Art Club members, with the money earned from previous candy sales, bought printing tools and designed t-shirts for various clubs, musicals, and school plays.

The 16 year old Art Club, sponsored by Mr. Cobb for the last 7 years working in conjunction with Mr. Whitley, head of the Art Department, formerly held an annual art fair in the fieldhouse and cafeteria. Lack of attendance caused the demise of the Spring fair. The restoration of this tradition looks bright and promising because Mr. Cobb believes that with the addition of Maine North students and the larger Art classes the interest in the fair will resume.

Record Club: First Row: J. Liberson (Vice-President), L. Singer (Secretary), M. Taub (President), M. Arnold, and P. McMahon. Second Row: T. Coleman, (Treasurer), and A. Slezak. Third Row: S. Gauss, T. Seymour, T. Pannke, S. Sax, E. Keating. Fourth Row: M. Greenbaum, J. II, J. Cordell, and J. Bubula. Fifth Row: N. Aizenstein, B. Loebbaka, E. Glassman, and L. Levitt. Sixth Row: J. Galkin, S. Levin, and L. Clement.

Joel and Miles check orders with albums delivered in order to insure satisfied customers.

Art And Sci-Fi Remain Viable

Another creative yet not so popular club, is the Science Fiction Club sponsored by Mr. Bissell. The weekly Thursday morning group of 10 met to discuss different ideas about current and future events and Sci-Fi award winning books such as Dune and Inherit the Stars.

Membership steadily increased each year. President Bob Sorenson believed, "A lot of people misinterpret science fiction. They think that it is boring, not interesting, and the books' language is very complex. But that's where they are wrong. It's mostly easy reading, and it gives people a chance to be imaginative."

Art Club: First Row: M. McCarthy, A. Pak, A. Finnegan, and A. Chang. Second Row: V. Lonn, C. Pak, and J. Pandis. Third Row: N. Ignatius, K. Fletcher, A. Sandburg, and C. Manzo.

Science Fiction Club: First Row: B. Sorenson (President), M. Melton, K. Spies, L. Pakrfke, and W. Bissell. Second Row: G. Zielinski (Vice-President), D. Gawle, and E. Stendel. Third Row: B. Rinaldi.

Family Portraits

"Tradition is a sense of respecting the past. It is appreciating the dignity and beauty of all that has come before and which we value to be worth remembering."

— Melissa Sostrin

"I feel a sense of tradition from all the old trophies and pictures hanging around. It makes you feel proud of the school."

The Road Less Travelled By
 I remember, I remember
 In a distant, cool September,
 I, a stranger and a frosh,
 Struggling hard, but feeling lost.

A fourth floor Pilgram in search of an Elevator Key.
 Number 57516,
 Plowing through crowds during passing periods,
 Desperately searching for familiar faces
 With my head lowered and my books hugged tightly
 To my little self.

"Where's the cafeteria? — Who are these people on the Homecoming Court? — Where did I leave my algebra book? — FINALS?! — What classes do I want to take NEXT Year? — Girls' Choice Dance! (tremble)
 You mean I really have a choice?"

They were bigger, better, older, wiser.
 But I soon found my niche, and there I grew
 Like the flower in the crannied wall.
Multum in parvo.

Now, I have out-grown this place.
 I'm bigger, better, older, wiser.
 I'm movin' on, movin' out!
 The World is My Oyster!
 Well ...
 At least I won't starve.

ONWARD TO THAT BIG UNIVERSITY IN THE SKY ARMED WITH ... a school ring, four yearbooks (complete
 w/signatures), and a diploma.

Hmmm
 Don't that take the wind out of your sails!

Oh, wait!
 I forgot to mention my invisible armor:

Pearls of wisdom, bonds of friendship, and special experiences to draw on.

Not bad.
 I hear it's open season on windmills.

"Red hots, get your red hots!" That is what you heard in the early 1900's as hot dogs were first being sold to the public by street vendors. They were introduced in the late 1890's by a German immigrant in St. Louis and first became popular around 1904.

That was the year of Maine's first graduating class, a senior class numbering three members. Two years before that the first Cadillac was made, named after the French explorer. The year of graduation also marked the building of the Panama Canal. Five years later, Coca-Cola was a trademark and the soft drink vending machine made its first appearance.

The first appearance of freshmen back in 1918 was more successfully advertised than Coke. "The seniors, as usual, took charge of the freshman welcome this year. We marked the poor victims with green ties and hairbows."

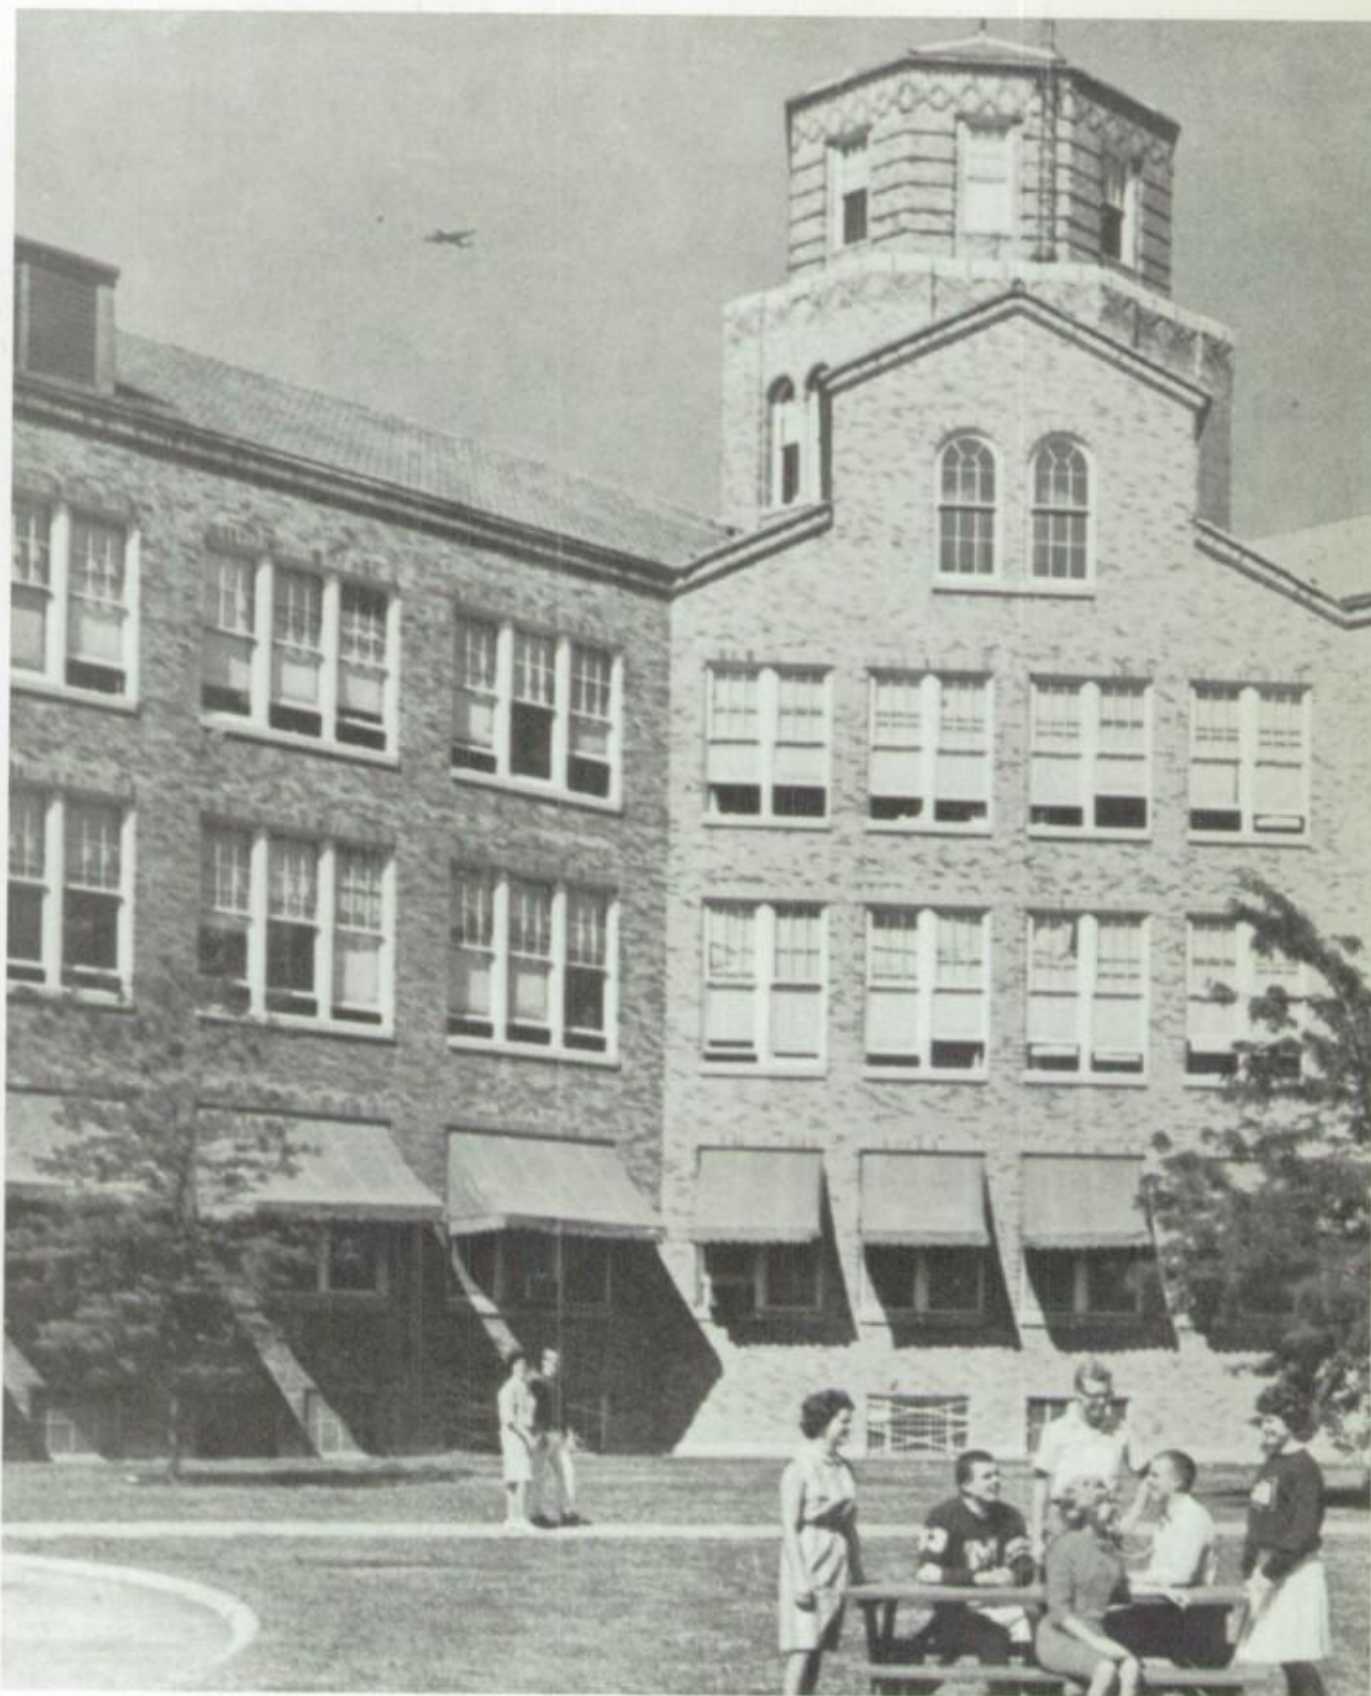

Maine was already eight years old when an iceberg ripped a 300 foot gash into the side of the "unsinkable" Titanic. Only 706 of the 2,223 passengers were rescued 95 miles off the coast of Newfoundland. Maine lived through it all.

In 1929 Maine Township erected a new high school. In that same year the Depression hit and Variety's headline read, "Wall Street Lays an Egg." It marked the end of "flappers," the wild dancing, drinking symbol of the roaring '20's. That year was the evolution of the expression, "French Kiss." It was an important year.

President Woodrow Wilson addressed Congress calling for a declaration of war on April 2, 1917. (In his 1916 reelection campaign, he used the slogan, "He kept us out of war!") Maine didn't waste any time getting involved as it organized optional military drill in school during the early spring of 1918. "Fifty demerits shall be sufficient to deprive a cadet of opportunity for promotion or to cause the reduction of an officer."

Forty years later in WW II on "The eve of Christmas vacation, it was officially announced at the close of the pageant that the quota had been topped by more than $50,000. As a reward, the student body got an extra day's vacation."

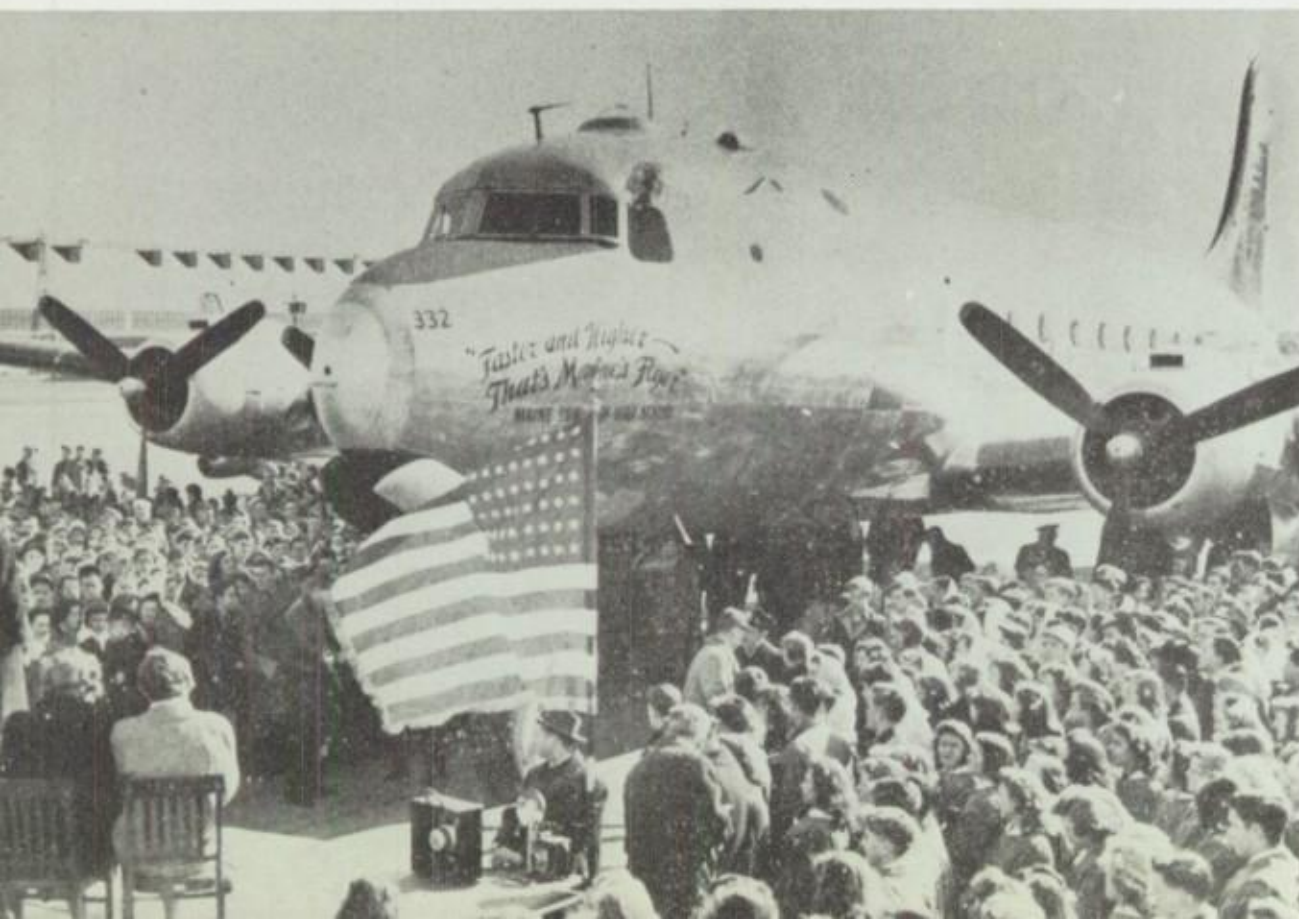

Hot Dogs, The Titanic, Flappers

Who would recognize Maine in its earlier days?

And The Depression

War bonds were sold and Maine East bought their own C-54 plane to be used in the war. "At noon, on the seventh of November, when the whistles blew, proclaiming peace, the school as a body, marched forth and reached the downtown of Des Plaines in time to head the great Peace Parade. There was no more study for us that day as our thoughts were, "Over There." Finally, in the fall of 1946 the Stadium was completed with money raised entirely by donations and athletic events, "as a living memorial to all the men and women who served in WW II."

But does tradition and heritage mean anything? What is it that happens to people as they search through the attic, finding family treasures, antiques and old pictures? The feeling is hard to explain - it's a sense of pride and appreciation. Many of us don't realize that sensation until it is threatened.

The estimated cost to operate Maine North in 1981 is 2.5 million dollars. This figure would climb to over three million dollars in four years because of inflation. This and an enrollment of 700 less students this year forced the board to close Maine North.

Knowing where we've been is important, to know where we are going. As we remember old traditions (agriculture students working the 60 acre farm next to M.E. to supply vegetables to be used in the cafe), we start new traditions. Recent favorites included the Homecoming car decorating contest, Cherry Pie Festival, Girls' Choice, Club Candy sales, and Junior and Senior Prom.

Juniors danced the night away in May at their prom which was held in the cafeteria. While continuing in their seventh year of excellent food and service, Itasca Country Club fed the ravenous seniors on June 4 at Senior Breakfast. Senior Prom, for the fourth consecutive year, was held at the Lincolnshire Marriott. But, no matter where we go, we move in a cyclic motion. Tradition, the foundation of history, repeats itself. Maybe not today or tomorrow, but it will someday.

"Hot dogs, get your hot dogs."

yearbook(yir' book') n. A book published annually, presenting information about the previous year.

Two hundred and sixteen pages, six deadlines, 12,000 picas and one year later, we've managed to maintain our sanity to produce this illustrated treasury of the 1980-81 school year. Our claim to the Maine East best-seller list would not have been possible without the joint effort, time, and hard work of everyone on staff.

Barbara Witkiewicz, our advisor, donut supplier, and camp counselor kept the "team" together and going. Her respect and constant attention to our ideas and decisions enabled us to produce a new and creative yearbook that the entire staff can be proud of. Even though we didn't have to do jumping-jacks, she did threaten to use her wooden pica ruler on us. Our photographers, Milan Adrian and George Poulos of Adrian-Poulos Ltd., were always behind the lens photographing old yearbooks games, attics, and the student body "hams." (We don't mean the cafe). Mike Hackleman from Josten's American Publishing Co. advised and helped the committed members who were only "rookies" last year. The help of these professionals in putting this book into final form was definitely appreciated throughout the entire year.

If we only knew what we were getting ourselves into when we joined Lens . . . But, after the countless mornings, lunch periods and afternoons who can say it wasn't worth it? The devotion of the staff members was illustrated time and time again. With only two out of fifteen typewriters working, an exhausted supply of copy sheets, and the sudden panic of an unexpected deadline, we always managed to pull through like one big family. Loads of thanks to everyone and we hope you will enjoy the book as much as we enjoyed making it. Read the book before they make the movie.

Bob,

I'm really glad you could come to my 16th party. It was really neat that you had a bow:

Thrilling. Thanks for the Foreigner Album. Just what I wanted.

Well, I hope you have a great year. It's your last year.

I don't have much else to say except I think you a real sweet person. Don't ever change.

We'll have fun and we'll see you at Thanksgiving.
(hey! don't forget the toll-free #!!)

Love always,
